 Is the Oregon mist a myth?
 We'll soon have to send for a rain maker or pray.
 There is going to be something doing in the Bohemia mines again soon.
 This is becoming a very respectable city—a great improvement over the not far distant past.
 Unusual deep snow in the mountains bordering on the valley caused the recent heavy frosts.
 Those who have been swindled by commission men take no stock in the commission form of government.
 Something new in the weather line every year—a scorching frost on May 5th is a new one. Fruit and gardens slightly damaged as a result.
 A Eugene woman wishing to go to Salem took the wrong train and came to Cottage Grove Thursday—Cottage Grove is becoming irresistible.
 The Eugene Guard has commenced to refer to South Lane citizens as "Nesmith people." That has the proper ring to it, and just as well get used to the new appellation now as at a little later date.
 A 1000 acre apple orchard sold at Hood River this week for $105,000 to a Philadelphia man named Ed R. Pooley. The Lowndale 650 acre apple orchard at McMinnville also sold this week for $275,000.

Wonders will never cease and politics certainly are freakish. The new council is putting into execution every reform measure advocated by the Independent ticket, which was defeated in April. There must be some unpleasant meditation on the part of some voters. But we're all with you, gentlemen!

Facts for Weak Women
 Nine-tenths of all the sickness of women is due to some derangement or disease of the organs distinctly feminine. Such sickness can be cured—is cured every day by
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
It Makes Weak Women Strong, Sick Women Well.
 It acts directly on the organs affected and is at the same time a general restorative tonic for the whole system. It cures female complaint right in the privacy of home. It makes unnecessary the disagreeable questioning, examinations and local treatment so universally insisted upon by doctors, and so abhorrent to every modest woman.
 We shall not particularize here as to the symptoms of those peculiar affections incident to women, but those wanting full information as to their symptoms and means of positive cure are referred to the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser—1008 pages, newly revised and up-to-date Edition, sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only; or, in cloth binding for 31 stamps.

THE BOOK AND THE BIG STICK.
 One of the most interesting of the stories of the late administration is the story of the book and the big stick or—
 A tale of muck raking and big sticking.
 Upton Sinclair, a novelist of the socialistic type, wrote a book called "The Jungle."
 The book told some horrid things about the practices of the Chicago packing houses. Its nauseating revelations made many of its readers—temporarily, at least—practicers of the vegetarian regime.
 The Chicago packers had an easy answer to Sinclair's book—"It is not true!"
 Then President Roosevelt got hold of the book and read it. You can fancy to yourself what he thought about it. He said out loud, "Either it is a pack of lies from beginning to end or it is true." The president thought there was no truth in the charges, but was very willing to investigate.
 He sent experts to Chicago.
 When these inspectors looked into the shambles of South Chicago they discovered that Upton Sinclair had told the truth about the filthy methods of the packers and the grave menace to the public health.
 Out came the big stick.
 Roosevelt notified the friends of the packers in the senate that unless congress should pass a good meat inspection bill instantly he would tell the whole greswome story of the revolting conditions in the big butcher shops of Packingtown.
 Here was cause for grief.
 The packers did not want the truth made public. It would give both domestic and foreign trade a big black eye. The cattlemen didn't want the story made public. And the president assured both these interests that he did not want to harm them, but—
 The president said to them, "Get busy."
 The effect was magical. They got busy.
 THE SENATE ON THE SAME DAY THE PRESIDENT GAVE OUT HIS ULTIMATUM attached the meat inspection bill as an amendment to the agricultural appropriation, and it went through without a dissenting vote.
 And the lower house was scarcely less prompt.
 That is the story of the book and the big stick, a story that will go down in American annals along with Old Hickory's message to Calhoun.
 Upton Sinclair, a writer with convictions and a purpose, combined with Theodore Roosevelt, a president with a will of his own, demonstrated that—
 Beneath the rule of men entirely great the muck rake and the big stick are mightier than the sword.

Federal Judge Edmund Waddell Jr., of the United States court for the eastern district of Virginia, in the application for naturalization of Namyo Bessho, "chief steward" in the United States navy, denied the petition, holding that under the federal statute no Japanese or alien, except of white blood or of African descent or nativity, can become an American citizen, even though he has been in the service of the United States navy or marine corps.

