BACK GIVES OUT

Plenty of Cottage Grove Readers Have This Experience.

You tax the kidneys—overwork them. They can't keep up the continual strain.

The back gives out—it aches and pains; Urinary troubles set in. Don't wait longer—take Doan's Kidney Pills.

Cottage Grove people tell you how they feel.

Walter Rogers of Cottage Grove, Oregon, says: "I suffered for some time from pains in my back and sides caused by disordered kidneys. I thought the trouble would soon disappear, but instead it grew gradually worse. The kidney secretions were so frequent that I was forced to rise many times during the night and the passages were attended with pain. I tried nearly every remedy that was brought to my attention and also used liniments and plasters but did not succeed in finding any relief. I then read of Doan's Kidney Pills and was so impressed that I procured a box at Benson's Pharmacy. I received relief from the first and was so much encouraged that I continued until a complete cure was effected."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

A CONSTANT FRIEND.

The man without a dollar
May lead a blameless life,
Be pleasant to his children
And tender with his wife.
He willing with another
Hisittance small to share,
But that is not sufficient
To get him anywhere.

It will not buy a ticket
On any railroad train.
The not permission written
To come in out the rain.
Though it may on occasions
Procure a smile or so,
That is, as you have noticed,
As far as it will go.

A dollar in the pocket
And several in the bank
Make more of an impression
Than glitter, gilt and rank.
The gentleman who only
Can view it from afar,
May have some friends, but, graciously
He don't know where they are.

The great almighty dollar,
A full one hundred cents,
That pays for bread and taffy,
For taxes, tolls and rents,
Is for the happy owner
A true and constant friend
And one in storm and sunshine
On which he can depend.

See?

"What's the difference between a cat and a mouse?"
"None."
"Why?"
"The mouse agrees with the cat."

Constitutional Right.
"How old are you, madam?" asked the lawyer.
"None of your business."
"The court will oblige you to answer."
"Do I have to tell, judge?"
"I am afraid you must."
"I refuse, and I think I am backed up by the law."
"What law do you refer to?" asked the court.
"The law that no man is obliged to testify against himself. I guess that applies to women too."
"You needn't answer," said the judge.

COOKING FOR THRASHERS.
Ever help thrasher?
The farmers' wives moil at the task of feeding the thrasher man and his helpers all the day long. And now at last in one of the counties of a middle western state the farmers' wives have struck. They refuse to cook three big meals a day.

Good!

The thrasher men, joining issue, have boycotted the county. They declare for three full banquets a day, else the farmers' wheat, they say, may rot. And there you are.

Now—
The farmer's wife, if she conforms to the old custom, must begin weeks ahead of time to plan for the feeds. The bounteous menu must include all the substantial and all the delicacies of cookery. Perhaps a beef is killed. Dozens of chickens are slaughtered. There must be six kinds of pie and other things in proportion.

And all day long the wife must stew over the hot range excepting when she washes dishes.

Through it all the man with the red machine is monarch of all he surveys. He tells the household what time it must arise in the morning. In the evening no man dares knock in until he gives the signal. Let the cook wait and keep the supper piping hot.

People and premises—farm, barn, house, help, cook, even the dog—are subject slave to the masterful man with the "separator." And, it may be added, much authority has made him as dictatorial as much good feeding has made him critical of cuisine.

Therefore the long meditated revolt of the independent women of the farm—and to them all hail!

Let the presumptuous thrasher man modify his voracious demands or put up with a cold luncheon.

What with her common tasks of cooking, mending, washing, butter-making and the other thousand and one errands of the farm wife, she has enough to do without asking her to boil her brains over a hot cook stove to feed a small army.

They do it differently in the far west.

There the thrasher gang carries a cooking outfit, and the squad cook prepares the meals. No extra demand is made of the rancher's wife. Instead of toiling in her kitchen—listen!—the thrasher's wife is often a guest at the thrasher's table. It is quite a picnic.

Never was there juster grievance than that of these striking farm wives.

Summons

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Lane County.
Laura Byrne, plaintiff, vs D. J. Byrne, defendant.

To D. J. Byrne, the above named defendant.

In the name of the State of Oregon, you are required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit, within six weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons and if you fail to appear and answer as herein required, for want thereof, the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in her complaint, viz. That the bonds of matrimony existing between plaintiff and defendant be forever dissolved and that the plaintiff be awarded the care and custody of the minor child of plaintiff and defendant, Harlie, and for such other and further relief as to the court may seem just and equitable.

This summons is published once a week for six successive weeks in the Cottage Grove Leader, a newspaper of general circulation, in Lane county, State of Oregon, published in Cottage Grove, in said county, by order of the Hon. L. T. Harris, Circuit Judge of said county, made on the 5th day of March, 1909.

The first publication of this summons is on the 9th day of March, 1909, and the last publication on the 20th day of April, 1909.

J. C. JOHNSON,
Attorney for Plaintiff.

Poultry Notes.

The big rooster put up at the county fair at Hatboro, Pa., voted to be the most popular man in the United States, went to Teddy Roosevelt, of course. He knocked splinters off everything at Sagamore the first day. If Mr. R. joins our fraternity, the egg and squab trust will have to bust.

We hope the National Poultry association's recent meet at Niagara Falls will insure the future success of the society. The many charges and countercharges and scraps have kept down the membership and interest.

When one of our poultry journal editors advised his readers to throw corn on the cob to ducks to keep them busy, it shows there is some "city farming" still in bloom.

For practical knowledge
Don't go to college.
For hard horse sense
Don't loaf on the fence.
To get the know how
Your back you must bow.
You must sweat in the dirt.

The complaints of so many that turkey eggs only hatched half under hens this year are easily answered. Just note the difference in the vitality of a big turkey hen and a common chick. A chicken cannot furnish sufficient heat.

The cruelty of a Pennsylvania shipper was rewarded with a twenty-five dollar fine at Philadelphia in August when he packed nineteen ducks and forty chickens into a crate. The S. P. C. A. needs active agents at some town markets also.

The latest new journal is Cackles of Buffalo. That the goose industry is active is shown by the early appearance of more young geese than last year. There are two things some people in the towns haven't learned yet—that the young geese and ducks are the finest eating and are worth more than old stock, just as spring chickens taste better and cost more than old hens and roosters.

You may be wondering how you lost one of your best egg customers when you are sure that every egg is strictly fresh. But listen. An egg occasionally slips down under the nest material, and if you fall to run your fingers under the straw that egg may be hidden for a month until the hen turns it up some day. A customer getting that upturned egg may turn you under.

Furnished the Fuel.

"We were caught in a dreadful forest fire," explained the old woodsman, "and barely escaped with our lives."
"Any trees burned?" asked the tenderfoot.
"Trees? Oh, no," exclaimed the woodsman, suppressing the look of disgust on his face. "We brought in coal specially for the occasion."

Cured.

"I go dislike to be defeated,"
"What are you going to do about it?"
"Run for office every chance I get."
"How will that help?"
"I may eventually become used to it."

Out of Date.

The way was long, the wind was cold. The minstrel was infirm and old. And everywhere he got the laugh. All people owned a phonograph.
