STATE FAIR AT SALEM
Oregon State Board of Agriculture
Publishes All Information for Guidance of Exhibitors
This office is in receipt of catalogs from the Oregon State Board of Agriculture, a 26-page manual to be held at West Salem September 12th, 21st. The project is neatly printed on paper, is quite attractive, and is a guide for the guidance of every class of projectors. Cash prizes are offered in the form of $50.00, which will be awarded in the fairs departments and manufactured products at $1.00 to the winners and trophies valued at $1.00 to the winners. The fairs department. In the foreword occurs the following statement: "Those who have not visited the state fair recently will find many changes in the livestock, fairs departments, and also comfortably house the many departmental and state exhibits, which have been published here."

The announcement was brought about by a request from the live stock breeder of the state and taking hold on the state fairgrounds during the 1903 exhibition. The result was an appreciation of $20,000.00 by the legislature. Twelve committees and substantial building and $36,764 in land and $20,000 in land and buildings which have been many miles and west of state.
