Free From Matrimonial Bonds.

Judge Harris handed down a decree of divorce Saturday to the plaintiff in the case of Anna James against Henry James.

Anna Dennie was granted a divorce from her husband Clarence Dennie by Judge Harris Saturday. She was also given a one-third interest in a homestead on which she made final proof after her husband had deserted her, and alimony to the amount of $1000. Her maiden name was also restored.

Mr. Shearer at Dorena.

W. S. Shearer, who has had charge of the planing mill department of the Booth-Kelly mill at Wendling for the past two years and a half has resigned his place to take a position as general superintendent of the Chambers Lumber Co. at Dorena. Mr. Shearer is a most competent man and while the Booth-Kelly people did not like to give him up, he would be near his home and the salary was quite a good deal better.—Register.

The date for holding the Cottage Grove district fair will be fixed at a meeting of the committees tonight.

Mrs. Rees Received Damages.

At Portland last Friday the damage case of Mrs. G. L. Rees of this city, against the S. P. Railroad Company for injuries sustained in a railroad wreck a little more than one year ago one mile north of this city, was heard in Judge Bronough's court resulting in a compromise. Mrs. Rees demanded $1,500 damages and received $1,250 which will at least partially compensate her for treatment received at a Portland hospital following the injuries sustained in the wreck. While far from recovered from these injuries she is improving and may in time completely recover. Her back was injured as a result of the concussion of the train collision, which resulted also in the partial paralysis of her fingers.

Chickens.

S. C. R. I. Reds. No better chicken raised for utility or fancy. I have a limited number of fine cockrels for sale. Get one before all are gone. $1 to $1.50. 4t

W. V. McGEE, Creswell. Attorney C. E. Lockwood of Portland was in this city Saturday looking after the Taft campaign. Mr. Lockwood found Cottage Grove republicans supporting the party candidates and was assured that a republican club would be organized for active work at once.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Skidmore who has been pastor of the Creswell Methodist church for the past year, left Monday morning for Junction City, accompanied by Mrs. Skidmore. Mr. Skidmore has been a member of the Oregon conference for over forty years and expected to resign from active service in the field, at the conference which was held in Salem last week.

Ever get swelled on yourself? Watch Zeke and Daisy in the third act of The Missouri Girl and get a few pointers. Billie Veatch, wife and family, after a two years residence in Coos county, have returned to Cottage Grove and on October 1st, he will again take charge of his little farm one mile west of this city which he has been renting. Mr. Veatch says Coos county has a good many advantages and desirable features and has its drawbacks. Farming and dairy lands are unreasonably high and until the proposed railroad is built into that county it must depend solely on water transportation. Mr. Veatch says times are a little quiet there just now. No more will he roam from his own fireside.

COTTAGE GROVE POULTRY AT SALEM

On Saturday the Cottage Grove poultry fanciers who entered poultry in the state fair exhibit received their premium cards and cash prizes, which demonstrates the fact that Cottage Grove poultry breeders understand their business and by practical and up-to-date methods have produced fowls of the various breeds unexcelled in not only Oregon, but the Northwest.

The exhibitors and their winnings were as follows:
