COTTAGE GROVE LEADER

VOL. XVIII

COTTAGE GROVE, OREGON, SATURDAY, JANUARY 12, 1907.

NO. 39

Some of the Cottage Grove Street Scenes taken just after the Flood.

Business Notes.

Metcalf & Brund has experienced at least a 25 per cent increase in business in the past year. Their window display is a very creditable one.

Veatch & Lawson have one of the prettiest windows in town. A hand-window in Oregon will be seen at Wynne Hardware company's. C. C. Hazleton constructed an engine of no mean proportions from such material as he found in the store. The body of the engine is made of an oil stove pipe. The cab and tank of cooking materials and the wheels of stove brackets. At first tographer, will celebrate his first business anniversary in Cottage Grove on Jan. 15th. He is well pleased with the years business.

H. Holmden, who recently came here from Michigan and started a candy kitchen is well pleased both with the country and his business outlook.

Wheeler Co's window look good this cold weather. This store is really a credit to the town and compares favorably with stores of the same kind in some cities.

Curran & Veatch tells us that they not only experienced an increase in business during the last year but that the credit business

This firm reports a handsome increase in business for the past year.

The bank deposits of Cottage Grove show a very healthy state of affairs. The First National bank books show that the deposits in that institution was nearly doubled during the year past as compared with 1905. The bank of Cottage Grove has not been in existence long enough to make a comparison.

MAN KILLED IN WRECK NOT A HOBBO

John M. Forest. Resided at Turner. Had Bought Ticket but Was Riding in Engine.

Dr. E. J. Thompson returned this noon from Turner, where yesterday he preached the funeral sermon over the body of John M. Forest, who was killed in the wreck at some art square for the window carpet and artistically displayed on it will be seen desks, a side board, hall piece and other furniture of a high grade.

W. C. Johnson, who bought out Mr. Morss has a neat store and is well pleased with his business outlook.

Perhaps the most mechanical glance it looks like an ordinary toy engine of large proportions.

W. A. Hemenway, who runs the store on the other side of the river has one of the neatest, best arranged stores in town. Although he has been here but six months he has a good and growing trade.

Y. S. Gourley, our popular pho-

Pierce Bros. are displaying a nice line of shoes and slippers in one window and a nicely arranged assortment of groceries in another.

J. B. Lewis, who has a select stock of general merchandise has experienced a 25 per cent increase in business over 1905 which is a very satisfactory state of affairs.

The blankets in Thompson & was much less as people seem to have the ready cash with which to buy goods.

Griffin & Veatch Hardware Company's window display tells the story of our logging and lumber industry. Logging and carpenter tools are attractively displayed. In another window is seen a nice line of plumbers supplies, piping etc.

their line. They recently finished a job on the carrying trucks for the Brown Lumber Co. The work done on the lumber company's donkey engine is a demonstration of the ability of this company in their line. We are informed that they are getting good business from outside points, having recently turned out a large job for the Page Lumber company of Drisc.

Geo. Conner, our harness and saddler, has recently enlarged his store building. The new part is fitted up for a work room and has a sky light and large end window which Comstock, says Monday's Albany Democrat. Forest was mentioned in the papers as a hobo, but he was no hobo. He was riding on a ticket as a passenger, and being an old acquaintance of Engineer Weichlin, got on the engine with him for a visit, being with him when the accident occurred. His home was at Salem, though he had formerly resided at Turner.—Guard.

makes a very light work room. His business has increased 40 per cent over the former year.

Under the captain "Shortorder house for the baby" the New Era Drug store has a large display of nursing bottles. I wonder if they had a bunch.

Garman & Hemenway have a very nice window display this week. In one window is a nice line of ladies skirts. We forgot to notice if they were "half off." In another is a pretty line of dress goods and the third contains gent's furnishings.

week, as it is they are badly tied up for want of water power. There is no use of kicking, just get ready for emergency by providing yourself with all kinds of power. The Leader has installed a splendid water motor, also a large gasoline engine and as soon as day service is commenced will put in an electric power, and if any other power companies want a franchise we say let them in, the more the better, and the one that finds out that it pays to try to serve its patrons interest will be wise.

Read the Leader.

Mr. Broom's daughter is much improved from a severe attack of erysipelas.
