COTTAGE GROVE, OR.

A. B. Wood Returns Home Again.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wood, who have spent the past year in Kentucky, where Mr. Wood has been superintending railroad construction for Mr. Hengen, has completed his work and on Wednesday night returned to Cottage Grove to again take up the superintendency of the O. & S. E. railroad here. When asked by a Leader representative if there was any probability of an extension of the O. & S. E. railroad, Mr. Wood remarked that it was not their purpose to stand still, that they had plans for extension of the road which however, he was not now in a position to announce. The citizens of Cottage Grove are extending Mr. Wood a very cordial greeting and are glad to welcome him back to the city again, from the fact that besides being a splendid citizen, he is a man who does things.

A pleasant surprise greeted Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wood when they arrived here, Mrs. Wood's brother A. B. Funk, who it will be remembered visited here last summer, having arrived here on the preceding train.

The Celebrated Blind Pianist.

Here are some interesting facts about Edward Baxter Perry, who is to play here on Thursday April 16 at the armory.

He is the only blind pianist in the world's history who ever succeeded in winning an unquestioned position in the front rank of his profession.

He is the only American pianist who ever played at the imperial court in Germany.

He is the only pianist living or dead, of any country, who ever played in twelve hundred concerts in ten years, surpassing even Gottschalk's world-famous record of eleven hundred.

He is the only pianist, American or foreign, who ever succeeded in sustaining himself for a period of ten consecutive years by concert playing alone, in the United States.

He is the originator of the Lecture-Recital.

Born

To Mr. and Mrs. Morris McKibben, April 8, 1908, a nine pound girl.

F. F. Teoves, with the Hazlewood creamery company, Portland, was taking orders for creamery and dairy supplies in this vicinity the first of the week. He remembered the Leader with a pleasant call, he being an old newspaper man himself, formerly connected with the Salem Statesman and Albany Herald.

The Griffin Veatch Hardware Co. have a show window which is designed to give a fellow the trout fishing fever. It is banked up with green mosses, deer heads and decorations suggestive of the cool and shaded banks of our mountain streams, the home of the salmon and brook trout, and the fishing tackle display makes the window complete.

The following series of discourses will be delivered at the Christian church by the pastor beginning Sunday evening May 3rd: "The young man, his faults and ideals," "The young woman, her faults and ideals," "Wives and mothers, their faults and ideals," "Husbands and fathers, their faults and ideals." The public is cordially invited to come and hear these special themes.

Lane county never had a more efficient clerk than Mr. Lee. He considers it his duty to serve the people and it makes no difference whether the applicant for information at the clerk's office is a republican or democrat, rich or poor, white, black or red. Mr. Lee is the same kind, affable gentleman to all. His books are in perfect condition and have been expert time and again with the most gratifying results, both to himself and his friends. He carefully guards the interests of the county and because he at times disapproved extortionate claims he would naturally meet with criticism from those who would take advantage of the county. That is one of his duties and that is why he stands so high with the taxpayers of the county.—Junction City Times.

Biggest Radish on Record.

Dudley Shields exhibited at the Leader office Thursday, what we believe to be the largest white table radish on record. This radish was grown in Mr. Shields garden in West Cottage Grove and when he dug it up Thursday it weighed 17 pounds and measures 37 inches in circumference and is 24 inches in length. The reason it does not weigh in proportion to its size is owing to its being hollow, the core having gradually dried out. If any one can beat this monster Cottage Grove radish it is up to them to produce the goods. This big vegetable may be seen in Milne's real estate office.

BELSHAZZAR'S FEAST

OR FALL OF BABYLON

Great Musical Treat in Store for People of This Community.

During the past week a chorus of 50 voices has been rehearsing nightly on that great dramatic cantata "Belshazzar's Feast, or Fall of Babylon." This splendid musical entertainment will be directed by Prof. Martin E. Robinson, a specialist in this kind of work who furnishes the music and a beautiful and appropriate costume for every member of the large cast.

The very best singers of the town and community have been enlisted in this work and there are several more who are expected to take part from now on, in fact every one of the singers in this city and community are invited to participate in this grand musical presentation. Mr. Robinson is a most proficient director and there is something doing every minute in his rehearsals. He expects to be able to present this grand cantata to the public about two weeks from today. There is 10 scenes in the presentation of "Belshazzar's Feast" as follows: 1—The palace hall. 2—The queen's apartments. 3—Jewish place of assembly. 4—Walls of Babylon. 5—The feast. 6—Evening devotion. 7—Jewish place of worship. 8—The interpretation. 9—Camp of Cyrus. 10—Within the city—Grand finale.

The singers of this vicinity cannot afford to miss this rare opportunity to get some first class instruction in vocal music, neither can the people afford to miss this greatest musical treat in the history of the town.

Death of Mrs. O. P. Adams.

Just as we go to press we learn of the death this morning of Mrs. O. P. Adams at her home in West Cottage Grove, of paralysis. Mr. and Mrs. Adams were pioneer settlers of this part of Lane county. Mrs. Adams has been an invalid for a number of years. A more extended notice will appear next week in the Leader.

He Knew a Good Thing.....

THE story is told of a very enthusiastic "Star Brand" salesman traveling in Arkansas, who, with several acquaintances, recently enjoyed a very fine meal at the home of a lady friend. After the usual conversation at such gatherings had subsided, and the guests were departing, expressing their appreciation of the repast, this salesman was heard to say: "Miss E., that was a very fine meal. I enjoyed it immensely—but "Star Brand Shoes are Better."
