Cottage Grove district fair next.
The Pendleton fair—dry—came out $3,000 ahead.
Presidential election only three weeks from today.

Who said that it rained thirteen months in a year in Oregon?

Some of us get rich quick, but most of us get poor quicker.

If you want a good paying little business inquire at the Bazaar.

A few cases of diphtheria have been reported over on Coos bay.

Saturday seemed a little like old times from a business standpoint.

"The Montana Limited," the next attraction at the armory theater.

There's only one safe way, if you don't want it repeated—don't tell it.

Back east they are looking to see if their snow shovels are in good shape.

The "Montana Limited" the thrilling western drama at the armory hall Wednesday evening.

Many tons of new fall and winter goods are being delivered to our enterprising merchants these days.

It is a bad plan for a girl to have faith in any man to whom her father would be afraid to lend money.

A marriage license was issued Wednesday to Calvin E. Duckworth and Belva A. Deming, both of Elmira.

Ernest Lockwood has the carpenters at work building a large addition to his cottage home on North Fifth street.

Mrs. LeRoy Woods returned home from Portland Sunday evening where she attended the state convention of the W. C. T. U. as a delegate.

The rain came at last Monday evening and the farmers and stockmen are rejoicing. It is a fine warm rain and will make fall and winter pasture.

L. M. Hitt, who lately returned to this city from California, has purchased the Welch residence property on Wall street through the Veatch Real Estate Co.

J. H. McFarland raised eight bushels of potatoes on his residence lot near the Presbyterian church this season, of a variety similar to the Peerless. They are very large and pink in color and are said to be fine grained and of excellent quality.

D. L. Morgan, who won the grand gold medal at the Demarest contest at Springfield, went to Portland and carried away the diamond medal also. Mr. Morgan is certainly a fine orator and has good right to feel proud of winning from the best in the state.

An eight-point buck is something not seen scarcely in a lifetime, but such an animal was killed by L. E. Parks of Cloverdale a day or two since. When dressed the carcass weighed over 200 pounds and it was just rolling fat. It was of the black tail variety and was the only one of that kind ever killed in that neighborhood.

Twenty pounds of flour for a bushel of oats at Spray & Co's.

A Cottage Grove lady, while in Portland recently, priced many articles of furniture and carpets, and upon returning home visited local house furnishing establishments and compared prices. She found she could actually save from 10 to 25 per cent by trading at home. Portland evidently mistakes outside customers for suckers.

Spray & Co., the new brick near the depot, will pay cash for your produce.

John Brund came down from his Sweepstake mines in the Bohemia camp Monday to get a small particle of quartz removed from his eye which was causing him considerable trouble. The operation required but a moment and Mr. Bruhd returned to camp to prosecute development work on his property which, he says, is showing up well.

Some Harvest Fair Notes.

Work on the fair buildings has been progressing but the rain last night and today will force the carpenters to wait till the clouds roll by, but the work will probably be delayed only a few days.

Fruit Must be Good.

A strong inducement for spraying and destroying of pests is the law making it a misdemeanor to offer pest-ridden fruit for sale, and it is one of the things above all others that will induce orchardists to properly spray their trees. If they can't sell their fruit, there is no use to raise it; hence the quality brought into market this year is much better than for the past ten years. It means we will get rid of the pests after a while and will have as good fruit as anybody, in a few years.
