Some Men and Women of the Hour

Chief Kohler.

THE trial of the Hains Brothers
at Finch-ing, N. Y., for the slaying of William E. Annis at the Bayside Yacht club last summer is a proceeding that naturally excites more than local interest ca account of the presence of the families concerned and the sensational character of the tragedy. Military society and literary circles are especially absorbed in the outcome of the trial, for the name of Hains has been an honored one in the army and a noted one in literature, while in leading social circles in Washington, Boston and New York the families now enjoying so much undesirable publicity were formerly conspicuous.

The distinction of presiding at this trial—one bound to become celebrated in legal annals—belongs to one of the younger judges of the supreme bench of the state of New York, Frederick E. Crane of the borough of Brooklyn.
On the opening morning of the trial when the court attendants rapped for order the standing audience saw Judge Crane advance in his black robe, very fair in complexion, clean shaven, youthful looking and indicating by every action that he was brimful of energy. The lawyers had already learned that he did not purpose tolerating any delay that could possibly be avoided. He had informed them that he would hold night sessions, and from the outset he expedited the preliminaries.

Judge Crane is a graduate of the Adelphi academy and the Columbia Law school and before elevation to the bench was counsel in many noted civil and criminal suits.

Joseph Pulitzer, who is accused by President Roosevelt of libeling the United States government through publications in his newspaper, the New York World, celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his connection with the World only a few weeks ago.
As the president's recent special message to congress was devoted chiefly to the alleged offenses of the World in connection with the charges of sendality in the negotiations associated with the purchase of the Panama canal, the personality of Mr. Pulitzer is trist in the foreground. It is an unusual thing for a private citizen to be mentioned specifically and singled out for criticism and denunciation as the proprietor of the World was in this message. Mr. Roosevelt's action was based on his belief that the circumstances of this case justified a departure from precedents.

Mr. Pulitzer was born in Budapest, Hungary, in 1847 and, coming to this country in 1864, entered the army and served until the end of the civil war in a cavalry regiment. Taking up his residence in St. Louis at the close of the war, he joined the Westliche Post, German, as reporter, rising to the managing editorship. In 1878 he bought the St. Louis Dispatch for a price said to have been $500, "and expensive at that." He suited it with the St. Louis Post, and by application of his ideas he turned the Post-Dispatch into one of the best paying and strongest papers in Missouri. In 1883 he bought the New York World and anything to do with the transactions regarding the sale of the canal property to the United States. He is connected with banking and railway enterprises in New York and is at present connected with Adrian H. Jolne of the Metropolitan Street Railway company. He is a brother of the present Mrs. Roosevelt and is reputed a man of considerable wealth.

Much general interest attaches to the investigation of methods of finance in Wall street which is to be made by a commission recently appointed by Governor Hughes of New York. The commission is charged to report if any changes are desirable in the laws bearing upon speculation in securities and commodities or relating to the protection of investors. At the head of the commission is the noted author and editor Horace White.

Mr. White was born in Colebrook, N. H., Aug. 10, 1834, and was graduated from Beloit college, Wisconsin, in 1857. He early went into newspaper work, becoming city editor of the Chicago Evening Journal in 1854 and Chicago agent of the New York Associated Press in 1855.

In 1857 Mr. White joined the Chicago Tribune in a position which brought him frequently into relations with Abraham Lincoln. He reported the entire series of Lincoln and Douglas debates for the Tribune and in 1860 was secretary of the Illinois Republican state committee during the presidential campaign. During the civil war he spent four years in Washington and with others formed the first syndicate of newspapers in this country for the reception of a joint news service from the front. From 1865 to 1874 he was chief editor of the Chicago Tribune, resigning because of ill health.
He joined the New York Evening Post in its reorganization by Mr. Villard in 1881. He has for years been known as one of the greatest financial authorities in the United States and is the author of a half dozen scholarly works.

Frederick Kohler, chief of police in the city of Cleveland, O., is the best chief of police in America, in the opinion of President Roosevelt. That crime in the cities can be reduced to a minimum, if not actually checked, by the simple observance of the Golden Rule Chief Kohler thinks he has proved.
A year's trial of this policy in Cleveland has convinced him of it, and now other cities are preparing to follow the example of Cleveland in instituting the Golden Rule policy. It is only a question of time, his advocates say, until it will be adopted everywhere throughout the United States.
Chief Kohler was the first man to em-

Just as Good.
"I wish that I knew how to make money."
"I can't say that I am with you there."
"Why?"
"I know something less strenuous."
"What is it?"
"How to get next to the man who makes money."

Matrimonial.
"He has a darksome past."
"Yes."
"And a dreary present."
"Yes."
"And a doubtful future."
"Say, is he just an ordinary count or a prince of the blood?"

To Make Home Happy.
"Hurrah! I have found a new field."
"What is it?"
"Inventing stories for a man to tell his wife when he gets home. It is because of the clumsy ones now in use that so many families are disrupted."

NATURE'S WARNING

Cottage Grove People Must Recognize and Heed It.

Kidney ills come quietly—mysteriously.
But nature always warns you.
Notice the kidney secretions.
See if the color is unhealthy—If there are settlements and sediment.
Passages frequent, scanty, painful.
It's time then to use Doan's kidney pills.
To ward off Bright's disease or diabetes.
Doan's have done great work in Cottage Grove.

Mrs. Ella Bishop of Cottage Grove, Oregon, says: "I suffered for a long time from an irregularity of my kidneys, accompanied by an intense weakness and pains in my back, Headaches and dizzy spells frequently annoyed me and my general health was much run down. I was feeling very much discouraged when Doan's kidney pills were brought to my attention. They were so highly recommended that I decided to give them a trial and procured a box at Benson's pharmacy. They lived up to representation and in a short time gave me relief. I steadily improved and almost before I realized it, I was enjoying excellent health."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Southern California. This is one of nature's hap-not endure a more rigid or severe climate. Califor-as those of all well regulated cities. Visitors can always find suitable accommodations, congenial companions, and varied, pleasing recreations.
