The Senator Brownsville, with a motion of $75,000 for the increase of the building of the Japanesecomfortable and suitable for the various Japanese justices, was authorized to make an appropriation of $75,000 and was passed. The motion was made and passed by a vote of 9 to 1. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing an appointment in the Philippines for the purpose of increasing the number of Japanese justices was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.

The bill establishing a naval base in the Philippines was taken up and considered in the Senate, and was passed by a vote of 12 to 0. The motion was then taken up and seconded by Mr. Tillman, and the motion was carried and the house adjourned.