The Pacific Timber Co. have recently had a pile driving, consisting of several hundred poles 80 to 100 feet long, and about 1200 cedar poles.

W. P. Ely with John Hichland, G. A. Latver, and another man went up to Bohemia Tuesday morning to do work on the May Flower group. Mr. Ely intends making quite a stay in the camp.

The Electric Light Company is straightening up its poles, getting them in line, and taking the slack out of their wires so as to be right up to date like the rest of the people.

Merle Scrovell, who has been spending vacation at Independence with relatives, arrived in the city Friday afternoon to spend a few days with friends, returning Thursday morning.

Dr. Oglesby is pushing the district and the farming interests for all he is worth, he says that we can bring many new people here to invest for we have the goods, all we need to do is to show them.

If you want a good brush, one that will last longer than you live, and that is something entirely new and unique, good for your scalp and hair, try the new style all wire brushes at Piper and VanDenburg's. They carry brushes, brooms, everything made of wire and steel.

We are in receipt of a copy of the story of "Sancjawa" published by J. K. Gill Co. of Portland. This is a very fine little story and of particular interest at the present time in view of the attention drawn to her life, through the Lewis and Clark Exposition. This little book is 25c post-paid.

The Southern Pacific Co. is having a pretty hard time in getting water in the wells they are digging. They have encountered some very difficult ground to dig through, have had less water than they expected, and have had to put a new crew at work on account of differences with the former one, which have all delayed them. The varieties of earth, clay and rock they are going through would surprise a person not familiar with the many layers of earth beneath us.

The city council is having some trouble to decide on the place, and the best kind of a reservoir to build. There has been some talk of damming the east and west forks of Silk Creek with dams sufficiently high to hold all the water that would be necessary. This looks like a very good scheme for the water could be brought down in one pipe and if later it was found necessary to build another reservoir it could be connected so as to fill from these pipes from the overflow, and in case of accident above the reservoir, water could be furnished from the reservoir alone for some time. This would probably give a higher pressure than we have at present. Another scheme is to have a reservoir on top of McFarlands hill near the old one, and force the water to the top of it by a ram. This would give us a very high pressure. Of the many schemes evolved some one will doubtless be decided upon soon, and the sooner the better for it will take a good while to get the work done after it is once commenced.

Godfrey Graber came down from Bohemia Saturday.

Bill Hawley of Lorane is baling hay for his brother Jim at Divide.

S. C. Wallace is furnishing the brick for the new building on Main street. Work is going right ahead now. Mr. Wallace is going to get another kiln ready at once.

Mrs. John Currin, Miss Mary Currin of Roseburg and Miss Currin of Portland went up to Bohemia to visit Mr. Currin, who is doing some assessment work there. Every one is hiving themselves to the hills these days.

Mr. F. J. Hard lost his saddle horse last week from the stable at Wildwood. Mr. J. I. Jones found the horse in his pasture Wednesday. It had evidently come down this way and jumped the fence into the pasture where she had been kept all winter.

Mrs. Linnie Violette received payment Thursday of the insurance policy held by her husband who was killed at a logging camp June 29th. The Pennsylvania Mutual Life Co. made this payment through their agent Herbert Button of Eugene, and is to be commended for its prompt action.

Jim Huff's little boy had quite an accident Wednesday. In cutting some wood the axe misses the wood and cut off the first joint of the middle finger of his right hand, and cut a couple of his other fingers badly however, not so as to lose them. Dr. Schleef dressed the finger, and the boy is getting along nicely.

Joe Baker is making a good sized sized addition to the end and side of his shop so as to be prepared for all the work he can get. He will have a shop 34x46 when completed. He is going to get ready for the increased trade that he says will come when we get the smelter and is dead sure we will get it, for the district deserves and will have it.

The Pacific States Telephone Co. have been putting in a new business line this past week, and also straightening up the poles, and taking the slack out of the wires on the lines along Fourth and Fifth streets in order to keep in line with the other street improvements. They are always ready to improve the line and help out their patrons.

