Experience desirable but not necessary. Good opportunity for right person. Address Publisher, Box 58, Station G, New York. N&L2t

If all the improvements that are now contemplated are carried out in the spring, Cottage Grove bids fair to have a boom of no ordinary size. It will not be a speculation boom, however, but one forced on the property owners by actual demand for more business houses of modern design, than can be had at present.

Dug Limbaugh and family of Cottage Grove, arrived here last Thursday. Mr. Limbaugh has rented his farm for five years and has come up to this section intending to look the country over, and make his permanent home somewhere in Central Oregon. We extend to Mr. Limbaugh and family a cordial welcome and hope he will find something to his liking here and become one of us.—Silver Lake Leader.

Miss Frances Shortridge of Cottage Grove, was operated upon yesterday by Dr. W. O. Prosser for the removal of her tonsils. The young lady has been in ill health for a long time and has had great difficulty in breathing at night, but last night she slept better than she has for years.—Guard.

Sixth Birthday

Little Miss Hildred Hall entertained six of her little girl friends Wednesday afternoon at the home of her parents, on Third street, from 4 to 6 o'clock, the occasion being the anniversary of her birth. The parlors were turned over to the little ones who enjoyed themselves for a couple of hours to their heart's content, after which a dainty lunch was served. The table was prettily decorated with flowers and fruit, and in the center six little candles burned, representing the age of the little hostess. The time passed pleasantly for the children and some amusing prophecies were made as to what they would do when they became big ladies.

Champion Pheasant Raiser.

Corvallis has the champion Chinese pheasant grower in the United States, Gene Simpson. He has raised to maturity this year, nine hundred birds, and of these he has sold 700, receiving $7.50 a pair, $2625 in all. Besides these he has sold 30 pairs of golden pheasants at $10 a pair. Mr. Chris Vandran, of Albany, is perhaps next to Mr. Simpson.

A RARE TREAT

Those who were fortunate enough to be present at the lecture given by Hon. J. G. Camp, Friday evening at the Christian church speak in the highest terms of this gifted orator, who held his audience almost spell-bound for nearly two hours.

The next will be the Garber-Howe entertainers, who will appear Friday evening Nov. 22nd; they are musicians of a high grade and will give an entertaining program, don't fail to hear them.

Landmark Removed

The wooden fountain built thirteen years ago, on the vacant lot of S. R. Piper on Third and Main streets was removed this week and the lot cleaned up. This is one of the best building lots in the city, and a handsome new brick may be built there in the near future. A first-class location for an Opera House.

Captured All the Prizes.

Mr. F. E. Bright of this city, had a pen of fine Silver Gray Dorkings on exhibition at the Gresham fair last week, which was awarded every prize that was offered for chickens and at the close of the fair disposed of the pen for $35 being $7 a piece for the chickens. Cottage Grove is gaining quite a reputation as being the home of chicken fanciers, Mr. Rosenberg being awarded six prizes at the State Fair on his display of Buff Cochins, and now Mr. Bright gets away with every prize for his Dorkings.

Poultrymen Preparing.

Fine blooded poultry for the coming poultry exhibit in December is beginning to arrive; last Tuesday D. T. Awbrey received "White Messenger" the pride of the D. V. Ault yards at Everett, Washington, a White Minorca Cookerel less than 8 months old which already weighs about 6 pounds, and bids fair to go above the required weight at one year old. Such importations as this and others being made will tell on the future grade of poultry produced in this vicinity.

Coming

The Billy Bennett Repertoire Company will be in Cottage Grove Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 7th 8th and 9th at the Armory hall, opening the first night in the melo-drama "Across the Desert." The company will build their own stage, they carry their own scenery. The company is composed of 25 people and travel in their own private cars. They have a brass band and orchestra. The company is reported first class.

For Job Work; The Leader of Course.

Bohemia Notes

Knowles & Gettys are about to quit Bohemia after their long residence there as General Supply Agents for the district. F. J. Hard has purchased their stock of goods and transferred them to the new store at the Vesuvius.

Mr. A. C. Burnett, one of the principal owners of the Bohemia Gold Mining Company arrived from Boston Monday with Mrs. Burnett. They expected to meet Mr. Lloyd and go at once to visit their property in camp, but owing to some misunderstanding Mr. Lloyd did not get here until later in the week. Mr. and Mrs. Burnett waited at the Hotel Graham several days before getting started for Bohemia.

F. J. Hard has been appointed Post Master at Bohemia, Oregon, and by direction from the department at Washington has moved the office from the former location at the Music mine in Douglas county to the Vesuvius mine in Lane county, which shortens the distance from Cottage Grove about two miles and cuts out carrying the mail over the ridge which had to be done on snow shoes two or three months every winter.

A Mountain Orchard

A few years ago the Bales Bros. purchased some land in the vicinity of Dorena and began to prepare the ground for an orchard. They were generally laughed at and were told that they would have their trouble for their pains, as an orchard could not be a successful venture in the mountain region.

However, they quietly went about their work, set out the trees and attended strictly to the cultivation of them, with the result, that this year they have packed 1200 boxes of as fine apples there is grown, the varieties being the King, Northern Spy and Jonathan, which are selling for $1.25 and $1.50 a box. The entire lot has been bought by Messrs Compton & Wallace and Metcalf & Brund. The Bales Bros. had a few boxes on the market last year, but this year can be said to be the first shipment they have made. This shows what the soil of the mountain region of Lane county will produce when handled by knowledge, backed by pluck and determination.

New Planer

The Cottage Grove Manufacturing Company this week received a large inside moulding planer, and it is being placed in position and made ready for business. The machine is a fine one of the latest improved and the only one of the kind in this part of the state. The company is doing an excellent business, and is one of Cottage Grove's best enterprises.