The Boston Herald recently made the official and exclusive announcement of the inception of a movement to commemorate the three-hundredth anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims and the founding of New England, by a world's tercentennial exposition in Boston in 1920. This will be the next world's fair.
 A mile of street paving; two more miles of cement walks; five more miles of new water mains; a modern rebuilt, telephone system; free city mail delivery; a four-story Masonic temple; a $12,000 pressed brick and stone church—these are some of the good things already assured for Roseburg this year, says the Roseburg Review.

A San Francisco woman in 1883 bought some Bell telephone stock at $1500. It has been in an old trunk ever since, drawing nothing. Just discovered it is worth $1,750,000. The discovery was made by one of the wireless telegraph people swarming the country selling stock.

If there is any one thing in the tariff bill that needs pruning its the duty on hides. Shoes have about reached the limit in price and hides on the free list is the only hope for a reduction.
 Divide up more large farms. It is good for the country, and the city, and it pays. Why would the same plan not work if applied to the big counties like Laue and Douglas?
 D'Anjou and Spitzenberg are names of streets in Medford, the former the name of a fine commercial pear, the latter a well known apple.

HAYWOOD WILL SPEAK IN COTTAGE GROVE
 Wm. D. Haywood of the Western Federation of Miners, will speak in Cottage Grove Wednesday evening, May 12th at Masonic hall.
 This will be a free lecture and affords an opportunity for those who may wish, to see one of the "Undesirables" for "Bill" Haywood is the original "Undesirable." Mr. Haywood will be remembered as a prominent figure in the great Steunenberg murder trial at Boise, Idaho.

THE OBSTINATE BOY.
 If your boy is a determined young chap who wants his own way, congratulate yourself.
 Obstinacy is a great asset in the capital stock of manhood.
 It is a force, to be sure, that needs proper aim and direction, but it holds a large place in the makeup of the mental powers. It has to do largely with success or failure.
 The boy that is hard to manage is the boy with the stuff in him—the stuff that stays.
 The power of a horse is tremendous, but it needs to be curbed and directed. Properly harnessed and guided, the horse is powerful.
 So of the boy. He also needs curbing and harnessing.
 Do not think your boy is a bad boy because he wants his own way. Those who amount to anything always want their own way—and get it.
 The way to manage a boy who has a will of his own is to manage him through his reason and his affections, not by force.
 Do not try to "break his will." He will need all his surplus will power later on. When you break his will you break his manhood. Even should you succeed in coercing him you cannot be sure that he is "conquered." He may be deceiving you. And such deception on his part hurts the boy's character.
 Oh, it is no easy work, this undertaking to manage a high strung, forceful, high spirited boy!
 But it is worth while.
 Mothers usually succeed better in such matters than fathers.
 The father may chastise and browbeat the boy. He may get the promise of obedience or sullen acquiescence, which will have no lasting effect.
 But—
 If the mother knows!
 She can appeal to the best that is in her son—his affection for her and his manliness. It is the only effective way to control a human spirit.
 Utilize the boy's obstinacy. It will make a man of him.
 The world is just beginning to appreciate the effective force of the human will. It is the will power that does things. And if the will power is to do things it must have its way. It may be guided and directed, but coerced—NEVER!

BRICK MAKING COMMENCED.
 Atkinson & Gleason put a force of ten men to work on their brick yard in west Cottage Grove this week and their big machine is turning out several thousand brick every day. Several large kilns will be put up this season, two or three of which have already been contracted for by local builders. There promises to be a big demand for brick in this city this season.

Got the Wrong Jensen.
 We noticed an article in Tuesday's Leader which tells about a Saginaw runaway last Sunday afternoon. The Leader has it that it was Mr. and Mrs. Jensen, manager of the B. K. Co's store of Saginaw. Now, in the first place, the said Mr. Jensen doesn't own a horse and buggy, nor a wife either that anyone around here knows of. It happens that there are two Mr. Jensen's at this place. The one that had the runaway is Mr. Nelson Jensen, planerman for the B. K. Co. at Saginaw, and his partner on this occasion was Henry Fisher. The rest of the story as chronicled in the Leader was about correct.
