COTTAGE GROVE, OREGON, SATURDAY, JULY 8, 1905.

NO. 12

REPEAL ORDINANCE

The City Council Has Ordered Recorder to Prepare Ordinance Repealing Old Liquor Law.

The common council met in regular session last Monday evening with Mayor Veatch in the chair, and the full council present. The minutes of the last regular and special meetings were read and approved.

A petition from the residents of West Third street asking that the street be graded and graveled was read, and the recorder was instructed to prepare an ordinance for that purpose.

The street committee reported favorably on the bicycle ordinance which was passed on its third reading.

The ordinance for the grading and graveing of Second and Third streets was carried, also the ordinance prohibiting the tying of live stock on the streets and alleys, of the city.

C. C. Case appeared before the council petitioning for the repeal of the Sunday closing ordinance. He said that it worked an injustice upon saloon men as it compelled them to close but allowed the other stores to remain open on that day. On discussion the fact came up that the law compelled all places of business, other than drug stores and restaurants to be closed on Sunday.

On motion of Bartels the recorder was instructed to prepare an ordinance repealing the Sunday closing ordinance. The vote on this was aye: Bartels, Hinds and Johnson. Nays: Chamberlain, O. Veatch and Hogate.

Mayor Veatch voted with the ayes, giving as his reason, "That he wanted every man to get a 'square deal' and did not think the saloon men were getting it, with every other kind of business place open, and favored the repeal of the ordinance as the best way of removing the apparent unfairness from the city statutes.

Nothing further was decided on the water works. The bond selling ordinance will be up at the next session.

Ordinance No. 70.

Provided, that the above provision shall not apply to the keepers of drug stores, doctors' offices, undertakers, livery stable keepers, barbers, butchers, bakers, hotels and restaurants.

Sec. 2. Any person guilty of a violation of this ordinance shall, upon conviction thereof before the Recorder of the city of Cottage Grove, be fined in a sum not to exceed $10, and shall pay the costs of prosecution and in the default of payment such fine shall be confined in the city jail not to exceed one day for each $2 of such fine.

R. M. VEATCH, Mayor.
Attest: J. E. YOUNG, Recorder.

A Reunion at Portland.

Everybody for many miles about this country, unless it be the newcomers, know of the Underwood family.

Until recently, Mrs. Dr. Wall one of the best known of that family, lived in this city, but owing to the poor health of the Dr. for whom a change of climate was considered advisable, they removed to Los Angeles.

When it was decided to visit the Lewis and Clark Exposition in Portland, it was decided to have a family reunion at that place.

Upon arrival in that city Dr. and Mrs. Wall secured spacious rooms on the second floor at 617 Marshal street, and prepared for the coming of the brothers and sisters of Mrs. Wall.

The latter part of last week the last one arrived and the Dr. reported they were having a great time.

There were present on this occasion, John Underwood, of Rapid City South Dakota; El Underwood, city marshal of Cottage Grove; Mrs. Dr. Wall, Miss Annie Underwood, Tacoma, Wash.; Mrs. Eliza Johnson and Mrs. Bertha Hubbard of Santiago, California; Mrs. George Small, Silver Lake, Ore.; and Miss Benita Whipple, daughter of Mrs. Wall. The Dr. was met on the street and reported there was a great time being had at the rooms. They all feel it is likely the last time they will all meet at once and are making the most of it.

Game Law Arrests.

A. G. Reynolds of Ashland, was fined $20 and costs for having trout less than 5 inches in length in his possession.

O. M. Murphy of Medford, was fined $15 and cost on the 3rd for killing quail during the closed season.

CELEBRATE JULY FOURTH

A Summary of the Various Towns in County that Celebrated the Nations Independence. All Had Good Time.

At the fourth of July celebration at London the speaker of the day was the Rev. Grant Stewart of Cottage Grove, whose theme was, "George Washington, the first American." After dwelling briefly upon the value of the old "fourth of July" celebration in promoting a patriotic appreciation of the history, the achievements, and the great men of the United States, the speaker described the men of the Revolutionary period. Among them all George Washington was recognized as chief by the people of his and each succeeding age. The title of "The Great" is more befitting to him than to Cromwell of England, Frederick of Prussia, Peter of Russia, Napoleon of France or any other of earth's great men. His greatness was not of a spectacular character, but was in the marvelous purity of his soul, and in the development of his manly qualities. From a noble he inherited much, but he used his opportunities for the fullest culture of his powers. As a boy he attended the parish school which was the public school of that time, and developed the breadth of sympathy for all classes of people which distinguished him throughout life. There is danger to our public school system from the effort to separate our people into two parties, those educated in the public schools, and those educated in the private or parochial schools. The public school is the great unifier and unites into one the many inherited ideals of the various nationalities composing our citizenship. We must guard our school system, and demand that all children shall attend the one general system of schools for at least a few years of their formative period. The home too is endangered through the breaking down of the recognition of the relation parental authority and responsibility. Other elements entering into the greatness of Washington were his great energy, his faith in his fellowmen and in God, and his unselfish patriotism. While other great men had their weaknesses and moral shortcomings, Washington was great and only great. His name grows in the estimation of men as the ages come and go, is destined to remain "the first in war, the first in peace, and the first in the hearts of his countrymen."

