SATURDAY.....MAY 13, 1905

It is not to be supposed that stock taken for the purpose of assisting in the erection of a creamery in the city will be a paying investment for the first year at least. The benefits however, to the merchants and those holding stock would, doubtless in an indirect way, pay a large per cent upon the investment. The farmers for miles around would find it to their interest to cultivate all the available space on their farms to raise feed for as many cows as could be kept.

Each month they would be receiving for the cream sold, a check for a greater or lesser sum, dependent upon the amount of cream furnished.

This money would be, to a great extent put into circulation and every one from the day laborer up, would be benefited.

Nothing is more conducive to the welfare of a city, than the keeping of money at home, instead of sending it away for the necessities of life.

It is not alone the butter that will be made if a creamery is established; the farmer will raise more hogs and chickens as he will have the skimmed milk for food.

Certainly the making of at least 300 pounds of butter daily will add materially to the prosperity of the city.

Governor Chamberlain has issued the following proclamation:

Proclamation—The management of the Lewis and Clark Centennial exposition has set apart two weeks, commencing June 5, and ending June 17, as 'Oregon cities' weeks' at the exposition. During these weeks every loyal son and daughter who can conveniently do so should lay aside their daily vocations and assemble at Portland to honor the name of the great state and the thriving and attractive municipalities which are its pride. Our state is foremost among the enterprising commonwealths of this splendid country and for these reasons its cities should manifest their appreciation of the compliment bestowed upon them by the exposition management in this instance, by the largest possible attendance during the special period allotted to them.

"Now, therefore, I, George E. Chamberlain, governor of the state of Oregon, by proclamation do hereby call the attention of the citizens of the state to this fact and urge all who can to attend the exposition particularly during these 'Oregon cities' weeks' and join in worthy representing the municipalities of our state.

"In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the state to be affixed. Done at the capital, in the city of Salem, this third day of May A. D. 1905.

(Signed)
"GEORGE E. CHAMBERLAIN,
Governor.

"By the Governor:
"F. I. DUNBAR,
Secretary of State."

He also issues a second proclamation, declaring Thursday, the 1st day of June as a public holiday and urges all citizens to observe it and to be present at the Lewis and Clark fair in great numbers.

Mutual Improvement Club.

The Mutual Improvement Club is for boys. Earnest Wyatt, president of the Club is developing into a splendid presiding officer. Suffice it to say the name suggests the character of the organization.

Last Monday afternoon the members of the Club met at the C. P. Parsonage for a second battle in debate on the question "Resolved that the public school is better than the private school." Quite a number of invited guests were present to hear the discussion and three young ladies from the High School acted as judges. The fact that the same subject had been debated by the same members two weeks previous before the same judges, added interest to the discussion. Johnny Coater, leader, and one of his colleagues, Clay Mosby were the strong fortress of the affirmative, while Charlie Gates and Rupert McGee were the mighty battery for the negative. Both sides were supported by other debaters and the subject was well handled. After deliberation the judges decided in favor of the affirmative then followed refreshments and a social hour during which time the subject was debated again and the boys were anxious to arrange for another try out.

University Alumni Register.

Number 3, Volume 2, of the new series of the University of Oregon Bulletins has just been issued. This number is a General Register of the officials and Alumni of the University compiled by J. A. Gamber Registrar. It is the first General Register to be published by the University of Oregon, and gives a history of the personnel of the University, as to officers, faculty and graduates, from the date of organization, October 19, 1872, to July 1, 1904. A short historical sketch gives the principal events in the growth of the institution. This is followed by a list of the officers of the Board of Regents, and the names of the men who have served on the board with addresses, dates etc.

A complete list is given of the officers of administration and instruction with degrees, dates of service, and changes in titles. The larger part of the Bulletin is devoted to the Alumni Association. This includes the officers of the Association, the honorary Alumni and the graduates of all departments, including the School of Music, Law, and Medicine. The graduates are listed by classes, and the data concerning each includes present address and occupation, degrees received, and principal position held since graduation. A summary gives the number of graduates from each department; and the name Index makes the information readily accessible.

The total number of graduates from all departments of the University is 905. Of this number 389 are graduates of the literary, scientific and engineering department; 24 completed the old normal course, abolished in 1884; 6 finished a short course in pedagogy in 1897, and were given the degree of B. S. D. The School of Music has 12 graduates, the School of Medicine 184, and the School of Law 281.

It is worthy of notice that almost without exception the men and women who have graduated from the University are holding important positions in the lines of employment they have selected. The greater portion of them are located in the Northwest, many are in the East, some in the South, while Alaska, Japan, China and the Philippines are not without representatives of the University.

The Register is timely, and the data well arranged; while the record it gives of the results accomplished during the short history of the institution in an honor to the University of the state.

A New Law.

