Cottage Grove has certainly been honored by conventions this year counting the fraternal societies, church organizations and Sunday Schools, there has been from 12 to 15 conventions since the first of the year.

In every instance those who came to participate have expressed themselves as pleased with the city for its hospitality and the efforts of the people here to make the conventions a success.

A reaction can be felt just now against the extreme application of principles which have recently been novel and popular in American education, says Collier's Weekly. The stress always used to be laid on discipline. Attention and the power to think, as well as character, were trained by difficulties overcome. Then came along an idea of freedom, of variety of subjects, letting the mind wander where it listed, finding each after its own fashion its own individual salvation. Current theories united with practical considerations to encourage the strongest side of a student instead of strengthening his weaker parts. Art, music, ethics, nature study acquired a place beside the sterner subjects like spelling, mathematics, and dead languages. The reaction is now visible especially in New England, which has always held the general lead in education. The new education can make out a better case for girls than it can for boys. To develop a woman all round, agreeably, artistically and to draw out from her the natural gifts which will give her most pleasure and enable her to give most pleasure also, may be wise where for a man's nature and function in the world a harsher preliminary training is desirable. Undoubtedly the tendency of the last few years has in it much of good, but the present inclination to call a halt is born of openness to truth even when it is conservative.

An Assignment for Davenport.
Oregonian.

Homer Davenport, cartoonist at Silverton, Ore., is respectfully requested to draw for us a likeness, idealized or identical, of the remarkable dog mentioned in the prosecution of a case against a Silverton man, Mr. Haakon Olson, in a Justice Court in that town a few days ago. Mr. Olson was sued for alleged damages resulting from the alleged bite of an alleged vicious dog alleged to belong to him, and he offered in defense the following brief:

- First—My dog is very kind and never bites.
- Second—My dog is blind and cannot see to bite.
- Third—And if my dog had eyes to see he has no teeth with which to bite.
- Fourth—And if my dog had eyes to see and teeth to bite, he is crippled in both his hind legs and cannot walk nor crawl.
- Fifth—I always keep my dog chained in my back yard.
- Sixth—My dog died six months ago.
- Seventh—I never owned a dog in my life.

Decomposed granite has been spread over the flooring of the Trail and the bridge of Nations at the Lewis and Clark Exposition. This material has been used to advantage in making all of the paths and roadways at the Centennial, and it greatly improves the appearance of the gaitery boulevard.

Upon a lofty pyramid made of various grains which grow in the state of Oregon a heroic statue of Ceres, the Goddess of Grain, adorns the rotunda of the Agriculture and Horticulture building at the Lewis and Clark Exposition.

COMING WITH GREAT RUSH

KANSAS FARMERS SWARM TO BUY TICKETS TO FAIR

Sales on Opening Day Astonish Kansas City Ticket Agents—Boom for Portland.

Kansas City, Mo.,—The sale of special rate tickets to Portland, Ore., opened so briskly as to astonish local railroad officials. From the number of tickets purchased, it is apparent that passenger traffic to the Pacific Coast will be heavier than was anticipated. One of the city ticket agents, in speaking of this today, said:

"It indicates that this part of the country is exceptionally prosperous. We had men come in here today from little towns out in Kansas who are going to Portland, and will take their whole families with them. This early rush for tickets is not only a big advertisement for the Lewis and Clark Exposition, but a big advertisement for Kansas. Farmers are prosperous and they know of no better way to spend their superfluous coin, apparently, than to visit Oregon."

The Grand Army of the Republic.

Elsie Florence Fay in Success. Day by day their ranks are thinning, one by one they disappear. And at each succeeding roll call fewer voices answer "Here!"

Still their regiments are marching,—many march with noiseless tread, and no bugles sound "assembly" in the bivouac of the dead.

Glorious tales of gallant service echo still on every hand,—Charge and siege and bitter hardships,—comrades lost on sea and land.

Now a reunited nation joins to bless the honored dead, Though forgetful of the living who have likewise fought and bled.

Hats are reverently lifted to the heroes lying here. Lift them to the living heroes,—hail them all with cheer on cheer.

Not for long will they be with us soon each regiment will be Tented here beneath the blossoms of the land it helped to free.

But today the drums are muffled and the flag at half-mast waves, Keeping green dead heroes' memories as the grass above their graves.

Still another weary winter shrouded in the snow they lay; Now we bring them crowns and garlands of the loveliest blooms of May.

Let them rest in honored slumber, from their praise, from shore to shore, Eighty million throats are swelling,—we are free forevermore.

Lewis and Clark Exposition.

During the Lewis and Clark Exposition the Southern Pacific Company will sell round trip tickets to Portland, limit thirty days, at one and one-third fare for the round trip. For organized parties of 100 or more, individual tickets at one fare for the round trip.

Stop-over of ten days will be given at Portland on all one-way tickets running through that point during the exposition. Tickets must be deposited with Joint Agent at Portland and charge of fifty cents will be made for the extension of time.

Bond Sale.

Notice is hereby given that the City of Cottage Grove will issue and sell $20,000 municipal water bonds, bearing date the first day of July, 1905, running for 25 years, bearing interest at 5 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, principal and interest payable in U. S. gold coin. Bids for the purchase of all or any part of said bonds will be received by the City Recorder of said city on or before the 17th day of June, 1905, at the hour of 7:30 p. m. of said day. A certified check for $100 must accompany each and every bid. No bid for less than the par value of said bonds will be considered and the Common Council reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

J. E. YOUNG, City Recorder.

Frank Vincent DuMont, chief of the Fine Arts exhibit at the Lewis and Clark Exposition, arrived at the grounds a few days ago to supervise the installation of paintings valued at more than a million dollars.

Edmund P. Sheldon, chief of the forestry exhibit at Lewis and Clark Exposition, is having made a papier mache model of Mt. Hood, which will be located on the second floor of the Forestry building. This will be used to illustrate some of the topographical features of Oregon's greatest forestry belt.

Centennial Notes.

A congressional party consisting of thirty-one members of the house and senate, accompanied by their wives and families, is now on the way to the Lewis and Clark Exposition.

Companies I and K of the Tenth United States regular infantry are encamped upon the peninsula at the Lewis and Clark Exposition. Captains Ingram and Gowen and a staff of three lieutenants are in command.

A Masonic building is rapidly nearing completion at the Lewis and Clark Exposition. This has been erected for entertainment purposes by local organizations and will be ready for occupancy before opening day.

HE COULD WAIT.

The Way Lafcedio Hearn Pushed Himself into a Situation.

Lafcedio Hearn at one time in his career was employed on a daily paper in Cincinnati.

He obtained the position by presenting his application in person to the editor.

"We don't need anybody at present," said the editor.

Hearn sat down on a chair, pulled a book out of his pocket, wiped his glasses and smiled.

"I said we don't need anybody," repeated the editor loudly.

"I heard you," replied Hearn affably. "I will just sit here until you happen to need somebody."

That editor was not long in "needing" Hearn.

For lack of anything better the new man was sent out for a descriptive story to be written in the steeple of the Catholic cathedral. When the story was handed in it proved to be a composition rivaling the word painting feats of a Ruskin or a Gautier.

He pictured the city as it looked from the steeple and imparted to his description something besides decay. There was reality in it. Persons who had viewed the city from the steeple averred that the story was marvelous for photographic accuracy.

Now, Hearn was so nearsighted that ten feet from his nose all objects were misty and indistinct, and it is doubtful if he could distinguish the nearest house from the point to which he had climbed.—News Letter.

Roger and I.

From Dumb Animals. Well, Roger, my dear old doggie, they say that your race is run; And our jolly tramps together up and down the world are done; You're only a dog, old fellow; a dog, and you've had your day; But never a friend of all my friends has been truer than you always.

We've had glorious times together in the fields and pastures fair; In storm and sunny weather we have romped without a care; And however men have treated me, though foul or fair their deal— However many the friends that failed me, I've found you true as steel.

