Today.

Only from day to day.
- The life of a wise man runs:
What matter if seasons far away
Have gloom or have double suns?
To climb the unreal path
We lose the rinding here,
We swim the rivers of wrath
And tunnel the hills of fear.
Our feet on the river's brink,
Our eyes on the clouds afar,
We fear the things we think,
Instead of the things that are.
Like a tide our work should rise,
Each later wave the best;
Tomorrow forever dies,
Today is the special test.
Like a sawyer's work is life,
The present makes the law,
And the only field for strife
Is the inch before the saw.

WALKING DELEGATE.
ADVANCE AGENT ADVOCATE OF WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE.

Women electioneers argue and act very much like politicians. The better proof of this can be furnished then by the following statement recently made in an emphatic manner and emphasized in a masculine voice which convinced one of the speaker meant what he said, "If it did no good, if women were dishonest, if it made things worse, if one woman on earth wanted to vote, I would give her that right."

Men who think it is chivalry to permit women to vote would probably undergo a radical change of heart were they to reside for a time in a state in which the privilege is granted and could they in consequence see the effect upon their neglected homes and children.
Why is it that woman is so eager to sell her birthright? And what is she trying to gain? If the day is at hand when our men can no longer rule our nation, then indeed must its downfall be close at hand. It is right for women to be educated and to understand how they are governed but if protest is necessary, let her fill her rightful place of helper and advisor to man not at the poles, but in the home in the face and refinement of which she reigns as queen. When a true woman fulfills her duties at the cradle and fireside she will have little time left for discussing her so-called rights and agitating her neighbors and friends with reference to their rights. What greater right can she have than the moulding of lives and characters which are soon to aid in the mighty work of ruling our great country, what greater honor can she desire than that of knowing that by her tactful influence she can bring man to the knowledge of what is greatest and best and verify the old saying, "The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world."
(As the editor sees it.)

Los Angeles schools have declared that either football rules must be changed so as to prevent the terrible accidents which occur or the boys will not be permitted to play it. While we personally are very fond of football, just as it is, and happen to have suffered some of the damage of it, we feel that it is wise to make changes in the present rules, and shall be glad to see them adopted. Football is the nation's sport for strong and healthy boys and should be kept up, but modified in form.

Some of the town critics have said that before Main street should get a coat of finely crushed rock on top it should get a firm bed of much heavier rock for a base, but if they could have seen the condition of the rocky bottom underneath the present surface of the street where Bar-enough foundation there to sustain almost any kind of travel. It would be a great improvement if the street did have a coating of fine rock, so rounded as to let the water from the middle of the road run into the gutter and off the street. As it is the center of the road is always covered with water and the crossings are continually flooded.

Senator Burton of Kansas Convicted.

United States Senator Joseph Ralph Burton of Kansas, was today sentenced in the United States Circuit Court to serve six months in the Iron county jail, Ironton, Mo., and to pay a fine of $2500, as the penalty for conviction on the indictment charging that he had acted in the capacity of a paid attorney in behalf of the Rialto Grain and Securities company of St. Louis, before the Postoffice department to prevent the issuance of a fraud order.

Senator Burton was found guilty on six counts of the indictment, four of which charged that he agreed to receive compensation for his service as an attorney before the Postoffice department in behalf of the Rialto Company and two charging that he received such compensation.

Judge Vandevanter, ordered the defendant to stand, Senator Burton arose, but remained standing by the side of the table occupied by his counsel and did not approach directly in front of the bar as is customary. Judge Vandevanter said:

"You have been present during the progress of this trial and have heard the verdict rendered by the jury. Have you anything to say?" Senator Burton, standing pale and motionless with his eyes fixed waveringly upon the court, replied: "Nothing."

Judge Vandevanter then pronounced the formal sentence. He said that the penalty of imprisonment for six months and the fine of $2500 was imposed on count six, which charged him with having agreed to accept compensation and sentence of six months imprisonment alone was imposed on count seven, charging that he received compensation. In regard to counts one, two and eight, Judge Vandevanter said that as they involved the same transaction as count six, no separate judgement was imposed and as count three was the same as count seven no separate judgement was imposed on that count. Counts four and five were quashed before the trial begun. As provided in statute 1782, which Senator Burton was convicted of having violated, Judge Vandevanter imposed the additional penalty debaring Senator Burton forever from holding any office of honor, trust or profit, under the United States Government.

Modern woodmen Pay Widow's Claim.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 29.—The judgment of $2,000 for insurance, which was obtained by Mrs. Alpha Myers some time ago against the Modern Woodmen of America, has been paid. It was claimed by the Woodmen that she was not entitled to the amount because her husband had been in arrears of dues for several months and had paid up all back dues shortly before dying. The order took the stand that Myers had no right to be reinstated.

The President Tells Republicans He Wants Honest, Independent County Chairman Elected.

Washington, Nov. 29.—President Roosevelt has declared himself against "bossism," in New York politics. This declaration he has made emphatically in letters to personal and political friends regarding the selection of the chairman of the Republican committee of New York county. He deprecates the interference of outsiders in the politics of the county and has indicated his view that nothing ought to be done by such outsiders that might be confounded with dictation.

The president has discussed the situation in New York frankly with several of his callers and has written some letters to those directly interested in the New York republican organization. In these conversations and letters he has indicated his present intention regarding the situation. He has suggested the names of five or six men, any one of whom in his judgment, would prove an acceptable chairman, but he has let it be known that he has not attempted to dictate the election of any candidate or proclaim his choice to any person who has approached him on the subject.

He has expressed an opinion, as a citizen, however, that whoever is chosen chairman should be a man of the highest character and reputation and should possess the necessary independence to make it certain that he would conduct the affairs of the Republican organization in New York county on a high plane of efficiency and integrity without regard to any boss or any machine. President Roosevelt has not declared himself in favor of the selection of Representative Herbert Parsons or Representative Jan Van Olcott or anybody else, although both Mr. Parsons and Mr. Olcott were included in the list of men, anyone of whom the President believes would be acceptable.—Oregonian.

Jackson, Second County in Oregon in Assessed Wealth.

Salem, Or., Nov. 29.—Jackson County has sprung to second place among the counties of Oregon in taxable wealth. Marion County, which has for many years occupied second place, has dropped to fifth place, and perhaps lower. Not all the assessment returns have been received yet, but it is already apparent that at least three counties have stepped above Marion in assessed valuation.

Multnomah County, of course, is still first, her assessment for 1905 not yet being known definitely. Jackson will come second with a valuation of over $12,000,000. Washington probably third with $10,600,000, Umatilla probably fourth with $10,165,000, and Marion probably fifth with $9,824,000. There are a number of wealthy counties yet to report, among them being Lane, Linn and Clackamas, any of which may surpass Marion and put that county still further down the list.

Jackson County's assessment this year shows an increase of about 200 per cent for last year the assessment was only $4,650,000.

He was sitting alone on the veranda and close by him was a young and pretty widow and a little six-year-old son.
The little fellow ran up to the gentleman who patted him on the head. "What's your name?" the little boy asked.
He told him.
"Is you married?" he lisped.
"No, I'm not," was the reply.
Then the child paused a moment, and turning to his mother, said: "Mamma, what else did you tell me to ask him?"