Lorane Celebrates.

The 4th of July celebration at Lorane was surely a success. The exercises deserve special mention for every number rendered, although a full list cannot be given. The singing of America opened the program. The reading of the Declaration of Independence by Mrs. Richardson, an oration by Captain O. Brian upon the history of the early days of the Republic, and some of the famous battles of the Revolution, the methods of warfare compared with later battles was listened to with much interest. A beautiful flag drill was executed by a class of young girls; also another drill by three little girls, "The colors of the Flag." A coon song by "Some coons", and their exit from the platform and grounds caused many a shout of merriment. Several recitations were given in a creditable manner. The program was interspersed by fine music, both vocal and instrumental. Then came the joyful summous to dinner as Mr. Hardy Crow in his genial manner invited "all to come and partake, those with baskets, and those without, and let all eat together as friends and neighbors should." And no one could resist that long table spread under green boughs of mighty trees, with a brook whispering between mossy banks near. And things to eat, Lorane has a country wide reputation for good cooks, yellow-legged chickens and good things too numerous to mention, in such abundance that cause town folks to look agast at the extravagance. The Silk Creek people contributed some very fine music which was appreciated very highly. The exercise closed with a base ball game and a dance in the hall in the evening which was well attended and greatly enjoyed. All who were fortunate enough to be present came to their homes with a revived feeling of patriotism, of kindness, and a strengthened belief in the brotherhood of man.

VISITOR.

Commercial Club No tes.

The club authorized the printing of 10,000 pamphlets, and accepted the writeup of same as presented by the committee. This pamphlet is to give a good setting forth of the worth of Cottage Grove and South Lane County for the benefit of those who do not know what a fine place this is, and what opportunities there are for business here, and what a healthful and delightful a country we have surrounding us.

The committee on the securing of a bonus for a creamery was authorized to go ahead and close up the deal with Mr. Stiller of Portland. Thus is assured that we are going to have the creamery.

Prof. C. D. Crove delivered a fine address on mining and the Bohemia District.

This meeting was an open one and was attended by many people who were not members. The club is ready to have some more members who have lots of push and energy and who are as willing to help boost Cottage Grove, as those now members are, as evidenced by the way they have taken hold of the Creamery proposition.

General Summary.

The past week has been favorable for normal growth, notwithstanding it averaged cooler than usual. Haying is now general and, although considerable hay was cut and lying in the fields when the rains of the early part of the week occurred, no great damage ensued, and the hay crop promises to be unusually heavy and of excellent quality. Fall wheat continues to fill nicely and its harvest will begin in about ten days or two weeks. Fungus diseases and insect pests are more troublesome than usual at this season of the year. Spring wheat in portions of the Willamette valley is badly infested with aphid, but otherwise its condition is promising. Oats are affected by a red rust fungus, which is causing much apprehension. Barley is ripening nicely. Corn, gardens, potatoes, field onions and sugar beets continue doing well. Many lice are reported in the hop yards, especially those situated near the river bottoms, and preparations for extensive spraying have been made, which will be put in operation if the present warm and bright weather does not cause their disappearance. Berries are plentiful, and other fruit has made satisfactory advancement.

CADET CORPS STOP HERE

Congregational Cadet Corps of Eureka, Cal. Stop and Give Entertainment on their way to Portland.

The Congregational Cadet Corps of Eureka, California, marched into town Thursday afternoon, and left about 9<sup>o</sup> Friday morning. This corps is one of boys gathered from all over the town, of every race, without respect of sect or creed, by the pastor of the First Congregational church, Rev. Franklin Baker. The object and purpose of the Club formed is to give the boys a place to gather together for reading, gymnastics, etc. The conditions necessary to their membership are: They must not smoke cigarettes, drink or swear, and must attend some Sunday School each Sunday. Each summer they have some outing, and last year decided on their present trip, and saved $1000 towards the expenses of it, which will amount to about $1500. In order to make the rest of the money they give an entertainment in each town of any considerable size, one of which they gave here Thursday night. The boys did well, but showed that they were exceedingly tired. It is too bad we did not give them a better audience, for they deserved it. There are 59 boys, and with the officers, chaplain and teamsters make a total of 67. They will be the guests of the fair management.
