WHO WAS FAIR?

It had been the full intention of the Cottage Grove newspapers to refrain from taking any considerable part in the coming city election, leaving the matter to the voters to decide.

This policy would have been carried out, had not some one who hides himself under the name of "voter" charges the papers which he is pleased to term "root papers" with "being unfair and unjust."

As they have this charge against them by one who is a representation of R. M. Veatch who heads the Citizens ticket, it may be in order to learn who has been unjust and unfair.

The main complaint against the papers by "voter" is that the ticket nominated at the opera house, was called the Opera House ticket.

If the gentleman who subscribes himself voter will remember and he should, as he took quite an active part in the meeting, he will recollect that no name was given the ticket and the reporter in his innocence did put that name at its head in the Leader.

In the Nugget published the next week, the name Citize's ticket was given it, as a second guess as it was still without a name so far as learned, but a candidate when approached said it was good enough. It will be seen the papers were more considerate than the convention, as they gave it two names, both in good faith, while the meeting failed to give it one.

For the reason that the papers did not desire to make a special fight for either ticket in the field, no effort was made to prejudice the people for or against them. The object has been of the management to use the columns for news and furnish such information as would be of benefit to the community, leaving the selection of officers to the people. But as they have been charged with being unfair, a few words may not come amiss.

They might have truthfully stated that R. M. Veatch the candidate upon the "Citizens" ticket for mayor, stated on Wednesday in positive terms, that under no circumstances would he be a candidate. One of the reasons given, was, it would be unfair to his nephew, Oliver Veatch, who was already nominated. But they did not.

They could have stated, as well, that on Thursday morning, he again stated equally as positively he would not be a candidate, but simply wanted a mass meeting instead of Star chambers, so the people could have the opportunity to make a selection of officers. Still they were silent again. They might say: that upon his accepting the nomination the evening of the same day; that his only reason for accepting the nomination was because he had promised some friends a month or so ago that he would in the event of a nomination accept. But they refrained.

As to the attack upon the Commercial Club and an attempt to belittle it by calling it a billiard hall club, the names of its members published in another column will show of whom the club is composed.

The representatives of the two papers took no part in either convention, simply attempted to report the proceedings. If one failed to name its ticket and a name given it, which has just been learned, was objectionable, it would seem the fault would not lie with the papers, but rather with those who put the ticket in the field.

There seem to be a few people who fail to appreciate the efforts of those who try to build up the city and have only time to find fault with the efforts of others. Voter may be one of these. Who knows? As to who has been fair and just in these matters it is now left to the residents of the city.
