Rapid Growth.
The most remarkable instance of rapid growth was recorded by the French academy in 1729. It was a boy 6 years of age, 5 feet 6 inches in height. At the age of 5 his voice changed; at 6 his beard had grown and he appeared a man of 30. He possessed great physical strength and could easily lift to his shoulders and carry bags of grain weighing 200 pounds. His decline was as rapid as his growth. At 8 his hair and beard were gray, at 10 he tottered in his walk, his teeth fell out and his hands became palsied; at 12 he died with every outward sign of extreme old age.

Two Hundred Species of Roses.
There are 200 species of roses in existence, though perhaps not more than fifty clearly defined families. Of these families only two are of American birth. There are thousands of varieties, however, and of these our enterprising rose growers have contributed by far the largest proportion. The eagerly sought black rose is still unproduced, though a New York florist has a dark-red one which in some lights has the appearance of black velvet.

Franks of Fate.
Many wonderful things happen in this country. One of them is the recent election to the United States Senate from a Western State of the son of an immigrant who came to this country in the storage in the middle of the last century and later married a fellow steamer passenger. But this is not so wonderful as the presence in the Senate of another man who came over in the steamer himself and has risen to a position of power and influence.

Nothing I Ate Agreed With Me

MRS. LENORA BODENHAMER.

Mrs. Lenora Bodenhamer, R. F. D. 1, Box 99, Kernersville, N. C., writes:
"I suffered with stomach trouble and indigestion for some time, and nothing that I ate agreed with me. I was very nervous and experienced a continual feeling of uneasiness and fear. I took medicine from the doctor, but it did me no good."
"I found in one of your Peruna books a description of my symptoms. I then wrote to Dr. Hartman for advice. He said I had catarrh of the stomach. I took Peruna and Manna and followed his directions and can now say that I feel as well as I ever did."

"I hope that all who are afflicted with the same symptoms will take Peruna, as it has certainly cured me."
The above is only one of hundreds who have written similar letters to Dr. Hartman. Just one such case as this entitles Peruna to the candid consideration of every one similarly afflicted. If this be true of the testimony of one person, hundreds, yes thousands, of honest, sincere people. We have in our files a great many other testimonials.

Getting Round It.
A famous mountaineer said of mountain climbing at a dinner in Brooklyn: "Peaks that seem inaccessible may be climbed by turns and twists. Mountain climbing is a question of getting around the bad places. Getting around your difficulty—that is the secret of mountain climbing."

Dead Steer Draws a Farmer.

Thrown from the track by the engine of a fast freight train, the body of a steer struck R. J. Goodwin of Middleboro, Ky., who was on a horse close by, and knocked him and the horse into the waters of Cannon Creek. Goodwin and the horse both were drowned.

Goodwin was driving several head of cattle to his farm near Four Mile. As he reached the railroad crossing near Ferndale the train approached at a rapid rate of speed. The cattle were on the track and the train plowed its way through the bunch. Mr. Goodwin was not on the track and seemed to be out of harm's way.

The heavy engine picked up one of the steers, however, and threw it high into the air. It fell against the horse on which Mr. Goodwin was riding and both were thrown over a high embankment into the creek, which was swollen from rain.

Not Up to Expectations.
Aunt Jerusha Ann had just returned from a trip to Egypt, where she had gone as the chaperon of a pair of wealthy nieces.
"Did you see the sphinx, auntie?" asked her neighbors.
"Land, yes!" she said, "and between you and me I was dretful disappointed. I ever set eyes on. It ain't got no nose, and its ears is great three cornered slabs stickin' out from the sides of its head. I used to think old Phip Van Awdall was the humblest critter the Lord ever made, but he's an Apollo Bullvidere long-side of that those spinks. If the ugly thing was on my land I'd sell out and move away, jist to get shut of it."—Chicago Tribune.

Burro Drivers Carry Candles.
In Mexico all vehicles, be they handcart, automobile or anything between, must carry a light at night. This rule or law is rigidly enforced. Even the drivers of the poor little burro or mule carts, on their two wheels, must carry a light. So rather than buy lanterns, which cost money, they take a dip candle and, wrapping it in a bit of newspaper to shield it from the wind, carry it in their left hand as they drive along homeward from work after evening has fallen. The effect is striking as the light, falling on the Indian driver, throws the face of the man into strong relief against the darkness.

After washing and drying bed comfortables and quilts, fold them evenly in a third of their width, roll as tightly as possible and then beat them with a stick—a piece of a broomstick is good for this—and the batting will soon be light and fluffy like new. Never iron quilts, as the heat from the iron will "kill" the batting.

Not Supposed to Know.
Reporter (whipping out note book)—There's one or two things I'd like to find out about the case now on trial. Do you—
Dignified Party—I don't know anything, sir. I'm one of the experts.

All but That.
Mr. Ferguson—That's the new girl singing in the kitchen, is it? She's a regular cuckoo.
Mrs. Ferguson—Yes, except that she can't cook.

More Excitement Due.

While excitement regarding the Hohenshoen memoirs is still rife in Europe, there is subdued talk in British military circles regarding the forthcoming appearance of a book which will contain some of the late Duke of Cambridge's voluminous correspondence. A diary kept by Emperor Frederick of Germany is in safe keeping in England, and the day may not be far distant when it will also be published. Correct answers to numerous historical enigmas may be expected from such a publication.
