

For the Children

To succeed these days you must have plenty of grit, courage, strength. How is it with the children? Are they thin, pale, delicate? Do not forget Ayer's Sarsaparilla. You know it makes the blood pure and rich, and builds up the general health in every way.

The children cannot possibly have good health unless the bowels are in proper condition. A sluggish liver gives a coated tongue, bad breath, constipated bowels. Correct all these by giving small, frequent doses of Ayer's Pills. All vegetable, sugar coated.

CATARRH BLOOD AND SYSTEM DISORDERED

Catarrh is not merely an inflammation of the tissues of the head and throat, as the symptoms of ringing noises in the ears, mucous dropping back into the throat, continual hawking and spitting, etc., would seem to indicate; it is a blood disease in which the entire circulation and the greater part of the system are involved. Catarrh is due to the presence of an excess of uric acid in the blood. The Liver, Kidneys and Bowels frequently become torpid and dull in their action and instead of carrying off the refuse and waste of the body, leave it to sour and form uric acid in the system. This is taken up by the blood and through its circulation distributed to all parts of the system. These impurities in the blood irritate and inflame the different membranes and tissues of the body, and the contracting of a cold will start the secretions and other disgusting and disagreeable symptoms of Catarrh. As the blood goes to all parts of the body the catarrhal poison affects all parts of the system. The head has a tight, full feeling, nose continually stopped up, pains above the eyes, slight fever comes and goes, the stomach is upset and the entire system disordered and affected by this disease. It is a waste of time to try to cure Catarrh with sprays, washes, inhalations, etc. Such treatment does not reach the blood, and can, therefore, do nothing more than temporarily relieve the discomfort of the trouble. To cure Catarrh permanently the blood must be thoroughly purified and the system cleansed of all poisons, and at the same time strengthened and built up. Nothing equals S. S. S. for this purpose. It attacks the disease at its head, goes down to the very bottom of the trouble and makes a complete and lasting cure. S. S. S. removes every particle of the catarrhal poison from the blood, making this vital stream pure, fresh and healthy. Then the inflamed membranes begin to heal, the head is loosened and cleared, the hawking and spitting cease, every symptom disappears, the constitution is built up and vigorous health restored. S. S. S. also tones up the stomach and digestion and acts as a fine tonic to the entire system. If you are suffering with Catarrh begin the use of S. S. S. and write us a statement of your case and our physicians will send you literature about Catarrh, and give you special medical advice without charge. S. S. S. is for sale at all first class drug stores.

I had Catarrh for about fifteen years, and no man could have been worse. I tried everything I could hear of, but no good resulted. I then began S. S. S., and could see a little improvement from the first bottle, and after taking it a short while was cured. This was six years ago, and I am as well today as any man. I think Catarrh is a blood disease, and know there is nothing on earth better for the blood than S. S. S. Nobody thinks more of S. S. S. than I do.

BURIAL PLACE OF BOOTH.

What Became of the Body of the Assassin of Lincoln.

In the Journal of a recent Saturday I note a letter from Olive Ennis Hill, in which she relates a story told her by an officer of the navy as to the disposition made of the body of Wilkes Booth, in which it is stated as a fact, "never having been disputed," that the body of Booth—in a gunnysack—was taken aboard the Montauk in the Potomac River and cast overboard at a point below Indian Head.

How such a story could have originated I fail to understand and that it may not be accepted without dispute, let me state the following, says Colonel F. H. Phelps, in the army and navy journal: "After the assassination of President Lincoln and the arrest of the conspirators the latter were tried in the old Washington penitentiary building and after their execution they were buried just outside the walls of the building. When these buildings—with the exception of the warden's and deputy warden's quarters, as well as the surrounding walls—were torn down these bodies were taken up and buried in one of the old storehouses at the Washington arsenal in a locked room and underneath a stone flagging, and by their sides were placed the bodies of Wirtz, the Confederate jailer, and also the body of Booth, the latter having been delivered at the arsenal in a gunnysack at the little boathouse off the Washington arsenal grounds. The place of burial was marked so as to identify where the bodies were placed.

