LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Like April weather. Get ready for spring work. Hi Henry's famous minstrels at the armory theater tonight.

Chas. Cochran was transacting business at Eugene Wednesday.

Don't fail to hear the Royal Chorus Club at the armory next week.

Jan. 25, born to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Sharon of Saginaw, Or., a 9 pound daughter.

The twelve year old daughter of Mr. W. F. Skinner, recent arrivals from Oklahoma, is convalescing from a case of Typho-Malaria which she contracted before coming to this city.

A hot box at the electric power plant last evening caused a shut down during the entire night, which left the town in darkness. Accidents of this kind will occasionally happen.

S. B. Morss, the nurseryman, received a ton, 2000 D'Anjou pear trees last week for February delivery, from the famous Stark nurseries. He also received a fine lot of scions for grafting into his nursery stock.

It was stated in the last issue of the Leader that the remains of Henry Brown, were laid to rest in the White cemetery south of this city Friday. We should have, said, Taylor-Lane cemetery. Rev. Elkins of this city conducted the funeral service.

As retaliation for the dirty insults heaped upon them by Eugene business men and the "knockers club" in this county division fight, the people of south Lane should buy what goods they cannot get at home from Salem or Portland merchants.

Dr. J. Christie has been appointed as stock inspector for Lane county.

Brick laying has again commenced on the new two story Veatch building.

In the senate Friday a bill compelling hotels to furnish nine foot sheets was passed.

Losses of apples and potatoes on account of the cold weather up the valley may reach 25 per cent.

A Summerville lumber company during the cool spell piled up 1,750,000 feet of logs at its mill.

BOOSTER HARTOG'S RUDE AWAKENING

Early in December before the weather clerk went off on his unusual, protracted spree, the Leader felicitated over the blooming flowers, the green sward, the prospective early lettuce and onions, and last but not least, the sight of school boys wading and disporting in the limpid waters of the Coast Fork river, and here the question was asked, "can Mr. Hartog of Nobody's Magazine, beat this?" Mr. Hartog answers for himself in January's Nobody's as follows:

CAN HE? LET'S SEE!

(An Answer) As I was walking along the Willamette river near the state university this morning, December 11th, I beheld a sight which made me wince. Some dozen or more charming Eugene belles were in swimming. Several more were disrobing along the banks, preparing to put on their fluffy, silkaline bathing suits. It was quite early in the morning. The damsels did not expect any passers-by, but a good booster should never sleep. Spellbound I hid behind a Royal Ann cherry and watched the happy maidens enjoy themselves in the pure stream and then lie around among the violets on the banks, taking a sunbath.

And behold, the think came to me, could the Cottage Grove Leader beat this? And behold again I felt something like an earthquake. It was my genial host calling me to get up, by poking the business end of a broom up against the ceiling of the dining room veranda, which happens to be the floor of my sleeping porch. Another sweet dream gone up in smoke. Were you ever awakened from sweet dreams by a broomstick?

An Effecting Meeting.

Saturday John Hazelton, whose sight has been failing for five years and he is now totally blind, came down from Cottage Grove and in the course of his visit inquired for Blind John Keeney, with whom he had played when a boy. It so happened that they were able to meet (as Mr. Keeney is in the city) and it took place in the law office of Paul G. Merrill in the McClung block. When they did meet and their hands were placed one in the other, Mr. Hazelton burst into a flood of tears. They had not met for 40 years and now both are totally without sight and their friends had to aid them in meeting.—Register.

County Division Bill Pending

Salem, Or., Jan. 22.—The impending county division fight, in which it is sought to carve the new county of Nesmith from Lane and Douglas, has set legislators to thinking and within a few days there will be introduced a general bill to govern the division of counties.

Married.

KINCAID-HILLS.—At the home of the groom, 85 East Ninth street in Eugene Jan. 22, 1909, Webster Lockwood Kincaid and Miss Dorothy Katherine Hills, Rev. P. K. Hammond, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal church, officiating.

The groom is one of Lane county's rising young business men, being a son of Hon. and Mrs. H. R. Kincaid. He was graduated last year from the University of Oregon. His bride is a member of one of the best known families of Lane county but she has been a resident of Portland for some time.

FISH-SMITH.—At the Hoffman House at 10:30 a. m., Jan. 22, 1909, Miss Dessie M. Fish and George R. Smith, both of Creswell, Rev. D. H. Trimble officiating.

Little Nephew—"Auntie, did you marry an Indian?" Aunt—"Why do you ask such a silly question Freddie?" Little Nephew—"Well, I saw some scalps on your dressing-table."

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Wynne returned today to their home in Cottage Grove, after visiting with Mrs. Wynne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Veatch.—Saturday's Salem Journal.

The Wave has just put in a fine, modern round cornered plate glass counter show case. It is a valuable acquisition to this cheerful, popular resort. The Wave is now conducted by the Bisby Bros. Lloyd Bisbey having become associated in the business with Ernest C. Bisbey.

A paragraph is going the rounds about a girl dying from tight lacing. Editor Rice of the Myrtle Creek Mail, commenting on the fact says: "Those corsets should be done away with, and if the girls can't live without being squeezed, we suppose we could spare the time to accommodate the dear creatures. As old as we are, we'd rather devote three hours a day without a farthing of pay, in the good cause rather than see girls dying in that manner. Office hours almost any time."

The famous DeMoss family of musicians delighted quite a good sized audience at the Christian church last Friday evening. Their orchestra of six pieces renders some excellent musical numbers, including some old favorites while their musical specialties, includes selections on about everything in the musical line. By request George DeMoss and wife, gave "Oregon, Sweet Oregon" as a vocal duet, and they were heartily encored, their old original song being as sweetly and impressively rendered as of yore. A new and pleasing feature is the "Oregon Chimes" or golden bells, an instrument producing an unusual pleasing and harmonious tone, which was the hit of the evening. The musical work by the two little DeMoss tots, was fine, especially the singing, both having already developed remarkably trained voices.

The news came from McLeansboro, Ill., this week that Robert Casey, a pioneer blacksmith of Cottage Grove, is seriously ill, and that his life is despaired of. Yesterday the news came that his condition is slightly improved, therefore no members of his family here have taken their departure for his bedside as yet.

Roseburg Was Easy for Cottage Grove

The basket ball game at the armory Friday night resulted in an easy victory for the Cottage Grove boys. Although the game was rough, it was one of the fastest ever seen on the local floor. The visitors were decidedly outplayed from start to finish, both in team work and individual playing.

The score at the end of the game stood 20 to 9.

A large crowd was in attendance, thus enabling the Cottage Grove boys to meet the heavy expenses.

The local team is scheduled to play Eugene sometime in the near future

The line-up of the Cottage Grove team was as follows:

- Robert Sherwood, left forward. Allen Baker, right forward. Fay Allison, right guard. Chester Baker, left guard. Charles Beals, left guard. Elmer Hastings, center.

Donkey Engines on McKenzie.

Some time since we mentioned the fact that the Booth-Kelly company were moving their donkey engines from the logging camps on Fall creek across the divide to the slope toward the McKenzie river by their own steam, so that they could assist in logging operations on the McKenzie. The engines are now over the divide and will be ready for work in their new location in a short time. Several men were sent up by stage Saturday to assist in the work there.—Register.

Change in Shoe Shop.

A. L. Reed has sold his boot and shoe shop to W. E. Page, a shoemaker of 30 years' practical experience. All kinds of work in his line is solicited and satisfaction is guaranteed. Leather and shoe findings for sale. Next door to Powell & Tuller's livery.

Geo. Lea, the contractor, went to Salem today to join the Cottage Grove delegation in the third house.
