Albany has a fine new hospital ready. But who wants to go to a hospital in a dry town?—Salem Journal. People wanting good attention and competent service.—Democrat.

A number of Springfield and Medford men are looking for mining jobs here, also a cook and his wife. If they want a job very bad they ought not to have much trouble finding one.

Lady Crozon, wife of the ex-viceroy of India died in London Wednesday after a long illness. She was formerly Miss Mary Leiter, daughter of the late Z. Leiter of Chicago.

Eugene is now using filtered water for the first time, the new pump and filters being at work. It is high time considering the sickness that has been there and which they are having so hard a time to break entirely up.

Lumbermen of this section have been notified by the S. P. Co. to not ship any more lumber to San Francisco until the present blockade of lumber there is broken. There are about 2500 cars of lumber in the yards there now.

G. W. Peek, the well known San Francisco lumber dealer, is in this section again on business. Mr. Peek has contracted for sawmill men here and at Cottage Grove for 25,000,000 feet of lumber, for shipment to various markets. Don't sell your lumber or timber until you see him.—Drain Nonpareil.

A sweet breath adds to the joys of a kiss. You wouldn't want to kiss your wife, mother or sweetheart with a bad breath. You can't have a healthy stomach without perfect digestion. There is only one remedy that digests what you eat and makes the breath as sweet as a rose—and that remedy is Kodol for dyspepsia. It is a relief for four stomach, palpitation of the heart, and other ailments arising from disorder of the stomach and digestion. Take a little Kodol after your meals and see what it will do for you. Sold by Benson Pharmacy.

S. V. Allison and wife were visitors in Albany the first of this week and enjoyed their visit very much. Mr. Allison remarked that he thought the business blocks in Albany were very poor, but that the residences were very fine. He greatly enjoyed the many new modern homes, and the good cement sidewalks and parking. He said that Eugene was far ahead when it came to business blocks out that Albany had them beat to death when it came to residences and streets.

Elsie Brewer had a bad accident Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Brewer and the children went visiting at Gowdville and coming home brought Jean Dordard with them. As they were passing G. O. McGilvray's place and turning out to pass a team the horse quickened his step suddenly and the back seat fell out in which Elsie and Jean were sitting, throwing them to the ground very heavily. Elsie was quite badly bruised and is confined to her bed, but it is not thought her injuries are serious. Jean escaped with a few slight bruises.

An Appreciation.

The World's Work of New York, in an admirable editorial, says that "even with earthquakes, California is one of the most attractive parts of the world, and has more advantages than any other state in the Union. And San Francisco was and always will be the metropolis, the counting house, the gateway of this land. Nothing less than the destruction of the Golden Gate could change its destiny. It has, perhaps, the most attractive site on either ocean, or between them. It will be rebuilt better than it was and safer and worthier of its bills and harbors. And such a spectacle as the rising San Francisco will present for a year or two was perhaps never seen in the building of any city."

The rebuilding of Chicago, the editor thinks, "was less dramatic, commerce and finance were not so well organized, and the courage and energy of Chicago were hardly a match for the bounding enthusiasm of the Californians. There was never among men such a spirit of self-confidence, such local pride, such an organized certainty of a great destiny, such a community of purpose." And the conclusion is that "this port of a great trade in the future will now appeal to the imagination even more strongly than before and will become one of the great as well as one of the fascinating cities of the world."

San Francisco the Imperishable.

The Southern Pacific Passenger Department has issued during the past week a new and enlarged 50,000 edition of its pamphlet, "San Francisco the Imperishable," for general distribution throughout the country. It tells of the courage, hope and confidence of the people of San Francisco since the disaster, and emphasizes the fact that the destruction of the city was due to fire and not to earthquake.

The folder has a number of half-tone photographs.

The first shows the business section of the city after the quake, but before the fire had attacked the main portion of it. This demonstrates the slight damage done by earthquake.

Another shows the great water front of San Francisco, the miles of piers, with the Ferry building in the foreground, all intact.

The map of the city shows the area of San Francisco, and defines in black the burned section.

If you are interested send 4 cents to the Passenger Department, Southern Pacific Company, Union Ferry Building, San Francisco, for postage, and a copy will be gladly mailed you. It will be worth your while.

Reduced Round Trip Excursion Rates.

Round trip passenger rates Chicago to Portland and return, via direct line will be $75.00 and from Missouri River points $60.00.

These tickets will be on sale daily commencing June 1st and continuing until Sept. 15th with final return limit of October 31st.

Jack Richards came in from the mines on Tuesday to make a visit with his wife, after several months work in the hills.

F. M. Ernest returned from his vacation at Hillsboro on Sunday and is hard at work again at the City Meat market.

Fred Thomas was in town from the logging camp on Thursday and says the greatest trouble of all is to get donkeys and men.

Mrs. Fannie Howard of Junction and John T. Kirk of Heppner, sister and brother of Mrs. Ira Conner visited here over Sunday.

James Stewart, father of C. E. Stewart is in town from his Medford home on business, and is looking after his property interests here.

Clyde Nokes has gone to Portland to accept a fine position in the head office of the Wells Fargo & Co., which has been won by his good work in the office here.

Mr. Russell, father of Fred Russell president of the Chambers Lumber Co., passed through the Grove on his way home after a visit at his son's summer camp above Dorena.

J. W. Simmons, state deputy head consul of the Modern Woodmen of America came in on the afternoon train Thursday. He was the head speaker for the annual celebration at Lorane Friday.

Dr. Hockett was in town for a time Wednesday. He says that his camp out a little distance from Yoncalla is the best ever. He is much pleased with his investment in the drug store at Yoncalla and thinks it will prove to be a paying investment.

Ernest Gill, a son of Tom Gill arrived Friday from Stitsville, Michigan where he has been living with his grandparents. Tom had not seen the boy for ten years until he arrived and was rejoiced to find him the boy he is. He will assist his father in his confectionery and book store.

Manager Herbert Leigh, President L. N. Rooney, Geo. Mitchell and A. F. Walker of Eugene, with Geo. McQueen of the Grove of the North Fairview mine went up to the mine on Friday on a trip of inspection of that property and to form plans for further work. They returned on Monday and report that they were much pleased with the work done.

Miss Inez Casebeer, whose home is on the McKenzie and who has been teaching for some time past in the country about fourteen miles from Junction was a visitor in the Grove this week on her way to Silk Creek to visit her brother Phillip Casebeer. Miss Casebeer called at the Leader office to arrange for some neat little remembrances for her pupils, which they ought to prize, especially as each memento carries in it a picture of their teacher and friend.

R. M. Burton, vice-president and General Manager of the Hellack Lumber and Supply Co. of Denver, with yards in a half a dozen towns of Colorado, was a visitor in town this week, stopping at the Graham. Mr. Burton is an old friend of F. J. Hard's and had a pleasant chat over Denver. Mr. Burton is after Lumber, for the great building operations there, but he finds difficulty in getting hold of enough to supply his demands. Mr. Burton says he thinks it is best for any Colorado family to get to the sea.

Charley Conner and Miss Alice Huff Take Solemn Vow.

Sunday afternoon, July 15, 1906, at 4 o'clock, the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Huff, just south of Cottage Grove, was the scene of a pretty wedding, the contracting parties being Miss Alice, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Huff, and Chas. C. Conner, Rev. Henry S. Chamble, pastor of the Santa Clara Christian Church at Eugene, being the officiating clergyman.

The parlors of the Huff home were prettily decorated with evergreens and ferns for the occasion and the brief but impressive ceremony was witnessed by quite a number of relatives and a few intimate friends of the bridal party. Mr. Bert E. Burrows acted in the capacity of best man, while Miss Kate A. Finnerty attended the bride, who was attired in cream silk.

The bridal party was ushered into the presence of the guests by the soft strains of a pretty wedding march played by Mrs. E. C. Conner, and at the conclusion of the ceremony hearty congratulations were showered upon the happy couple, after which the bridal party and guests were led to the dining room where a luxurious wedding dinner awaited them.

The bride is a very charming and winsome young lady and was a member of the high school graduating class which was awarded diplomas at the close of the recent school year. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Conner and was born and reared to manhood at this place. He is a very energetic genial and prosperous young man and both he and his fair bride are very highly esteemed in this community. They will soon accompany the bride's father to Silver Lake to spend the summer looking after Mr. Huff's extensive hay and stock interests there.

Following is a list of the guests and the many nice presents received:

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Conner, golden oak stand; Mr. W. P. Huff, mile row; Mrs. L. A. Huff, table linen and napkins; Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Huff, water set; Jas. Huff, decorated lamp; Miss Zelma Wedderheine, Salem, battenburg doiley; Mrs. Hartung, cake plate; Mrs. Bob Hanna, terry bowl; Mrs. E. K. Turpin, crystal vase; Ernest Sears, large decorated vase; Bert E. Burrows and Kate A. Finnerty, china tea pot and syrup pitcher; Lester and Winifred Turpin, china creamer; Ira K. Conner, decorated water set; Horace Conner and Ernest Sears, china dinner set and "notions and novelties"; Miss Mabel Petrie, decorated china cake plate; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Conner, hand painted parlor lamp; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Conner, oak rocker; Annie, Sylvia and Ollie Johnson, family record; Mrs. N. J. Huff, silver sugar shell; Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Luckey, cut glass berry bowl and silver berry ladle.

New Era For the Willamette.

For half a century half of the Willamette valley has been in wheat fields and almost half has remained uncleared in woodland. The farmers have been wheat farmers. Their farms have averaged 225 acres in size and (according to government reports) less than half has been in cultivation at one time. But a new era has come. The farmers are ceasing to grow wheat. Intensive cultivation is slowly but surely succeeding the grain era. No section of America is better adapted to dairying, none better to small fruits and vegetables, and none better to several kinds of tree fruits—pears, apple, cherries, and (it is being demonstrated) to English walnuts. With the possible proper intensive cultivation the rich Willamette valley will support a population of three-quarters of a million people.—Donald Macdonald in Sunset Magazine for June-July.

Much Money Distributed Among Albany People.

The Deschutes Lumber Co. by its agent, J. E. Ryan, last evening and today has delivered forty or fifty checks for the Klamath timber claims sold by Albany people and will continue to do so until the claims are all taken of those who have agreed to sell, about 130 in all which will put in circulation about $200,000 in and around Albany. Each check is for $1517.50, being $1600 less 5 percent commission and $2.50 for the abstracts. The deal will mean a good deal for Albany with its $100,000 to $200,000 turned loose in the commerce of the city.—Democrat.

North Fairview Mill Through Crystal.

Herbert Leigh, manager of the North Fairview property, left for Eugene on Wednesday after an inspection of the property with the president of the company and a number of other prominent stockholders, and in an interview stated that they were much pleased with the showing of the property, and that the trip had been made to arrange for the handling of North Fairview ores during the summer through the Crystal mill, and that arrangements had just been completed, so that within a short time the work of milling their ores would be commenced.

The Crystal people hope to be able to operate their mill during a portion of the summer.
