Attention is called to the auction sale of real estate advertised in this issue. The objects of this sale are two fold: First, to sell some property at any price the public is willing to pay for it. Second, to let the great commonwealth of Lane county know it has a seaport through which it may send to market its vast products by water and thereby save to its people enormous sums in transportation. The forests of Lane county contain thirty four thousand million feet of lumber, equal to 42,500,000 transportation tons of freight. A saving of only ten cents per ton would be $4,250,000 in the products of the timber holders of Lane county. It will not be long until our people discover they can save from one to three dollars per ton by sending their lumber to market via Siuslaw Bay. The mills at Florence are demonstrating this fact every day and when the enterprising people of the whole county realize the force of this fact, it will not take the town of Florence long to grow into a city of ten to fifteen thousand population as Aberdeen, Washington has done. Florence now enjoys a rate to San Francisco of only $3.00 to $6.00 per ton, a great handicap in its favor.

It is said that an Albany official while back put a local option detective, with a tramp appearance on to several blind pigs he didn't have in his list, and some think this is a joke. It may not have been so, but it is a story that is going the rounds.—Democrat.

M. E. Church Reception

Wednesday evening the people of the M. E. Church gave their new pastor Rev. Nickle and family a reception, welcoming him into their midst.

The seats were rearranged so as to leave spaces at the East and West ends of the church where prettily decorated booths were placed. The ladies served coffee and cake and coca and cake at each of these. At the north end, opening into the League room, lemonade was served.

After introductions and refreshments, a short but excellent program was rendered.

Mayor J. I. Jones, also Superintendent of the Sunday School, welcomed Rev. Nickle in behalf of the Church and Sunday School. Mr. W. A. Hogate spoke on the subject, "The Needs of the Church." Mrs. Compton spoke for the Missionary Society of the church, Laura Hefty, for the Epworth League, Mrs. J. M. Isham for the Ladies Aid Society, Mrs. F. D. Wheeler spoke on the subject of "Mere Man". Rev. Elkins of the Christian Church extended Rev. Nickle a welcome for all the churches of this city and expressed the good feeling between them and the willingness to co-operate in their work for the same end.

Rev. Nickle replied that he was quite satisfied that his lot had been cast with these people for a time and although he was not a perfect man, he sincerely wished and hoped that the church and all whom he may become connected with, will be benefited by his coming.

The musical numbers were fine and were appreciated. The quartette, Dr. and Mrs. Van Winkle, Miss Beebe and Mr. Isham sang beautifully and the duet sang by Misses Beebe and Anderson and the solo by Mr. J. M. Isham compared equally to the quartette.

Raise in Water Rates.

The committee has also decided to cause the consumer to pay the expense of putting in new taps, which has in the past been paid by the city.

This picture has been running in Portland for two weeks to crowded houses. Mr. Richmond has secured it at a great deal of expense and guarantees it to be one of his best productions.