A fine not to exceed $1000 is provided as punishment for parents guardians or other persons who are responsible for the delinquency of children. A "delinquent" child is defined to be a child under sixteen years of age who violates state laws or city ordinances, or who is incorrigible, a persistent truant from school, who associates with criminals or vicious or immoral persons, or who are growing up in idleness, or who frequents gaming houses, houses of ill fame or places where intoxicating liquors are sold. The fine imposed may be suspended so long as the parent keeps his child under control.

The law provides for the above penalties passed at the last session of the legislature, and will go into effect on May 18th.

Many cities will pass ordinances to conform to this law, and when this is done a good many children will have to mend their ways or their parents will have to bear the penalty.

A Clackamas County settler

recently set fire to a quantity of "slashings" on his land and through carelessness allowed it to get beyond his control, resulting in considerable damage to the property of a neighbor. The neighbor took the matter before the oracles of the law and the case occupied the time of the circuit court at Oregon City for two days. The jury finally brought in a verdict for the plaintiff, holding that any person is responsible for the damage resulting from the setting of fire of his own property and allowing it to reach adjoining property. This establishes a precedent that should be kept in mind by all settlers.—Oregon Journal.

Dr. Darrin
An Eminent Physician in Eugene—His Success in Treatment of Diseases is Simply Marvelous

We are pleased to announce that there is a physician in Eugene, not simply a medical practitioner, but a physician of very high order of merit—a scientist, whose years of close study, close observation, close practical experience, has enabled him to draw not only testimonials but highest personal endorsements from the leading men of the country—congressmen, judges, etc., and whose success in the medical field is today without a parallel. We allude to Dr. Darrin, who has offices in the Hotel Smeede and will remain until July 1.

Dr. Darrin has an enviable rank in the profession as a wonderfully successful physician. He is essentially original in his method of practice, and those who have been under his treatment are surprised at the newness and novelty of his system of practice by electricity. His honesty and straightforward advice has won for him the confidence of his patients as well as the general public. The doctor is a gentleman of genial nature, and his private practice is marked by the formation of a close personal friendship with whom he comes in contact. He is without doubt one of the most thoroughly qualified physicians now before the public, as his wonderful cures of chronic diseases can testify. The doctor not only treats chronic and acute diseases, but is prepared to test the eyes and fit glasses to any defect in eyesight.

An Old Prospector Talks.

When it comes to workin' science in a huntin' fur a strike
I'm a native o' Missouri, I'm a doubter from o' Pike,
An' you've got to show me, pardner, an' to draw yer facts down fine,
Whar' a scientific p'nter ever led to a mine.
I've a notion teat o' sayin' puts the matter plump an' clear
That the gold is whar you find it; if you find it, it is thar,
An' it never is no science leads you to the yaller truck,
But it's what we call in mounatin talk yer durn fool luck.

I have seed them science fellers with the glasses in their eyes
Jammin' round these Rocky mountains lookin' ruther otherwise
An' explainin' the formation in a lot o' hefty words

'Bout as meanin' to a miner as the chirpin' o' the birds.
I have seed 'em walk so close to payin' leads if they'd a been Rattlesnakes a byin' fur 'em they'd 'a-got it in the shin—
Payin' leads 'twas wuth a million an' that arterwards was struck
By an o' prospectors bankin' on his durn fool luck.

Thar' is signs an' indications in the float that's scattered 'round
Tello' plainly whar' it come from there is somethin' to be found.
An' the knowin' o' prospector'll be stakin' out his claim

While a science sharp is sayin' that his ig'nanse is a shame!
But you bet your claim in heaven its the ol' prospectin' tough
That disklivers whar' ol' Nature is a hidin' up the stuff,
An' he doesn't use no science, jes' his energy an' pluck,
Au' he strikes the lead he's huntin' through his durn fool luck.

Bright's Disease and Diabetes.

We desire to place in the hands of those afflicted with Bright's Disease and Diabetes a 32-page pamphlet that is saving human lives. It is not an ordinary pamphlet, such as is commonly used to advertise medicines, but is principally made up of reports of scientifically conducted tests in a large variety of cases, showing 87 per cent of recoveries in these hitherto incurable diseases.

The specimens employed in these tests are known as the Fulton Compounds and the results obtained prove conclusively that these dreaded diseases so long fatal (the deaths from Bright's Disease alone are appalling, over 100,000 a year, starting as kidney troubles) have at last yielded to medical science. The pamphlet is free. Write to the John J. Fulton Co., 499 Washington street, San Francisco, Cal.

When to suspect Bright's Disease:—Puffy ankles or hands; weakness without apparent cause; kidney trouble after third month; frequent urination, (may show sediment or cloudy on standing); falling vision; day drowsiness—one or more of these.

The Original

Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered as no other preparation will give the same satisfaction. It is mildly laxative. It contains no opiates and is safest for children and delicate persons. For sale by Benson's Pharmacy.