Dr. Kime has a beautiful snare drum that he made from Coos Co. myrtle wood. It is not only a very fine looking drum, but has a fine tone, and he is going to send it down to the fair for the exhibit. He also has a new splint that has recently been invented that is a great thing for the injured. This splint is a steel frame with pneumatic cushions so arranged as to hold the limb perfectly rigid, if necessary, even the hip joint can be kept immovable and still enable the patient to be up and walk around some. The device is one that will give much relief to people that otherwise would have been compelled to lie still for long periods before the invention of such a splint.

At the meeting of the council on Monday night the principal topic was the water works improvements. The Cottage Grove Electric Light Company presented a letter, stating that as their contract with the city expires in February of next year, and they wish to make extensive improvements and changes for the general betterment of the city and public lighting, before going to such expenditure they desired that the council give them a renewal of their present contract with some minor changes for the next ten years. The council wished some time to look the matter over and decided to report on same at next meeting. A letter was read from the Lewis and Clark Exposition, asking for the appointment of a delegation to visit the fair for the purpose of attending the Municipal Government Congress to be held in August. No committee was appointed but it is altogether probable some will attend as all seem interested in getting our town managed and built on up-to-date lines.

Richmond—Durham Nuptials.

On the evening of July 16th at the Presbyterian church, in the presence of a large audience, Mr. Albert A. Richmond and Miss Della B. Durham took the vows that made them one. Deft hands had handsomely decorated the church with flowers, evergreens and a veritable maze of potted plants. A large floral bell was suspended above the altar, under which the couple stood. Rev. Mr. Baker of Wellington, Texas preached the usual service, after which an excellent male quartette sang, following which Miss Neva Perkins played Concones' Wedding march. As the sweet strains floated out, the bride, handsomely attired in white silk lands-down made up in the latest Paris fashion, leaning on the arm of Miss Nellie Richmond, her bridesmaid, who was also finely attired, entered the church by the east door, proceeded by her brother Mr. Nelson Durham, as usher and little Miss Walker as "The Flower Girl." At the same time the groom, accompanied by Mr. Thomas Medley as groomsman and preceded by Mr. Merton Earl as usher came in at the west door. The music grew sweeter as the two marched to its time. The bride and groom met immediately under the floral "Wedding Bell," and in front of Mr. Grace, who in a few choice and eloquent words used a beautiful ring ceremony, after the exchange of the marital vows and the placing of the ring, closing with the words "And they twain shall be one flesh, by the authority vested in me by the laws of the State of Oregon and being a minister of the Gospel in the Presbyterian Church, I pronounce you man and wife." After a brief prayer the bridal party marched out to the melodious music being rendered while all wished them the best of life's blessings.

After reaching the home of the bride's parents dainty and delightful refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Richmond departed to spend their honeymoon taking in the fair, from whence they will return to make their home here in Cottage Grove.

The Sunday School room of the church was opened, but with all the room there was not enough space to accommodate the many friends who came to wish them a long and happy life. Many relatives and friends had come from a long distance to be present at this time. The many fine and valuable presents received really amounted to quite a sum, and their number precludes their being described in detail.

Wagonmaking, blacksmithing and general repair work at J. H. Baker's shop. Every guarantee of good workmanship given.

J. H. Bartels had what might have been a serious accident on Saturday. In turning his wagon around the horses became somewhat unruly and the wagon was tipped over, the front wheel running over Mr. Bartels right ankle, fortunately not breaking any bones, but spraining and wrenching it very badly.

A party of four men and chauffeur from Los Angeles passed through here on Monday on their way to Seattle. They had a 24 h. p. Peerless machine, and left Los Angeles June 30th. They had fine roads through California but for the last couple hundred of miles have nearly had to build most of their own roads, as the roads were in such poor shape. We need a road committee the worst way and until we get it we can't expect to have much road travel from any people, motorists or others.

The Government is going to distribute more fish in the streams near here. Mr. Hinds is going to get a supply to be used in the streams up near London Mineral Wells. Game Warden Baker is getting a supply of black spotted trout for Mosby Creek, and Mr. Carrin some for distribution in Row River. With all the fish that have been put in the streams recently and with the good supply already we ought to have very much finer fishing here in a year or so.