Just before Andrew Johnson's term as President expired, Edwin Booth applied to him for permission to have Wilkes Booth's body exhumed and turned over to him for burial at Baltimore. The President gave instructions, through the Secretary of War, to General George D. Ramsay, the commanding officer at Washington arsenal, to exhume this body and satisfy himself—there having been several stories about that Booth had never been killed, and had been seen here, there and elsewhere—that the remains turned over were those of J. Wilkes Booth. The commanding officer of the arsenal directed me to personally superintend the transfer of these remains.

With a party of enlisted men, the remains were taken up in my presence, the lid of the box removed, and the remains of Booth positively identified beyond any question. The black hair, the shape of the skull, the color and condition of the clothes, the riding boots and the remains of the boot cut off at the ankle all indicated without doubt that the body was that of Booth. In addition to this identification, a dentist in Baltimore had previously stated that he could identify Booth anywhere by a tooth, the cavity of which he had filled and built up, it being so unusual that he could identify Booth anywhere by this tooth. This identification, I understand, was subsequently made.

Later on the friends of the other conspirators—Mrs. Surratt, Paine, Harold, Atzerot, and also of Wirtz, the confederate jailer—applied for and received similar permission, the bodies being removed under my personal supervision the lids of the boxes being removed in each case.

Will the Iron Last?

"During the year 1905, according to a leading German authority," says the Technical World Magazine, "the world production of iron amounted to 53,907,965 tons, of which the United States produced 22,002,380 tons. No complete statistics for 1906 are as yet available, but during that year the United States increased its output to a very considerable extent, and in other countries the increase of production was not insignificant. The great iron producing nations, in their relative rank, are: the United States, Germany, England, and France. Canada, though at present only tenth on the list, is rapidly coming forward and doubled her output of 1904 in 1905.

"The world's total visible supply of iron, according to a noted Swedish expert, is ten billion tons, although it is believed by some authorities that this estimate is somewhat low, the assertion being made that there are four billion tons in unlocated mines in the United States. Even assuming, however, that there are in existence fifteen billion tons of iron, it is obvious that the supply will be totally exhausted if the production increases year by year as it has in the past, within a comparatively short time. When asked what the world will do when this comes about, most engineers answer, 'economize the iron, using it only for engines, and other things absolutely necessary, and use concrete for bridges, buildings, and a thousand other things for which iron is now used.'

Won Both the Bets.

Captain Brage once bet an athlete that he could not hop up a certain flight of steps two at a time. The athlete took the bet and made the trial. But there were forty-one steps to the flight and therefore after making twenty hops the man found he had lost. He paid up, but accused Captain Brage of sharp practice. "Sharp practice!" said Brage, indignantly. "Well, I'll make the same bet with you that I can do it." The other, expecting to win his money back, assented. Captain Brage then hopped up forty steps in hops, and, hopping back one, finished in the prescribed manner and won the bet.

No man will take good advice on another's say-so; even when he learns the truth for himself he cannot always apply it.

Blood Humors

Commonly cause pimples, boils, hives, eczema or salt rheum, or some other form of eruption; but sometimes they exist in the system, indicated by feelings of weakness, languor, loss of appetite, or general debility, without causing any breaking out.

WORN TO A SKELETON. A Wonderful Restoration Caused a Sensation in a Pennsylvania Town.

Mrs. Charles N. Preston, of Elkland, Pa., says: "Three years ago I found that my housework was becoming a burden. I tired easily, had no ambition and was fading fast. My complexion got yellow, and I lost over 50 pounds. My thirst was terrible, and there was sugar in the kidney secretions. My doctor kept me on a strict diet, but as his medicine was not helping me, I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They helped me at once, and soon all traces of sugar disappeared. I have regained my former weight and am perfectly well."