That's right, my dear old fellow, look up with your knowing eye, And lick my hand with your loving tongue that never has told a lie; And don't be afraid, old doggie, if your time has come to go, For somewhere out in the great Unknown there's a place for you; I know.

Then don't you worry, old comrade and don't you fear to die; For out in that fairer country I will find you by and by; And I'll stand by you, old fellow, and our love will surely win, For never a heaven shall harbor me, where they won't let Roger in.

When I reach that city glorious, behind the waiting dark, Just come and stand outside the gate, and wag your tail and bark— I'll hear your voice, and I'll know it, and I'll come to the gate and say: "Saint Peter, that's my dog out there, you must let him come this way."

And then if the saint refuses, I'll go to the One above, And say: "Old Roger is at the gate, with his heart brim full of love; And there isn't a shining angel of all the heavenly band Who ever lived a nobler life than he, in the Earthly laud."

Then I know the gate will open, and you will come frisking in, And we'll roam fair fields together, in that country free from sin. So never you mind, old Roger, if your time has come to go; You've been true to me, I'll be true to you—and the Lord is good, we know.

You are only a dog, old fellow; a dog and you've had your day— Well, I'm getting there myself, old boy, and I haven't long to stay; But you've stood by me, old comrade and I'm bound to stand by you; So don't you worry, old Roger, for our love will pull us through.

—JULIAN S. CUTLER.

FACIAL PARALYSIS

Mr. Crosswait's Experience, and How He Was Cured.

Dr. Darrin, Hotel Smeede, Eugene: Dear Sir—In answer to your communication asking me to make a statement of my case, I most willingly do so, if by doing so any one afflicted as I was might have their attention called to the success with which you treated me. As you know, I consulted you regarding a very serious case of facial paralysis, the entire side of my face being completely paralyzed. I could not shut the eye, having no control over the lid; the lower lid was dropped down, and the lower side of the face badly drooped, the corner of the mouth being badly drawn down. Any one can imagine the condition of a person's mind under such circumstances. I had almost given up all hope of ever being myself again, until I consulted you, and you assured me that you could cure me. I commenced treatment at once, and commenced to improve from the start, and in three weeks' treatment found myself entirely cured. I make this statement willingly, that any one suffering as I have must avail themselves of your great skill.

W. T. CROSWAIT, 246 Washington street, Portland.

STRICTLY GENUINE.

Most of the patent medicine testimonials are probably genuine. The following notice recently appeared in the Atkinson (Kan.) Globe: "Joe Tack a well known engineer, running on the Missouri Pacific between Wichita and Kiowa, lately appeared in a big one, with a picture, and when he was in this office today, we asked him about it. He said he had terrific pains in his stomach and thought he had cancer. His druggist recommended Kodol and he says it cured him. He recommended it to others, who were also cured." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and cures all stomach troubles. Just as surely as the sun shines your stomach can be brought back to its originally pure condition and life sweetened by this lasting and truly the greatest digestant known. Sold by The Modern Pharmacy.

Bright's Disease and Diabetes.

We desire to place in the hands of those afflicted with Bright's Disease and Diabetes a 26-page pamphlet that is saving human lives. It is not an ordinary pamphlet, such as is commonly used to advertise medicines, but is principally made up of reports of scientifically conducted tests in a large variety of cases, showing 87 per cent of recoveries in these hitherto incurable diseases. The specifics employed in these tests are known as the Fulton Compounds and the results obtained prove conclusively that these dreaded diseases so long fatal (the deaths from Bright's Disease alone are appalling, over 100,000 a year, starting as kidney troubles) have at last yielded to medical science. The pamphlet is free. Write to the John J. Fulton Co., 409 Washington street, San Francisco, Cal. When to suspect Bright's Disease—Puffy ankles or hands; weakness without apparent cause; kidney trouble after third month; frequent urination, (may show sediment or cloudy on standing); falling vision; day drowsiness—one or more of these.
