SATURDAY.....OCTOBER 27, 1906

A WRONG IMPRESSION.

In this week's Nugget there was an article to which some gentlemen took exception, taking the remarks as a personal affront. Anyone carefully reading same will see at once that the article was not intended to be personal, we do not presume to say nor think that the gentlemen were attempting to take the part of Minard, they were defending the cause of the integrity of court procedure, irrespective of who might be tried, and we think most people agree with us in that respect, but we disagree with them as to the wisdom of such statements.

Some persons who have read the article have gone to such parties and not having thought the article over, have been not only unjust to the gentlemen in conversation but in commercial dealings. We have said to these men, the article was not personal at all, nor intended to be so, and we trust that any persons who are consequently unjust to the gentlemen, will be as ready to correct such a wrong impression as we are.

We all have different views on most matters or we could never get along nor improve.

A WARNING, BOYS.

The doctors, when they operated on Doyle, the man whose legs were cut off by the train, said: "The only thing that saved his life, was his perfect constitution, unimpaired by smoking or drinking or excesses, no smoker or drinker would have lived through such an operation."

Such a fact ought to be a warning to any one. Smoking a little, or drinking a little may not be a great injury at most times, but in critical case, it is fatal.

Silk Creek.

Neal McCoy visited Hiram Wheeler Wednesday evening.

Almon and Lloyd Owens, Edward and Clyde Babcock and Oscar Wheeler spent Saturday evening in town.

Mrs. Elith Goodrich and children are settled on what is known as the Elliott place.

Iris McCoy visited Lena Burdham Wednesday evening.

Roscoe Foster and cousin Amy Owens, Frank Roy, Albert Wheeler and Prof. Paap were guests at the home of W N Wheeler Saturday evening.

Mr. Parmel has Clyde Babcock working for him this week on his new house.

Mrs. A. D. Owens and Mrs. Smith drove to Cottage Grove Monday afternoon.

Mrs. S. F. Wheeler who has been visiting her daughter Mrs. I. H. Veatch of Cottage Grove the past few weeks returned home the last of the week.

Mrs. Thos. Richardson has been spending a few days at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Davidson of Saginaw.

Baby Protzman Dies.

Martha Florence Protzman, the baby girl of J. B. Protzman and wife died Wednesday, aged seven weeks and one day. She has been seriously sick almost the entire time. Her mother lies on her sick bed and bravely bears the loss of her youngest boy and her baby girl and strives to recover herself. Mr. Protzman reports her better and says he hopes she will keep getting better.

Tonight.

Sunshine Follows Rain

While many hearts were made sad by the announcement of Miss Mamie Kime's coming departure for other parts, they were again made glad, when her many friends gathered at her home Saturday evening in happy harmony to wish her God's speed. The evening was passed as youth only can appreciate.

First on the program came music, games and many other amusements too numerous to mention. Last but not least a beautiful supper in all its splendor, that Miss Mamie had very skillfully prepared with her lavish hands to which one and all did ample justice to. Miss Mamie goes to Humboldt and Eureka to spend the winter amongst relatives and attend school. Being of a happy warm hearted disposition she made many friends during her few years in our midst. Many were the tokens of love she received. All the guests present joyfully await her return in the happy summer time.

The Need of Day Nurseries.

In an article on day nurseries in The New Idea Woman's Magazine for November it is asserted that—"The cities of the poor are not yet nearly overtaken by the day nursery movement, although two years ago it was stated that 11,000 children were taken care of daily in the nurseries (approximately 300) throughout the country. There is a 'day nursery may' of New York, for instance showing long, aching gaps unmarked by the little red crosses which show where a baby may be left with a tender-hearted while its plebeian mother turns out a day's washing or scrubbing to earn her bread. From districts like these the mothers must often travel long distances on foot or by car, before they go to their day's work, to leave the baby in charge. Then too, hardships as it may be, many nurseries are forced to close during the summer for lack of funds and workers. These are problems which only time and the awakening of the spirit of citizenship throughout the country can solve." As a charity, day nurseries appear to occupy a valuable place, being both educational and philanthropic, and the article in question declares: "Of all the points of contact established between the submerged classes and those of society who are comfortably afloat, none seems to be sounder in principle or to go more to the root of things than the day nursery. While insisting that homes, as the basis of society, must be kept together, it recognizes that mothers without support must not be pauperized by charity, and must therefore give up to work the time that more unfortunate mothers may spend in caring for their children; and in the dilemma between preserving the home and pauperizing the mother, the nursery steps in to care for the children during working hours. A small fee is charged to maintain the self-respect of the mother."

Farmers and Miners Line Almost Finished.

The first message over the new line of the Farmers and Miners Telephone line from Bohemia was a message from F. J. Hard at the Vesuvius mine to his wife in Eugene.

The line will be finished to the Bohemia post office as quickly as possible and the connections made for the mining men in camp so that they may have the advantages of the lines this winter.

Amendment Carried.

The election held Saturday to vote on an amendment to the City Charter giving the city the right to vote whether the town should be "wet" or "dry" irrespective of county or state, resulted in the amendment being carried by a majority of three (3) votes, the vote being as follows:

Wards For Agnst. Mj. For Mj. Agnst
1st	26 46 20
2nd	25 21 4
3rd	42 33 19
	113 110 23 20

The total vote being 223 was far short of the average vote.

More Divorce Cases From Cottage Grove.

F. G. Lewis of Cottage Grove has begun suit in the circuit court against his wife, Delia B. Lewis, for divorce. They were married at Lewisville, Polk county, Or., July 15, 1868, and have two minor children, Alvin and Elvin twins, aged 16 years. Lewis alleges that on March 1, 1899 his wife refused to cohabit or associate with him and has since continually refused to do so, that she has made a studied effort to vex and annoy him and that she has been cruel and inhuman in various other ways. Medley & Johnson are Lewis' attorneys.

FINNEY VS. FINNEY.

Another divorce case from Cottage Grove is that of Emily L. Finney vs. Franklin L. Finney. They were married in Douglas county January 1, 1900, and have two children, a boy aged five years and a girl two years. Mrs. Finney alleges cruel and inhuman treatment. Among various acts of cruelty alleged she says her husband, when she was ill and had been advised by her physician not to work, insisted upon and compelled her to labor at the peril of her life; that while she was sick in bed her husband forced her to arise and dress herself and pulled her by the arm into the kitchen, where she was compelled to cook. Mrs. Finney asks for the care and custody of the children. Jerome Knox is her attorney.—Tuesday's Guard.
