

Cottage Grove Leader.

VOL. XVII

COTTAGE GROVE, OREGON, SATURDAY, JUNE 10, 1905.

NO. 8

CAPTURED AT ROSEBURG

John Schaffer, Who Stole Team at Cottage Grove, Captured at Roseburg, Now in Jail.

Two weeks ago last Thursday a man giving the name of John Schaffer, appeared at the Fashion Stables and asked for a team to drive, as he stated, up the Coast Fork some ten miles to see a party. He secured the team and went away with an overcoat that he stole from the stable which finally proved the cause of his capture.

After waiting until Saturday for the returning of the rig, the proprietors decided it had been stolen, and secured the services of R. W. Veatch, who was deputized as an officer and he started south by train. His first stop was at Roseburg, where he found the team, but the man had disappeared. The team was brought home and the man was given up.

Sunday the proprietors of the stables received a message that the man who had brought the team to the stable was again in Roseburg and orders were at once sent for his arrest. Veatch's services were again secured and he went to Roseburg and Monday noon returned with his prisoner.

The capture was caused by his calling at the stable and asking to have his overcoat until called for. The coat was at once recognized by the stable men and the information sent here.

Upon his arrival he was taken directly before Justice Vaughn, where he pleaded guilty to the charge of grand larceny and was turned over to the officer to take to Eugene for trial at the June term of court.

Veatch says he has more names than are required for a number of men. While in Roseburg he went by the names of Schaffer, S. E. Church, G. E. Smith and endorsed a check with the name of F. C. Smith.

He has evidently been drinking heavily for sometime and begged like a child for mercy when before the judge and stated this was his first offense, which is doubted very much by those who have looked at him.

Commencement at Oregon University.

The twenty ninth commencement will be held at the University of Oregon, located at Eugene, beginning with the Baccalaureate sermon next Sunday, which will be delivered by Reverend A. A. Morrison of Portland, Monday—class held day; Tuesday—annual business and reunion of Alumni, president's reception and oratorical contest for prizes, Wednesday is Commencement day proper; a dinner will be served to the members of the alumni with commencement ball in the evening.

THE GRADUATES.

The names of the seniors follows: Alice Cecile Adams, Alice Loretta Benson, Ruth Coffey, Harry Dale, Carl H. Davis, Mabel Elizabeth Easton, Herbert Clair Eastland, Edith Ruth Flinn, John Frederick Frost, David H. Graham, Mary Augusta Gray, Lola Howe, Augusta Holmes, May DeCamp Kinsey, Mildred Sybil Lester, Adelle Adair Holmes, Geo. Ordahl, Cora Madeline Shaver, De-foe N. Shirk, Mabel Smith Copley, Fred Newton Stump, Joseph New-Templeton, Robert A. Tiffany, Verne Wayne Tomlinson, Nellie Fern Williams, Cora Isabella Riggs Wold, Bessie Jose Woods, Frank Carleton Dillard, Herbert G. Moulton, Clay-born Franklin Rhodes.

Chivalry Toward Women.

(From the London Chronicle.)

That chivalry is declining owing to the emancipation of woman is a very favorite theory, based mainly on the supposition that men do not give up their seats to women in trains as often as they used to do at some time specified. A decisive judgment on such a point is obviously impossible, but there are some more essential points of manners in which a definite answer can be given.

Was the chivalry of men really greater in those early Victorian days when no lady could walk unattended in the most respectable streets of London without being insulted? Was there really more romance in the times when a "gentleman" could make the most degrading proposals to any more or less unprotected girl, even if he did bow very low and express himself very humbly when doing it? Was there really more poetry and beauty in the relations of the sexes in the days when, though a man would have been horrified at the idea of smoking in the presence of a lady, even with her permission, he had no objection to swearing before her, or to holding up to the drawing-room drunk after dinner?

Modern manners are not perfect, but as a modern woman I think I prefer them to the so-called "chivalrous" and "elegant" manners of by-gone times.

Golden Rule Stockholders.

Tuesday afternoon Wm. Wechter of Salem and manager of the Golden Rule Company, whose mining properties are in the Bohemia Mining District, arrived on the afternoon train.

Mr. Wechter is accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Lehman and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lehman of Berne, Indiana. The gentlemen are stockholders in the Golden Rule company and desire to see the claims belonging to that company.

The party went up to the camp on Wednesday.

COMMITTEE WILL VISIT FAIR

California Will Send 200 Leading Citizens by Special Train to Lewis and Clark Exposition.

Portland, June 9. The reputation as a state which does things will be maintained on numerous occasions this summer, but especially by a single incident which will be characteristic of the manner in which the Golden State exploits her resources. A party of perhaps 200 leading business and professional men, representing the cream of California's progressive citizenship, will journey to Portland on a special train, and spend three days at the Lewis and Clark Exposition. In honor of the party, next Monday, June 12, has been set aside as California Promotion Committee Day, and elaborate preparations have been made by the Department of Special Events and Entertainment, under direction of Theodore Hardee.

