

Largest Flood Seen Here for Many Years

For thirty-six hours the rains poured in torrents filling the rivers, creeks and gutters to overflowing. On Thursday afternoon it became noticeably warmer and the snow began to melt in the mountains which augmented the rain supply in the rivers and streams until they burst their banks and flowed over the adjoining fields and meadows.

Late in the afternoon the river which flows through Cottage Grove overflowed its banks at the upper part of town and began to flood the streets. The water rose rapidly until there was but few buildings in town that was not in danger of getting a wetting. At ten o'clock in the evening Main street presented a weary appearance. Perhaps twenty or thirty men around with shovels and carrying lanterns tramped up and down the street opening a trench here and fastening down a pile of crosswalk there. But steadily the water rose until nearly every walk in town was afloat and many stores and houses showed from one inch to three feet of water and mud on the floors. Few people slept for it was rumored that a large boom of logs a few miles above town could not hold if the water continued to increase in volume and flow. If this catastrophe had happened houses and stores would have been swept away and thousands of dollars worth of property destroyed. But fortunately this did not happen and every little real damage was sustained. At 11 p. m. the wind changed and it grew noticeable colder which checked the rainfall and the melting snow, and the worst had been realized. At about 5 a. m. Friday the waters began to recede and by noon the river had nearly resumed its channel.

About 9 o'clock the sun came out bright and warm as though trying to brighten the situation with its cheering rays. Sidewalks, crosswalks, wood and rubbish is piled everywhere and as there is but one life man and he came in on the wrecked train to assist in the work of clearing up, it will be several days before the work will be completed.

THIRD TERM LEAGUE FORMED: WANTS ROOSEVELT AGAIN.

The Platform.

The third term movement for President Roosevelt has been launched in earnest. The Nugget has received by mail a copy of the platform. The Chicago Tribune of Dec. 6th says:

The Roosevelt Third Term National League has been organized and yesterday an application for a charter was made at Springfield, Edward A. Horner, formerly of Leadville, Colo. who says he is a "red hot" democrat driven to the verge of bankruptcy by the machinations of the "system," is the organizer and president of the league.

According to the tentative plan outlined by Mr. Horner in its headquarters, 814 Tribune building, last night he proposes to make Chicago the national headquarters and to organize clubs in every county and city in the United States. The first meeting was held Tuesday night at which the fifteen men to whom invitations had been sent elected the following officers and directors:

President—Edward A. Horner. Vice presidents—Milton F. Hosmer, Boston; George Noxon, Chicago.

Secretary and treasurer—E. C. Hayek.

Assistant secretary—George P. Locke.

Directors—R. M. Shane and William Frank Robinson, both of Chicago.

"It is not our purpose to appeal to politicians. In fact, we don't want any of them. It is to be a matter which is to come directly from the people and for myself I don't care whether President Roosevelt likes it or not. To my mind he has nothing to say about it. He is the only man in whom the people have absolute and implicit confidence. We know he is honest, his actions have demonstrated it beyond cavil."

PLATFORM

We, the members of the Roosevelt Third Term National League, having at heart the great social and political problems now confronting the people and in order that the rights of the masses be protected and that national harmony be preserved, deem it imperative that Theodore Roosevelt be re-elected to the Presidency in 1908.

We have come upon days in our social and political life, fermenting with distrust and requiring firm control.

We view with alarm the evils already grown from the abuse of corporate power and see in these evils a fertile field for the demagogue, from which might readily spring a political and social revolution and believe that nothing short of temperate and prayerful solicitude, on the part of the people, will hold our political and social structure intact.

To the people irrespective of party lines is due the credit that their President, to-day is Theodore Roosevelt. A new era of real freedom and vitality in our institutions of government and politics was demanded and they wisely saw in him a means to attain it.

So valiantly and wholeheartedly has this man reflected the wishes of the people, that his personality has entered into and become a part of every department of our national life.

He has won the confidence of the people; and this fact alone, makes him the most potent factor in the solution of the present disturbing conditions. To eliminate this personality—which is to eliminate that confidence—at a time when the people, as a whole are restive and trembling with apprehension, is to invite national disorder.

