Clean up Your Premises.

During the winter months nearly every one is careless about disposing of the rubbish that gathers more or less around their home and in a town the size of Cottage Grove, where there is no regular garbage man, the streets, and alleys in particular, are apt to receive more trash than they do not at other times of the year. To a certain extent it is pardonable, but with the advent of spring every householder should appoint himself a committee of one, to see that his yard and contiguous alley or street is cleaned of all rubbish and put in a condition that would not nauseate a passer-by. The city has also a great responsibility along this line and should see to it that the alleys and other public thoroughfares are cleaned up. A part of the alley lying parallel with the Main street off Third street, we wish to call attention to. In its present state it is a regular germ breeder and should typhoid fever or other sundry disease break out in the neighborhood, it might easily be surmised that it was caused by the filth lying there from which a stench arises on a sunshiny day. It is almost utterly impassable for pedestrians and even horses shed tears when their driver turns them into that route.
