SATURDAY.....DECEMBER 29, 1906

The papers all through the valley are claiming that more cars have been furnished recently than before. If so, good for the S. P. and help them to keep the pace up.

So Say We.

It will pay to pass up, like a white chip, the non-taxpaying agitator and breeder of local dissension for he is the real source of danger to any community, talk being his chief stock in trade.
It would be well for the conservative, level headed citizens, the voters and taxpayers who bear the burden of city government, to take a more active part in municipal affairs for the common good of all—not only by going to the polls and voting representative men for mayor and council, but in exerting their influence in behalf of the right kind of men for these places of responsibility and trust.—Register.

Third Term for Roosevelt.

Republican politicians are puzzled about the Roosevelt Third Term National League, which has opened headquarters in the Tribune Building. Edward A. Horner, formerly of Colorado, is the president of the league, and to-day promulgated an address declaring that President Roosevelt is the people's choice, irrespective of party, and demanding his nomination in 1908.

"We intend to have a member in every county of every state in the Union," said Mr. Horner. "The state chairmen will be sounded on the matter and their co-operation will be sought, but this is a people's movement, not a politician's movement. It is true the President has said he would not run again, but we take the position that if the people need him and insist that he serve another term he cannot refuse."

Episcopal Service

Washington Notes

sonal comfort is essential to maintain that esprit de corps of the personnel necessary to perfect discipline. It is anticipated that there will be a decided falling off in the number of desertions, and the disagreeable feature of allowing certain men to get out if they could command the influence necessary will be entirely remedied.

GOVERNMENTAL SUPPLIES.

One of the most important changes in departmental matters is a centralization of the purchase of miscellaneous supplies. At present the different branches of the service purchase their supplies independently of each other, and the result is amusing to say the least. One branch of the government service will pay double the price for ink, say, and the other branch will get their coal for 50 cents a ton less, and probably both are supplied by the same contractor. The existence of a discount for cash on list prices does not appear to enter into the matter, although the discount may enter a big-bug's pocket. Who knows? If a government employee purchases something for the government and does not get the discounts allowed to the commercial world he is a fool, and if he gets the discounts and puts them in his pocket he is a criminal, and in either event should be thrown on the cold, cold world. The proposition of the commission appointed by the president to look into the matter recommended a purchasing board composed of an expert from each department or bureau, and there is reason to hope that it will be carried out.

But "rake-offs" reminds one of the $100 a month allowed for clerk hire to members of congress. If they can get along with a member of the family they are that much ahead, and as a good man can be obtained for $60 or $75 a month there is "something left." The city is full of young men and women out of high school with nothing to do, and besides there is the prospect that if the congressmen or senator takes a liking to them they have a chance to get "something good." In contradiction, is the action of some of the millionaire members, who turn over their monthly check as compensation to their secretaries and clerks.

By the way, are you on the mail list of the Daily Consular and trade reports, issued by the Bureau of Manufactures, Department of Commerce and Labor? This little daily contains the wheat of the grain threshed over by the consuls of the United States throughout the world, and every imaginable subject is covered. For instance, Consul General Guenther tells in a recent issue of a simple Russian method to clean and renew furs; "Bran of rye is heated as hot as the hand can stand, stirring constantly. It is then poured upon the furs and thoroughly rubbed in. The fur is then brushed or pounded until all the particles of bran have been removed. The fur has then regained its former luster, and even white furs thus treated appear like new."

The Consular reports also give reports of an elastic road covering successfully experimented with in Switzerland. The macadam is prepared of gravel of a fineness of from 30 to 50 millimeters in diameter and free from all earthy matter. This gravel is subjected to a coating of liquid tar in a revolving drum. It is next placed in heaps and allowed to remain for eight or ten weeks, a fermentation taking place which penetrates the pores of the gravel and in this way lessens the formation of dust. In covering the road with this material the utmost care must be observed and dry weather awaited. Forty-four pounds of tar are sufficient for twenty-eight bushels of dry gravel. This macadam is said to stand the test of a twenty-ton load drawn by six horses.

Another free circular which should have a more general distribution is the monthly list of publications of the Department of Agriculture. It lists the publications, gives their nature, price if not free, and designates where they may be obtained. Many of the important bulletins of the scientific bureaus of the government sell for five to ten cents, while the more pretentious cloth-bound volumes seldom are priced at over 50 cents each. Of course the government printing office turns out some editions de luxe, the colored illustrations bringing the price up to even $20 per volume, but the great mass of the work is for the general reader and priced accordingly.

which is light, pliable, durable, convenient, and safe, and which is revolutionizing the art of shaving.
A RAZOR GIVEN FREE TO THE PURCHASER OF EACH STROP
CALL TODAY AS THEY ARE GOING FAST. Offer of a most excellent razor, one with a $2.00 retail, to a point all with the marvelous and instantaneous honing and finishing properties of the Radiumite Strop, will not have the finest and most delicate razor. They make shaving a convenience and a delight, even to men having the hardest beards.
The secret of a quick, clean shave does not lie so much in a good razor as in a good strop. With the RADIUMITE STROP the most inferior razors are brought up to a fine edge, and the effect of the strop upon the beard makes it keep them still longer in the best possible condition, ready to shave the longest beards easily and delightfully. Each Radiumite Strop is sold under the positive guarantee that if it is not satisfactory money will be refunded. They are for either Ordinary or Safety Razors.
Radiumite Strops, 50c to $2.50; Razors, $1 to $3
DANGER LURKS IN THE USE OF ANY STROP BUT A RADIUMITE!
Radiumite Strops, unlike all other stropping devices, are made from the use of perfectly stripped strops that cut, irritate and open the skin, thus admitting the terrible bacilli that lurk in the animal parts of shaving soaps, hair shaving brushes, and in the air itself.
THE ONLY PERFECT STROP IS THE RADIUMITE
Don't use the worthless, heavy, double, common cow strops generally sold, and with which fine dealers out of town will try to sell you. They are so much old junk, pure and simple. The word Radiumite stands for perfection in razor strop making. Buy a Radiumite strop and take no substitute—no matter how handsome it may appear. Danger lurks in the use of any strop but a Radiumite.
