Washington's Birthday Party.

Mrs. W. A. Kime and Mrs. William Hart royally entertained a large company of their friends last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Kime. Red, white and blue festoons and other patriotic decorations including colonial portraits were in evidence throughout the Kime home as well as the proverbial hatchet. A very entertaining program was carried out and in the essay contest Mrs. Gault was awarded the first prize for the best composition on George Washington.

The dining hall was profusely and artistically decorated in the national colors and in the center of the three long tables was a beautiful miniature cherry tree heavily laden with fruit. Excellent refreshments consisting of many dainty and toothsome dishes were served and Mrs. Kime and Mrs. Hart were declared by all the guests to be exceedingly entertaining hostesses. The guests present were: Mesdames Macy, Johnson, Medley, C. Ross King, DuBrulle, Hall, Hattie Best, H. O. Thompson, Best, Nellie Pitcher, Chambers, Pearce, Brown, Dr. Schleaf, Rosenberg, Powell, Phillips, Della Martin, Gault, W. H. Abrams, Van Winkle, Frank Sly, Lela Scott, Daisy Gross, John Phillips, Marion Veatch, Mary Gray, W. C. Conner.

Play, company and scenery are the three very important requisites contained in W. F. Mann's production "The Cow-Puncher," which is booked at the local opera house for an early appearance. Manager Mann has already brought us splendid attractions in the past and the success of "The Cow-Puncher" in the east last season indicates that the forthcoming engagement will prove no exception to the rule. At the armory Thursday evening, March 26.

Racy Cases in Justice Court.

Some cages revealing the lowest depths of moral depravity were heard in Justice Young's court Wednesday and Thursday, being prosecuted by Deputy District Attorney Skipworth. A couple giving their names as Andrew Butucci and Mrs. Marguetti of British Columbia, were taken from a local lodging house, charged with notorious conduct. The man was bound over to the circuit court, which convenes next week, while the woman was fined $100 and costs, which she may be required to pay with imprisonment.

TWO WAYWARD GIRLS.

The other case was that of two wayward girls, of Alea, who have been holding high carnival in this city for a few days, until taken in custody by Marshal Snodgrass, by order of the county judge. They give their names as Miss Pyburn and Mrs. Emma Edwards and appear to be under 18 years of age. One of them deserted her babe and it was turned over to the matron of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society at Eugene last week by the girl's father, who it is alleged encourages the girls' immoral practices. They are a bad lot and will probably be turned over to the Portland refuge for wayward girls. The alleged conduct of the girls and even their aged sire, is most revolting.

Annual Roll Call W. O. W.

Exciting Experience With Crazy Man.

Walter Scott and wife had quite a thrilling experience with a stranger who was suffering from temporary insanity resulting perhaps from overindulgence in bad booze, last Sunday night. Mr. Scott went in his woodshed to get some wood and in feeling about in the dark laid hands on a man, who immediately began begging that he not be harmed and alleging that he was in hiding from some foes who were seeking his life. Scott broke away from the fellow, got a lamp and returned to view the strange visitor. He at once concluded the fellow was insane and with his wife proceeded to take him down town and deliver him over to the officers, the fellow all the time begging Scott to not allow anyone to kill him. He was taken in custody by the officers and in a day or two become quite rational, said his name was Chas. Brown and that he was a barber by trade and hailed from San Francisco. Three razors were found in his pockets when he was examined by the officers. He appears to be recovering from his hallucination.
