To Revise The City Charter.

At a large and well attended meeting of the Commercial Club of this city on Monday evening a committee was appointed for the purpose of revising and bringing up to date the present city charter. The committee appointed consisted of H. O. Thompson, Fingal Hinds and Oliver Veatch.

There have come up several matters which have proven the present charter as deficient, and this committee, working in conjunction with the one to be named by the Merchants' Protective Association, it is hoped will be able to draw up a document which, when presented to the voters of this place for ratification, will meet with the approval of all.

WILL MAKE RETURN VISIT.

The Commercial Club is in correspondence with the Commercial Club of Eugene looking to arranging a date for a return visit of the club from here. The date will probably be about the middle of February and from all that has been said there is no doubt a large crowd will go from here.

LORANE ROAD MATTERS.

The club also discussed the matter of setting a date to meet and entertain a committee of prominent Lorane citizens, in the club rooms here at which time the improvement of the wagon road from this place to Lorane will be thoroughly discussed. It is learned that next Monday night has been set as the date for holding this meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Miller of Jefferson have completed the purchase of a fine tract of 20 acres of land adjoining Creswell from the Johnson farm. They will shortly move there to spend the balance of their days. They formerly lived at Creswell and have always had a desire to get back again.

There is a Source of Satisfaction

In knowing that when you have bought an article from a merchant that you have not paid twice what it is worth, and that some time you will not meet up with a friend who has bought the same pair of Shoes, Suit of Clothes, Coat or Hat for just about one-half what you paid. When you trade at Our Store you can have that satisfaction. We are here for business and are selling merchandise at a fair and legitimate profit and are winning new and satisfied patrons every day. We do not sell you Calico for 5 cents a yard in order to get you in the store and sell you a $6.00 Suit for $10.00.

A lucky man is a man who saves what he earns.

The closed season for hunting ducks and geese commences February 1.

Tell your friends the Leader is an ideal local paper and that they should subscribe.

A girl doesn't seem to mind working for a living, if she gets married to do it.

Miss Anna Hohl, who is stopping at Eugene, visited with her parents in this city this week.

If a man is treated well in a small town, he soon imagines he could do better in a larger place.

Frank Phillips, cashier of the Bank of Cottage Grove, was transacting business at Eugene Monday.

Dr. Lowe, the optician, will be in Cottage Grove Feb. 10 and to noon of 11th. At Yoncalla Feb. 12th.

The ladies should call at Miss Barret's millinery store and examine those Henderson double front laced corsets.

Editor Voorhies of the Grants Pass Courier, stopped off in this city Tuesday, on his way home from Portland.

Mrs. Gavin Davidson of Saginaw was transacting business in the Grove Tuesday and favored the Leader with a subscription.

Harry Knowlton has just completed a comfortable little home on the orchard lots which he purchased recently north of the Graham hotel.

Go work on a farm if you would truly admire a sunset; there it means that after the cows are milked and the hogs and horses fed you are due to quit work for the day.

The Dickey place in Gowdyville was sold to Joseph A. Snyder of Lorane this week by J. E. Wheeler. This is a very desirable little home comprising 19 acres of good land and sold for $2500.

H. H. Veatch attended the Hardware dealers convention at Portland late last week and reports a largely attended, profitable and interesting session. The many delegates were banqueted by the wholesale dealers and were "showed a good time."

A telegram was received by Dr. W. E. Best Tuesday from Mr. and Mrs. Osberg, formerly of this city, but now of Corvallis, announcing the serious illness of their son Louis who appears to be suffering from appendicitis, and it was the family's request that Dr. Best come and take charge of the case and perform an operation if necessary. The doctor left on the Tuesday night's train in response to the telegram, to render young Osberg professional services.

Sunday will be groundhog's day.

Mrs. C. R. King returned home from a brief visit at Yoncalla today.

Mrs. J. H. Baker went up to Creswell Thursday to enjoy a brief visit with Mr. and Mrs. George Hawley.

The Campbell & Walker Co. shipped two car load of poles this month. So much for the resumption of the timber business.

Mrs. Jas. Benson and little daughter Mary Ellen, have been enjoying a week's visit with Mrs. Benson's sister Mrs. Mabel Merri-man at Portland.

Fingal Hinds, real estate agent, has sold the Divilbliss residence in the Jas. McFarland addition to C. C. Hazleton, who has moved therein with his family.

Good progress is being made on the new electric light plant at Creswell. The machinery is all there, the poles set and wires are being strung and they expect to have the lights burning in six weeks or less.

