PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS.

REPUBLICANS.

F. J. Miller, Albany; R. R. Butler, Baker City; J. A. Lee, Portland; A. C. Marsters, Roseburg.

DEMOCRATIC.

Sam White, Baker City; E. J. McAllister, Portland; Bernard Daly, Portland; P. Coshov, Roseburg.

HATS OFF AT CHURCH, PLEASE!

The Leader feels like it is treading on dangerous ground when it takes up the matter of even suggesting what the ladies should or should not do, but we feel constrained to enquire, why it is that our mothers, wives and sweethearts will so obligingly doff their hats with the slightest hint at entertainments, public speakings, and even at a circus, but persist in wearing all their frills, fluffs, feathers and flowers, characteristic to the modern feminine headgear, throughout the Sabbath religious service? Have they more consideration for the political speaker, stage artist, clown, or the average mixed audience, than for the pastor and his meek and humble flock, who must uncomplainingly submit to the regular recurring Sabbath millinery display, which oftentimes, as if by fire, the Christian fortitude and zeal of many worshippers of the meek and lowly Nazarene? Yea, verily, many a backslider, no doubt, dates his first slip back to the sacred service wherein he nearly dislocated his neck in his fruitless endeavor to rubber at one of the pretty choisters, or get a glimpse of the man who so eloquently, earnestly and convincingly propounded the gospel from behind the chancel rail. "While the choir is singing the opening hymn, the ladies will please remove their hats!"

SAME HERE.

Albany Herald, Saturday: Oregon game laws and the game wardens too, are a farce, as far as affording a protection to the game birds in this portion of the Willamette valley. The proof of the farcial enforcement of the game laws was daily witnessed before the hunting season opened when the fields were full of game law violators who killed pheasants indiscriminately, even in the face of the game wardens; who are undoubtedly afraid to interfere. Now that the season is opened, hunters in many cases simply pay no attention to the law and kill far above the limit. At the depot this morning there were ten hunters returning to Portland. Between them they had no less than 250 birds by actual count. One hunter had fifty birds with him which he said he had killed. The season was, only three days old, which would allow of but thirty birds, ten each day, per hunter. The evidence of open violation of the law was apparent, yet no game warden interfered with this man or any of the others who were loaded down with birds.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

From the Eugene Guard the following ad was clipped: WANTED—50 good fat veal, 50 dressed hogs, etc., E. Dodge, cor. 8th & Olive streets. Now having been in the provision business myself, it struck me that the animal from which the veal cutlets are cut is called a calf; plural calves. And stupidly my mind commenced to wonder why Mr. Dodge did not advertise: WANTED—50 good fat calves. Was it modesty? Or sagacity, to prevent the possibility of being swamped?—Nobody's. Mr. Hartog has evidently observed a few things in Eugene besides paved streets, fruits, flowers, etc. It is an ill wind that blows "Nobody" any good.

A good one is told on Editor Bates of the Roseburg News. He took up what he supposed was one of Bryan's late speeches, picked it to pieces and condemned every paragraph. After the paper came out he discovered that by mistake he had taken up and severely condemned a part of the republican national platform.

It is curious that we pay statesmen for what they say, not for what they do, and judge of them from what they do, not from what they say. Hence, they have one code of maxims for profession, and another for practice, and make up their consciences as the Neopolitans do their beds, with one set of furniture for show, and another for use.—Colton.

The average man will concede that a beautiful city is an attractive one and brings people to it with their contributions of labor and money and help, but to have a beautiful city we must have beautiful units. You cannot put together a few eyesores and get a beauty spot.—Nobody's.

Much has been said and sung in praise of the great American hen, but, noting the rise of a Connecticut citizen from milk peddler to representative in Congress and nominee for governor, it occurs to some consideration.

The stores are getting in new goods and preparing for the fall and winter trade, which promises to be a big improvement over that of last season.

Isn't this awful? It is said that the lady on the new $20 coin—we cannot personally verify the report—wears a sheath gown.

The first of the campaign bets are up ranging at 100 to 60 on Taft, says Goodwin's Weekly.

We no sooner get through mowing the lawn than we have to rake up the falling leaves.

Oregon is coming to the front in spite of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company.

Active publicity work has resulted in such an influx of people in the more active communities of the Pacific northwest that housing the newcomers has really become a serious problem in some of the towns. New residences are being erected as rapidly as possible and rented long in advance of their completion. In some of the fruit districts, cars loaded with household goods are occupying the tracks and the delay in their unloading is making the orchardists apprehensive as to trackage for their fruit shipments.

And now Puter, Miller, Kribs and Robinson have escaped further land fraud prosecution under the statute of limitations. 'Tis said, "A rush of work prevented the serving of subpoenas on these men until a few days after the time had expired."

Bryan has just broke the record by making twenty-six speeches in one day.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTOR WILL SPEAK HERE

Hon. R. R. Butler, one of the republican presidential electors, will speak at Cottage Grove on Saturday evening October 17th at the armory hall. Mr. Butler is a lawyer and is an orator of more than average ability. His home is at Condon where he is associated with Mr. Jay Bowerman, attorney at law. Mr. Butler is a Southerner and a graduate of a Tennessee college. He is a grandson of Hon. R. R. Butler who represented one of the Tennessee districts in Congress for more than twenty years.

The state republican secretary says: "I have received demands from all parts of the state for Mr. Butler's services, and you can assure your people that they are very fortunate in having an opportunity to hear him."

Poultry Cranks Attention!

An important meeting of the Calapooia Poultry Association will be held in Chas. Walker's office Thursday evening. All members are urged to be present.

Fine Timbers.

Joe and Frank Damewood, who were awarded the contract for furnishing the city bridge stringers on Main street, delivered the first stick Monday. It is 12x14 inches and 94 feet in length, a fine specimen of Oregon Red fir, and was hewn out by hand by Messrs Damewood, on Mosby creek, opposite the Waldon place. They will deliver the other stringer of the same dimension today or tomorrow.
