About time to provide a city park for Cottage Grove.

The paramount issue appears to be "campaign funds."

"He that is void of wisdom" borrows his neighbor's paper.

Cottage Grove people are forgetting what a "for rent" sign looks like.

Good roads are more important than aerial navigation. Most of us will not soar.

A college should be devoted to turning out safe men instead of merely clever ones.

A prominent grain dealer says, the farmers are so prosperous money don't look good to them.

Time to plant that advertisement if you wish your share of the good fall trade that is promised.

After the fright it gave Texas, the prohibition movement need not be afraid to tackle any other state in the union.

A convenient watering place for farmer's teams would be appreciated by the farmers who come to town to trade.

At last Cottage Grove has set her real pace and nothing can stop it. The obstructionist had better keep out of the way.

A good many of us would think more of the foolkiller if he would put on a bigger force of assistants and work them overtime.

There are but three great problems vexing humanity today: The immortality of the soul, perpetual motion and women's hats.

And now the proverbial church contribution plan has been adopted and is being overworked by the great political organizations.

An interesting question being discussed now throughout the country is, which would you rather be shot for, a deer or a bear?

Mr. Taft urges quicker justice for the poor, but as a rule they get theirs much quicker than the folks who can afford to hire lawyers.

"The conquest of the air goes merrily on," comments an exchange. And the output of the hot variety, we notice, is not diminishing so one can notice it.

One day on Jupiter is said to equal 50,000 of our days. Wouldn't it be the swell thing if a fellow could go up there and borrow a thousand or two for a few days?

C. D. Minton, formerly editor of the Northwest Poultry Journal, at Salem, has purchased the Oregon Agriculturist, at Portland and will continue its publication in the interest of farming and stock raising.

A STATE RAILROAD.

At the big booster meeting held at Marshfield this week resolutions were adopted urging the building of a state road from Idaho to Coos bay, the state lending its financial aid to the enterprise.

School teachers throughout the state," says a report of State School Superintendent Ackerman, "report that the compulsory education law passed by the legislature of 1907, has proved a success and that all of its provisions are practicable.

Cottage Grove has just turned down a 25-year franchise asked for by the electric company of that city on the ground that the terms upon which the franchise was to be granted were not specific enough on the part of the company.

Editor Hofer of the Salem Journal stated in his paper last week after visiting Cottage Grove: "We were given a very cordial reception by the business men of the Lane county mining metropolis.

The Committee on Ways and Means appointed by the Oregon Good Roads Conference have arranged for a Good Roads Convention at Tillamook September 4th, and another one at Roseburg September 22nd.

If the merchant who advocates the circular letter as the only means of profitable advertising would prospect the postoffice and other waste baskets about town after mailing a consignment, he might change his mind.

In the championship regimental skirmish match of the National Rifle association tournament 40 teams competing, the Fourth Oregon regiment won tenth place and the Third regiment thirteenth place.

ELI PARRY KILLED AT HOOD RIVER

Hood River, Oregon, Aug. 27.—Eli Parry, employed by the Home Telephone Company, was killed here today by a pole which fell on him. Parry, assisted by several other men, was engaged in unloading poles from a wagon, and reached down to block the wheels with a stone.

Mr. Parry was well and favorably known in Cottage Grove, where he was employed for a time, and his many friends here regret to learn of his tragic and untimely death.

CITY SCHOOLS OPEN ON SEPTEMBER 14TH.

The directors of the Cottage Grove schools have decided to have the school term for the forthcoming school year, begin Monday Sept. 14, instead of Oct. 5, as was formerly announced.

FRUIT, HOPS AND GRAIN CROP NOTES

Early Crawford peaches are on the market and are coming in plentifully from Roseburg. They are selling for $1 per box.

J. V. Kaizer of near Medford, has a watermelon vine which covers an area of ground 28x38 feet. This from one seed on irrigated desert land and there are eight or 10 fine melons growing on it.

Reports from the hopfields in this and other sections of the valley indicate that the hops are from ten days to two weeks behind the season up to date and the indications are that the harvest will be considerably later than the average this year and that the hops will ripen unevenly in most districts.

One day last week a Myrtle Creek firm purchased 400,000 pounds of French and Italian prunes of the following growers: Clea Weaver, 50,000; Ed Weaver, 200,000; J. J. Chadwick, 40,000; J. B. Harris, 90,000 and M. B. Smith 20,000 pounds.

WHEN HER BACK ACHES A Woman Finds all her Energy and Ambition Slipping Away.

Cottage Grove women know how the aches and pains that come when the kidneys fail make life a burden. Backache, hip pains, headache, dizzy spells, distressing urinary troubles, all tell of sick kidneys and warn you of the stealthy approach of diabetes, dropsy and Bright's disease.

Mrs. J. H. Shostbridge, living on the west side, Cottage Grove, Oregon, says: "When I began using Doan's Kidney pills, which I procured at Benson's pharmacy, I was in a very run down condition caused by kidney and bladder trouble. I suffered a great deal with my back, which was lame and weak. I was restless at night and in the morning was so stiff and lame that I could hardly get around. I suffered with headaches and was caused much annoyance and embarrassment on account of the irregularity of the secretions. I used many remedies but obtained no relief until I procured Doan's Kidney pills at Benson's pharmacy. I improved steadily from the time I began using this remedy and by the time I had used three boxes of Doan's Kidney pills I was feeling better than I had been for a long time. I have recommended Doan's Kidney pills at every opportunity, and will continue to do so."

WORKING UP A BIG POULTRY EXHIBITION

H. C. Schellhaus, superintendent of the poultry department at the state fair, was interviewing Cottage Grove poultry breeders Monday and Tuesday with the object of interesting them in the state fair poultry show which will be held in connection with the state fair at Salem September 14-19.

Mr. Schellhaus says more interest than usual is being manifested by Oregon poultry breeders this year and that an unusually large and fine exhibit is assured. The fact that the state fair show does not require birds to be "weighed in" as they are at later shows enables breeders to get in and win prizes on young stock that would be disqualified on weight in the winter shows.

Any poultry breeder in need of entry blanks and tags or information regarding the state fair poultry exhibit should address Mr. H. C. Schellhaus, 1036 Denver avenue, Portland, Oregon.

MORE NEW HOMES IN COTTAGE GROVE

In making the rounds about town this week a Leader representative found that work had recently begun on three more new homes in this city as follows: A fine story and a half bungalow 36x36 feet is being built by W. C. Johnson, the merchant, on his lots in the orchard tract, below the Christian church.

Out on Fourth street carpenters Chamberlen, Cooter and Taylor have work well under way on a very neat, modern cottage for A. H. Powell. On the same street but a block nearer Main street the foundation is being laid for a nice home for a Mr. Young who recently arrived in this city and purchased a lot from Leston Lewis.

On South Fourth street the Lammon Brothers have work well under way on a large addition to their residence, and work is progressing on the large addition to D. C. Baughman's residence on Fourth street.

Thos. Pearce, the grocer, has the carpenters at work raising and completely remodeling the home which he purchased recently on Taylor street.

J. M. Isham, the local S. P. agent, is adding to the appearance of his home on Third street by the building of new porches and sidewalks. He has also nicely graded and terraced his lawns with dirt excavated from under the sidewalks on the north and west side of his premises.

Mr. Kern of Indiana now knows that he is the vice-presidential candidate on the democratic ticket, for the boys told him at Indianapolis Tuesday all about the result of the Denver convention.