A member of the Eckhardt theatrical company caused much merriment at the armory hall Wednesday evening, by glancing at a glass of wine on the stage table and exclaiming, "well how did you get into this town."

L. D. Owen, M. J. McCabe, M. Piteher and J. H. Spahr of Star, are all new cash in advance subscribers to the Leader. The way new names are being added to the Leader list is very gratifying to the new management.

Mrs. Mae Riee has sold a tract of land on Railroad avenue to William McClanahan, of Rogue River valley. After looking over the cities of this valley Cottage Grove was Mr. McClanahan's choice for a home.

Chief of Police Ries, of Albany, has given orders at the pool rooms of the city to not permit any boys under eighteen years of age in them hereafter, as provided by law. The law permits it upon the written consent of the parents only.

A friendly letter to the Leader from Judge Harris, concludes: "It appealed to me as being a very wise move when the two papers were consolidated into one so that all the energy of the management may be concentrated in one paper. I wish you success."

Rev. Beatty, of Lebanon, but formerly of this city, spent the week here, leasing his farm near town to a gentleman who will set out and cultivate a 10 acre apple orchard thereon. Mrs. Beatty and eldest daughter have been in poor health this winter.

Frank Crabtree has purchased the sitely two acre lot of Frank Phillips on West Wall street and will build a nice residence and barn thereon this spring. Mr. Phillips becomes owner of Mr. Crabtree's 65 acres of farm land adjoining the Felix Currin place on Row River in the transaction.

Jas. Benson and Frank Wheeler, both prominent business men of the town enjoyed a four days outing up on Mosby creek last week in quest of timber wolves, which are quite numerous in that locality. The boys report a good time even though they were not successful in getting a wolf.

Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Best enjoyed a pleasant sojourn at their old Michigan home late last fall and returned to this city a few weeks since. Their home paper, the County Press, published at Lapeer, Michigan had this to say regarding their visit: "Dr. W. E. Best, one of the most popular citizens and best physicians ever known in this section, has been here from the west visiting his old friends and neighbors in the North Branch country who were so good to him during the past three weeks. He says the west is a good place to make money; but there are no people so near and dear to him, as his Lapeer county friends and his parting now was with much feeling akin to sadness. Outside of his professional success in comforting the sick and needy, he is a hale fellow, well met, and wherever he may locate he carries the God-speed of the entire community."

New Steam Laundry.

As was noted in the Leader some weeks ago, Ashland parties had declared their intention to install a first class steam laundry plant in this city and had purchased machinery for this purpose. This week J. W. Baker of Ashland, brother of the Roseburg laundryman spent several days in this city making final arrangements for the establishment of a steam laundry here. After looking over the city he decided on the I. O. O. F. building formerly occupied by the Pacific Timber Co's store as about as conveniently arranged and centrally located place as he could rent for the purpose and accordingly secured a lease on the building and the residence adjoining for a number of years, in which to install the laundry and move his household goods.

The plant will be operated by a 5-horse power electric motor and is guaranteed to turn out first class work, at reasonable prices. Mr. Baker expects to have the plant installed and ready for operations by March 1st. The Leader wishes the new enterprise success.

Laura Hayes Seriously Burned.

A very distressing and perhaps fatal accident happened to Laura Hayes, the eight year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hayes of this city this morning. Mrs. Hayes stepped over to a neighbors for a few minutes after telling her little daughter to stand near the stove and get warm before starting down town. The child's screams soon thereafter attracted attention and it was discovered that in some way the back of her clothing had caught on fire and before aid reached her she was horribly burned. Dr. Kime was hastily summoned and is doing all in his power to relieve the patients sufferings, but little hope is entertained for her recovery.

C. W. Wallace of this city, received a letter this week from the state officers of the Modern Woodmen of America stating that the late discussion regarding the probable necessity for a raise in the assessments of that order, was precipitated by a personal opinion expressed by a certain supreme officer and that no such a movement is contemplated by the supreme lodge.

Eckhardt's Ideal's, opera company played to a large audience at the armory Wednesday evening and gave general satisfaction in the presentation of "A Man's Broken Promise." The large crowd present and the crowded condition of the stage again demonstrated the great need of a modern opera house in this city.

Chas. Otterson, who some three weeks ago was injured at the Oregon-Colorado mine, Bohemia, was brought in Wednesday evening for medical treatment. He has been cared for in the mines by George Rains, who also came down from the mines this week.

J. W. Kirk, who has been attending the Eugene Business college, for the past two years, has completed his course and accepted a position with Garman, Hemenway & Co., of Cottage Grove as book-keeper.