The excursion will be the biggest thing of the kind ever attempted, and will mark a new era in the state exploitation work. The party in its handsomely equipped special train will leave San Francisco Saturday night, arriving in Portland Monday morning. On reaching the city, the Californians will be met by a committee and will repair to the Portland Hotel. At ten o'clock the members will leave the hotel, and be escorted by special trolley cars to the Exposition grounds, where the courtesies of the gate will be extended them. The party will march to the Auditorium, where President H. W. Good will welcome them and brief exercises will be held. The members will then be escorted about the grounds, and at noon a luncheon will be provided by the Exposition committee. The program of the day concludes with a reception at the Exposition grounds, the New York State building. The reception will be attended by prominent Portland people. A band will render appropriate selections during the evening and refreshments will be served.

On Tuesday the visiting Californians will take part in the dedication ceremonies at the California State Building, which is one of the handsomest structures on the grounds. The schedule provides also for a tour to the city of Portland in automobiles and an excursion on the Columbia River, before the party starts on the return trip Wednesday evening. The promotions committee's party will live during the stay in Portland, in a palatial special train which will be side-tracked in the yards at Portland.

City Council.

Council met in regular session Monday night. Mayor, recorder and all the councilmen present. Minutes of previous meeting read and approved. A petition signed by a number of citizens asking the council to appropriate the sum of $500 to assist in building a creamery was read and the matter referred to the Recorder to ascertain if the city had the right to appropriate money for such a purpose and report at the next meeting. Ordinance No. 162—Prohibiting the use of bicycles on the sidewalks of the city passed its first and second readings. The street committee in its report, recommended that in the grading of streets that for the bed of gravel or crushed rock, not larger than two inches be used and for the covering not larger than three quarters of an inch be allowed. The following bills were read, referred to the finance committee, reported upon favorably and allowed: Marion Veatch, $24.30; Grey Printing Co. $9; F. V. Wheeler, $2; J. E. Young, $8.83; A. M. Bartels, $3.25; Cottage Grove Electric Light Co., $192.20; C. H. VanDenburg, $1.50; H. E. Underwood, $60.25; Currin & Veatch, 30c; G. B. Pitcher, $60.; Phil. Hohl, 25c. By motion the marshal was instructed to notify all parties in sewer districts to make connection with sewers according to ordinance providing for same. The marshal was instructed not to allow any one to remove any city property from council room.

The recorder was instructed to prepare an ordinance providing for a lateral sewer, running through block 7 to the west side of 4th street.

The time for receiving bids for the grading of 4th and 5th streets was extended until Saturday night June 10th.

Adjourned until that date. An informal meeting was held Wednesday night to consider street grading. Mr. Geo. Lea stated he would grade 4th streets as per specifications for the sum of $1900.

The Employee Who "Makes Good."

Seattle Times. There is a certain class of young men never out of employment because there are "too few" of him to go round. He is a cheerful fellow. Then there is another class, so much in the majority that it becomes a drug on the market, and, consequently, is not desired anywhere. He is the gloomy fellow.

The employee with a cheerful disposition is the one who forges ahead to responsible berths and high-salaried positions. His temperament popularizes him with employers and customers. He is always a worker, performing his duties with eyes on the welfare of the business, not upon the clock and pay day. Such a young man soon becomes indispensable. His advancement is rapid, for an employer will not permit such an assistant to escape him.

The "sombre-faced clerk" is depressing. An atmosphere of chill pervades the store in which he works. Employers and employees are affected by it, and customers feel its influence.

Such clerks cause trade to go elsewhere and business men are forced to retire them before they have impaired the efficiency of other employes and reduced the receipts of the sales to a low ebb.

A cheerful clerk is "a thing of beauty and a joy forever." A sombre-faced employee is a mill stone about necks of his fellow workmen and the business he is hired to increase.

He has no usefulness and his dismissal is summary.

Civility of speech brings many rewards.

Business activity destroys pessimism.

Some clerks are afraid to use their brains for fear of exhausting the supply.

A man seldom meets defeat until he is so sure of himself that he quits hustling. Even dignity may be carried to a point of intemperance.

Energy is the deadly foe of mental rust.

Geniality properly distributed enriches the field of friendship.

Pessimism is a drug on the market; optimism always commands a high premium.

Returns With Bride.

About the first of last April Mr. Ben Trygstad went (as we say in this country to the East) to Minn. and Ill. on a visit, at least that was the statement made to his friends. That he had another object in view is evidenced by the fact, that on Monday he arrived here with his bride, who was until recently, Miss Tillie Johnson of Rockford, Ill.

Mr. Trygstad is an owner of mining properties in Bohemia, and has worked in a number of the mines there. He put in last winter at the Riverside property.

He, accompanied by Mrs. Trygstad went to Bohemia Wednesday morning.