So closely woven is this bond between the President and the people, that he has become to them a public necessity, an essential part of things in the social and political fabric. Therefore, Theodore Roosevelt is not only the one logical candidate for nomination, but manifestly is the only logical president for the people.

Already has it been demonstrated that the frightened and vengeful wealth controlling forces of the country, will resort to any means to defeat his nomination for a Presidential Third Term. We, therefore, must be on the alert and quick to action if we would save that which has already been accomplished by our illustrious president.

We are not unmindful of the fact that Theodore Roosevelt himself declared in 1904, that "under no circumstances would he be a candidate for, or would he accept another nomination"

We challenge, however, his right to refuse to accept the presidency of the United States for a third term, in the face of the people's demand, especially at a time when so many undertakings of the highest importance have been brought about and set in motion by him and so subject them to the danger of an untried and unproven successor, to whom public confidence would be reluctantly extended, if at all.

Manifestly, the selection of its president rests with the people. The public, alone, is judge. No man may say he will not accept. It is not the province of Theodore Roosevelt to say he will or will not be the president. He, who acts as president, acts solely as a servant of the people, and when called by them, must come.

We further hold, that in point of fact his re-election in 1908 would not constitute a third term. He has been elected to the presidency but once. Inasmuch, however, as the issue has been so generally spoken of as a third term, the League has adopted the title.

We, therefore, in the interest of public welfare, demand that Theodore Roosevelt be nominated for the presidency and be re-elected in 1908, and to that end hereby pledge our support.

EDWARD A. HORNER, President.
E. C. HAYEK, Secretary.

Business Notes.

Pierce Bros. are displaying a nice line of shoes and slippers in one window and a nicely arranged assortment of groceries in another.

J. B. Lewis, who has a select stock of general merchandise has experienced a 25 per cent increase in business over 1905 which is a very satisfactory state of affairs.

The blankets in Thompson & Wheeler Co's window look good this cold weather. This store is really a credit to the town and compares favorably with stores of the same kind in some cities.

Currin & Veatch tells us that they not only experienced an increase in business during the last year but that the credit business was much less as people seem to have the ready cash with which to buy goods.

Griffin & Veatch Hardware Company's window display tells the story of our logging and lumber industry. Logging and carpenter tools are attractively displayed. In another window is seen a nice line of plumbers supplies, piping etc. This firm reports a handsome increase in business for the past year.

The bank deposits of Cottage Grove show a very healthy state of affairs. The First National bank books show that the deposits in that institution was nearly doubled during the year past as compared with 1905. The bank of Cottage Grove has not been in existence long enough to make a comparison.

Robinson & Anlauf's machine shop is doing a nice business in their line. They recently finished a job on the carrying trucks for the Brown Lumber Co. The work done on the lumber company's donkey engine is a demonstration of the ability of this company in their line. We are informed that they are getting good business from outside points, having recently turned out a large job for the Page Lumber company of Drain.

Geo. Comer, our harness and saddler, has recently enlarged his store building. The new part is fitted up for a work room and has a s.e.y light and large end window which makes a very light work room. His business has increased 40 per cent over the former year.

Under the captain "Shortorder house for the baby" the New Era Drug store has a large display of nursing bottles. I wonder if they had a bunch.

Garnau & Hemenway have a very nice window display this week. In one window is a nice line of ladies skirts. We forgot to notice if they were "half off." In another is a pretty line of dress goods and the third contains gent's furnishings.

All our merchants report a good and successful years business with from 10 per cent to 40 per cent increase over the year before.

Lumber Notes.

Mr. H. D. Crites, manager of the Diston Lumber company is in the Grove on business connected with his company.

Mr. Dale, a large pole and piling contractor of Northern California is in this field with a view of making it his headquarters.

Nearly all the mills in the vicinity of Cottage Grove closed down for the holidays but it is the expectation that they will all be running again by the 15th.

It is hoped that as many of the mill men as can will attend the meeting at Albany on the 10th. This will be the last meeting before the legislature convenes and matters of vital importance will be brought up. The probabilities are the reciprocal demurrage bill to be introduced in the legislature will be read and as all are interested let every one go who can.
