HAVE YOU SENT YOUR DOLLAR?

TO REPUBLICANS: We are anxious to have every Republican in close touch, and working in harmony with the Republican National Congressional Committee in favor of the election of a Republican Congress.

The Congressional campaign must be based on the administrative and legislative record of the party, and, that being so, Theodore Roosevelt's personality must be a central figure and his achievements a central thought in the campaign.

Help us achieve a great victory. JAMES S. SHERMAN, Chairman. P. O. Box 2063, New York

Young Boy Pierced Through Breast by Flying Scantling.

Alvin B. Owens, a ten year old son of A. D. Owens, who owns a small sawmill on Silk Creek, near here was instantly killed Tuesday afternoon about two o'clock by a 2x4 piercing his chest.

The boy was playing around the mill, and as his father who was running the edger, pulled on the rope to raise the feed to start some pieces through, a 2x4 caught in one of the saws and was hurled backward, the rear end of it striking the boy, who was standing back of his father, just over the right nipple, and tore its way almost through the body and partly broke through under the right breast.

He was picked up and they started to carry him to the house, but before reaching it he was dead. The boy was a cheery, bright little fellow and took great interest in everything going on.

His death adds another to the long list of serious accidents that have occurred in the mills this year. The entire community mourns with Mr. and Mrs. Owens the loss of their boy in so terrible a manner.

Eldon Hambrick Dies of Typhoid Fever.

Eldon Hambrick, a young man of 22, whose home was here and who has been an S. P. brakeman for some time, was taken sick some time ago with typhoid fever and has been in the hospital at Ashland, where he died Thursday.

Wheat Crop Improving.

Hartung & Hansen, the Cottage Grove flour mill men state that the crop of wheat harvested and turned in to them this year was more than has been turned in during the last two years, and also was of a much better quality than ever before.

With fine fields, Cottage Grove farmers do not raise enough wheat to supply the needs of the flour mill to meet even the demands of the town merchants for flour.

When they easily might raise enough that flour could be exported. The quality of wheat is improving, which is worth noticing.

D. T. Awbrey is improving his main street building, and is making over one of the offices upstairs into a living room.

Rev. A. J. Armstrong who is now stationed at Lakeview, Oregon, writes that he likes his charge there very much indeed.

Oregon couples live long. Anniversaries of fifty years wedded life are not so uncommon around Cottage Grove, as 25 years are in many places.

A great interest was taken in the election of Tuesday throughout the state and many were the requests that came in from out of town people asking for reports.

The November number of Sunset contains two articles on Oregon and both are illustrated with views taken from near Cottage Grove, one of them shows a scene on the Willamette, and another J. I. Jones' herd of Holstein cows.

Oregon's Dairying.

the great Willamette Valley have been giving their attention to the growth of wheat, thus robbing the soil of its nitrogen, phosphoric acid and lime and leaving even this rich soil in an exhausted condition when it will not produce much wheat to the acre.

At the experimental station at Corvallis I saw wheat that was estimated would yield fifty bushels an acre. I was told by Dr. Withycombe, Dean of Agriculture, that this land had become so exhausted by continual wheat growing, not many years ago, that it would produce only nine or ten bushels an acre.

By adopting dairying and growing clover and alfalfa, they had brought it up to its present state of fertility. We found also that they were keeping twenty-one cows on about an acre to the cow, and that these cows had not been turned out to pasture for about three years.

The value of the dairy and poultry of Iowa is greater than all the gold and silver produced in the United States and Alaska. From reliable statistics it is estimated that the value of the dairy products of the United States is $70,000,000 annually, or in other words, one and a half times greater than all the gold and silver produced in the world.

Dairying gives an even distribution of wealth. Go into those sections of the country where dairying is carried on extensively, and you will usually find good comfortable houses and barns and the people prosperous and intelligent.

When lecturing through Oregon, two of the most prosperous places visited were Forest Grove and Hillsboro. Both towns have large condensing factories and both have more orders than they could fill.

When I visited Forest Grove, they were receiving 60,000 lbs. of milk a day for which they were paying the farmers $1.10 a hundred at that time. Here $160 were distributed daily among the patrons within a radius of possibly five miles of the town.

What Oregon needs at the present time, is an influx of industrious intelligent farmers with a little capital, as the opportunities are as good here as can be found in any place that I know of, for the building of a home. Climate is mild; soil is fertile and well watered, and fruits of nearly every variety grow here in abundance.

of the western part of Oregon are usually mild and moist. Geraniums, fuchsias and other flowers we call house plants in Iowa, look like little trees in Oregon, as the weather is so mild they are never removed from the gardens.

HAD A CLOSE CALL.

"A dangerous surgical operation involving the removal of a malignant ulcer, as large as my hand, from my daughter's hip, was prevented by the application of Buckle's Arnica Salve," says A. C. Stielck, of Millett, W. Va.
