MESSAGE IN BRIEF

Important Points of President's Communication to Congress

The main points brought out by the president in his annual message to congress, delivered December 4, follow:

I again recommend a law prohibiting all bend corporations from contributing to the campaign bond ready passed ore house of congress. Let in-dividuals contribute as they desire; but let us prohibit in effective fashion all corporations from making contributions for any political purpose, directly or indirectly.

Train making contributions for any political purpose, directly or indirectly. Another bill which has just passed one house in the training the second one house in the provided which has just passed one house in proposed which is surgerily necessary about the government the right of appeal in the two passion of the states. It is of course not proposed that in any case is a verdict for the defendant on the merits in the from the states. It is of course not proposed that in any case a verdict for the defendant on the merits in the from the defendant on the merits in the from the defendant on the merits of the course works are supressed in the report on this is in subtrave the judgment of an interior court has been against them. The connection with this matter 1 would like passed. I am well aware that in from obtaining instice for wage-workers when a single the set of the course works are any failure of substation to the very unsuitation to the very unsuit scale, and where there is so attempt to ship that there has been any failure of substantia-lives. In my last message I suggested the erach ment of a law in connection with the issuent of injunctions, attention having been shared whould be wholly abolished. It is at least footbuild whether a law abolishing altogether the use of the injunctions in such cases would stand the test of the courts; in which case of course the fegislation would be infective. Moreover, I believe it would be wrong Albo stand the test of the courts; in which case of course the fegislation would be infective. Moreover, I believe it would be wrong Albo stand the test of the injunctions in such cases would stand the test of the injunctions in such cases would stand the test of the injunctions in such cases would stand the test of the injunctions in such cases would stand the test of the injunctions in such cases would stand the test of the injunctions in such cases would all advocated last year. Senate May Investigate Manufacturers Who Control Industry

Washington, Dec. 10 .- An investigation of this lumber combine, as proposed in the resolution introduced by Senator Kittredge, of South Dakota, will be productive of more good to the people, in the opinion of some Western constors, than any inquiry instituted in recent years. Mr. Kittredge has silicated considerable material, and, when it is presented to the senate in connection with details. Senator LaFolette and other Western senators will bring out, a strong majority is expectal in favor of the resolution.
