SATURDAY.....NOVEMBER 17, 1906

Now is the time to buy seeds for next spring. Our readers will do well to study the advertisement of the Chas. H. Lilly Co. in this issue. This company has built up the largest seed business on the Pacific Coast. It has a mill and warehouse on the water front in Seattle and it owns experiment gardens at Brighton Beach, south of Seattle. It also has a warehouse and store in Portland and San Francisco. The Portland warehouse is located on the water front at Taylor street. This concern does a carload of business in seeds, single customers occasionally buying in lots of from live to two carloads.

Its mail order business has been built up to immense size, requiring services of over thirty clerks for the filling of orders. The advertising of the Lilly Co. has the reputation of being thoroughly reliable. Our readers will do well to read the Chas. H. Lilly Company's ads, which will appear from time to time in this paper.

Eldon Hambrick

Gone to his home beyond the grave. Eldon Hambrick departed this life on Thursday, Nov. 8, 1906, at the home of his brother-in-law, E. W. Biseel in Ashland, Oregon, after an illness of 19 days, hemorrhage being the immediate cause resulting from a severe attack of typhoid fever. Eldon Hambrick was born at Blackbutte, Lane county, Oregon, in 1883 on April 13th, having resided in Lane county, Oregon, except a few short trips to other points of the state being at Ashland with his youngest sister, Mrs. Edna Biseel, during his sickness. He was employed by the railroad company south of Ashland. Eldon was not physically very stout, yet in a general way he enjoyed good health. He had been feeling badly for three weeks previous to his sickness but kept to his work until forced to quit and the railroad doctor residing at Ashland being among the best physicians in the state, Eldon enjoyed the very best possible attention having after a few days of sickness the tender nursing of his mother and a few days later the assistance of his father, mother and sister with the best medical skill obtainable but the malignant form of the fever was too much for him and he had to go, but long before his death his mother was talking to him and he informed her that he would soon take a long sleep, perhaps cognizance of approaching death.

Personally Boss as we familiarly called him was a kind hearted young man of few words, very studious, had a good education having completed the eleventh grade and was in the graduating class under Prof. Briggs, when he left school a short time before graduating. With sad hearts we said him to rest beside his little brother Herby, who preceded him 13 years to the land beyond the grave. The funeral was well attended being among the largest ever witnessed at the Taylor graveyard. The profusion of flowers that decorated his grave was a fitting memorial to his many virtues, in sympathy and love to his parents and brother and sisters.

Fraternally,

JOHN SUTHERLAND.

Hard Days on the Meat Man.

The warm damp weather of the last few days has been exceedingly trying on the meat man, as meat won't keep well at all, and it takes more ice to keep it now than during the most of the hot summer days. Generally at this season of the year ice can almost be dispensed with, but now it must be used, and the butchers are having hard lines,

Greatest of Expositions.

Of all exhibitions held in the United States since the Philadelphia Centennial in 1876, the Jamestown Ter-Centennial to be held on the shores and waters of Hampton Roads, near the cities of Norfolk, Portsmouth and Newport News, Va., April 26 to November 30, 1907 is to be the most unique, and in originality and novelty will completely eclipse all previous expositions.

The celebration commemorates the most important event in history—the founding of the first English speaking settlement in America, at Jamestown, Va., in 1607, where Captain John Smith and a small party of colonists established a village from which has grown America, with nearly one hundred million population. The celebration will show the remarkable position attained by the United States in history and commercial expansion during three hundred years. Contemporaneous with the exposition will be held on the waters of Hampton Roads the greatest naval pageant ever witnessed in the world, in which every type of war vessel from the novices of all foreign nations will participate. Another attractive feature will be the international military encampment in which detachments of troops of European countries will unite with the soldiers of the United States in a series of drills, maneuvers, parades, etc.

The site of the Exposition is located within twenty minutes' ride of the Tidewater cities of Virginia, reached either by trolley or steamer, and nature has combined with the ingenuity of man in making a beautiful and picturesque spot. The grounds cover more than 400 acres, with two miles of water front facing the greatest waterway in the world, and commands an unsurpassed view of innumerable points of national and historic interest.

The scheme of landscape decoration will be novel and elaborate, one of the attractive features being the floral fences which surround the ground. It is made of trumpet vines, trained on meshed wire, intertwined with honeysuckle and crimson rambler roses, the effect being an artistic triumph of flowering beauty.

More than twenty-five exhibit palaces are now nearing completion comprising auditoriums, manufacture and liberal arts, mines and metallurgy, marine appliances, machinery, food products, arts and crafts, transportation, social economy, etc., in addition to the government and state buildings and pavilions. They will be of semi-permanent construction and in appointments will excel any similar group of buildings ever erected. In architecture they will all be of the colonial period, forming an appropriate setting to the natural beauties of the environment.

Another attractive feature will be the government pleasure pier extending 2,000 feet into Hampton Roads. At either end it will be surmounted with light towers and a working exhibit of wireless telegraphy. The entire structure will be illuminated by thousands of arc and incandescent electric lights, affording an unexcelled view of the naval display. Amusements have not been lost sight of, and the "Warpath," covering more than a mile, will offer a diversified class of original novelties.

In assembling the exhibits, especially those representing the varied industries and the liberal arts the managers of the Exposition have been careful to select only such as show the latest and best attainments in every line of industry. Hence, it will be the first "selective" Exposition ever held in the United States, in which every phase of commercial and industrial development will be displayed so arranged and classified that visitors may obtain an intelligent understanding of the history and growth of any specific branch of the trades and industries, without the necessity of visiting other buildings to inspect another part of the same exhibit.

Many reasons combine to make the celebration the most successful ever attempted and when President Roosevelt touches an electric button April 26, of next year, signifying the formal opening of the gates, the thousands of visitors will not be disappointed in the wonders and attractions of the Jamestown Ter-Centennial.

C. L. STRANGE, Supt.
The present attendance in the High School is 50, which is larger than ever before in the schools.

Woodmen are Prosperous.

Clerk VanDenberg states that the Woodmen of the World are prospering more than unusually well. New members are being taken in constantly, and each member takes a great interest in his work. A telephone has been put in the rooms for the convenience of the members.

The whole hall has been thoroughly refinished, repapered and cleaned. The banquet room and tables have been overhauled, and made ready for any occasion. The hall is used every night in the week, and two church societies, the Episcopal Church and the German Lutherans use the hall for their meetings Sundays. Clerk VanDenberg is greatly pleased over the flourishing condition of the lodge and predicts for it a still larger membership.

Injured Alike Within 10 Minutes.

Two men working in the woods for the Booth-Kelley Co. near Sagiaw were quite badly hurt Saturday morning about 11 o'clock, within ten minutes of one another both being injured over the right temple, one by an ax, the other by a block.

Frank Holland was struck by a 60-pound block falling upon him, badly cutting his head. Within ten minutes C. Reeves, working in the same place in striking with his ax, caught the ax on a limb, and it glanced, and caught him in about the same position, as his comrade. Both men came to town where their injuries were dressed by Dr. Kime in his newly equipped operating room.

To the Public.

Representatives of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Company have started a house to house canvass among the farmers of this county, offering them an extremely low rental rate for instruments to be used in connection with the Central offices of the Company throughout the country.

For eight and one-third cents a month the subscriber is given free switching with all other subscribers connecting with his Central exchange. Under this rate it would appear that no rural resident need be without a telephone and its attendant advantages especially as every assurance is given of prompt and efficient service.

Mr. L. P. Bennett is in charge of the canvass in this county and he states he may be seen at the Central offices of the company in Eugene, or will visit any community or organization of farmers interested in Telephone matters.
