Corsets "FRONT LACED"

THE front laced models are the culmination of the latest and best ideas in corset fashion. They remodel the figure, giving it a perfectly moulded back, giving it lines of grace and symmetry and the long, tapering curves which are so artistically beautiful. They reduce the full figure, giving it the flattened front and slender hip effects. They are absolutely hygienic and have the endorsement of the leading physicians and dressmakers. We call special attention to the model illustrated which is made in two lengths, high bust, for the tall figure, and medium bust, for the shorter waisted stout figure. This model is extremely long over the back and hips. The extra lacing in the back from the waist-line down permits an absolutely perfect adjustment over the back and assists further in keeping the hips in perfect subjection, thus giving the so-called hipless figure. We carry the front laced corsets in a varied line of materials at prices ranging from $2.50 to $12. We cordially invite the ladies of our city and vicinity to visit our corset department and inspect these most exquisite models. Consultation and fitting free.

WHERE YOU DO BETTER

WHEN FATHER HAS THE GRIP.

Poor mother wears a worried look,
And sister wears a frown;
And if I venture up the stairs
They send me straightway down.
I'm going to the drug store now,
Upon a hurried trip,
To get some other kind of dope,
For father has the grip.
I heard him moaning in the night,
He said his head would split;
And then he thought his back would break
In just a little bit.
He told us that his legs were sore,
And soon it was his hip;
It seems that everything is sick
When father has the grip.
The doctor came today and left
Some capsules, and he said
To take one each three hours until
The pain had really fled.
Says pa, "That means twelve hours before
I give this pain the slip;
I'll bet he'd find a faster dope
If he had got the grip."
And then he told us that he thought
That he was going to die;
And ma says, no that isn't so,
And gave the reason why.
Then pa got mad and told her that
He didn't want her lip.
Oh, there's no comfort in our flat
When father has the grip.

"RATTLESNAKE BOB" PLEASE TAKE NOTICE

There seems to have been an unnecessary amount of excitement aroused by the fact that rattlesnakes were served at a recent supper in this state at which a party of automobilists participated, says the Philadelphia Inquirer. The event would have caused no comment in the wilds of Pike county, for the reason that where the rattlesnake lives he is respected. He is not fooled with because his fangs contains poison. But when he is once dead he is a very succulent addition to the table.

The point should not be overlooked that in the last agonies of death the rattlesnake has a way of biting himself—committing suicide to end his miseries. In such cases it would be to say the least, most imprudent to eat the poison-impregnated flesh. But it is satisfactory to know that in such cases the flesh turns green and can easily be detected.

The rattlesnake is one of the most edible of his tribe. In the south he is most esteemed as a diet. He lives on squirrels and mice and birds, and is not the dangerous creature most persons imagine. On the contrary, he is the highest of all snake creatures, because he gives plenty of warning and does not desire to attack or to be attacked. He is best eaten after he has been dried and cured, much after the manner of codfish. In the south there is a fine way of smoking rattlesnake flesh, with the result that when you eat him there is a sort of smoky, gamy "je ne sais quoi" flavor that is at least enlivening—especially when you find out what you have been eating.