Summer Normal School.

Willamette University will conduct a Summer Normal School, beginning June 26 and continuing until August 10. A well selected faculty will have charge of the work. All the facilities of the university, including its library and laboratories will be at the disposal of the school. Christian teachers and christian influences, together with an excellent equipment will make this school the best in the state. The course of study will include all subjects required in examination for both county and state certificates.

Watched rosebuds open slowly.—Proverb.

A beautiful life ends not in death.—Anon.

ODD FELLOWS ELECT OFFICERS

At the Grand Encampment Held in Portland This Week the Following Officers Were Elected.

Grand patriarch, Claud Gatech, of Salem.

Grand high priest, W. I. Vawter of Medford.

Grand senior warden, Harry M. Beckwith, of Portland.

Grand scribe, E. E. Sharon, of Portland.

Grand treasurer, W. W. Francis, of Halsey.

Grand junior warden, S. G. Fealey, of Albany.

Representative to sovereign grand lodge, W. M. Groen, of Eugene, the retiring patriarch.

To Old Soldiers.

Headquarters Association of the First Oregon Cavalry and the First Oregon Infantry, LaGrande, Oregon, May 10, 1905. Comrades:—

The fourth annual reunion of the First Oregon Cavalry, United States Volunteers, and the First Oregon Infantry United States Volunteers' Association will be held in conjunction with the state encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Oregon City, Oregon, on June 24, 1905.

All comrades requested to be present and participate.

A cordial invitation is given to all persons who served in either the First Oregon Cavalry, United States Volunteers, or in the First Oregon Infantry, United States Volunteers, and did duty in Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Utah or Nevada from 1861 to 1866, and to their parents, wives and descendants, to join in the reunion and talk over the incidents of long ago.

Geo. B. CURRY, Commander. W. M. HILLBARY, Adjutant.

Election of Officers.

The Woman's Club of Cottage Grove held its annual election of officers at the Commercial Club rooms on Saturday, May 27, 1905.

The following officers were elected: Mrs. Katie Veatch, president; Mrs. Eva Wheeler, vice president; Mrs. Clara Burkholder, recording secretary; Mrs. Olivia Eakin, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Mae Thompson, treasurer.

The history of England in connection with reading from John L. Stoddard's lectures of England, Scotland and London proved to be an instructive and interesting study for the past year. Unusual interest has been manifested and the limit of membership has been enlarged from 18 to 25.

The members feel very grateful to the Commercial Club for the use of their reception rooms for a place of meeting the past year and also for the generous offer they have extended to the Club, the privilege of holding our meetings there the coming year.

CLARA BURKHOLDER, Sec.

A Scientific Barber Shop.

"This towel," said the attendant, "has been subjected to extreme heat, and is thoroughly sterilized." "Good!" commented the patron. "Yes; we take every precaution against exposing our patrons to infection or contagion. This soap," continued the attendant, "has been debacterialized, and the comb and the are thoroughly antiseptized." "Glad to hear it," said the patron.

"The chair in which you sit has a daily bath in bichloride of mercury, and its cushions are baked in an oven heated to 987 degrees, which is guaranteed to shrivel up any bacillus that happens to be present."

"Excellent idea." "The razor and the lather brush are boiled before being used, and the lather cup is dry-heated until there is not the slightest possibility of any germs clinging to it."

"Fine!" "The hot water with which the lather is mixed is always double-heated and sprayed with a germicide, besides being filtered and distilled."

"Well, I declare! You are careful!"

"Yes, even the floor, and the ceiling and the walls and the furniture are given antiseptic treatment every day, and all change handed out to customers is first wiped with antiseptic."

"Well, look here!" interrupted the patron, who had been sitting wrapped in the germ-proof towel all this time, "why don't you shave me? Do you think I'm loaded with some sort of germs that you've got to talk to death?"

"No, sir," answered the attendant. "But..."

"You're not?"

"They are! Exchange."

Wanted.

A sheet for the bed of a river. A glove for the hand of fate. A ring for the finger of scorn. Scales for the weight of years. A button for the coat of paint. A link for a chain of evidence. A rung for the ladder of fame. A feather for the wing of the wind.

A hinge for the gait of a horse. A tombstone for the dead of night. A song that will reach an ear of corn.

A hoe to sharpen a blade of grass.

A pump for the well of knowledge.

A blanket for the cradle of the deep.

A shoe for the foot of a mountain. —Exchange.

An engaged girl should remember that Love is the joining of two souls on their way to God.—J. M. Barrie.

SPRING LINE

Banner Shirt Waist

JUST RECEIVED

Mercerized Etamine, Mohair and Lawns. Also a large line of houses Shirt Waists. Best values ever shown.

Hemenway & Burkholder

A New Arrival OF HOT WEATHER FABRICS

Ladies! We invite you to call and see them

Lurch's

Leaders in Fancy and Staple Ribbons

New Lace Collars This Week!

Straw Hats