NESMITH AND PACIFIC COUNTIES.

If Nesmith and Pacific counties both win it will greatly reduce the size of Lane county and also require adjustment of the lines of the two new counties, Pacific county taking quite a strip off the territory included in the Nesmith county scheme.—Junction City Times.

You are slightly mistaken, Brother Morehead. In establishing the western boundary line of the proposed Nesmith county, the committee adopted the summit of the coast range mountains, just as the Siuslaw people have in establishing their eastern boundary line, so there is little or no overlapping territory in the establishment of the boundaries of the proposed new counties. Provisions for the creation of a new coast county from west Lane and Douglas, to complete the chain of coast counties was made by the committee drafting the Nesmith county boundary lines, so there can be no conflicting territory in the creation of Nesmith and Pacific counties. May they both win in 1910.

A BOOSTERS PLEDGE.

On my word and honor I hereby now declare that as long as I am a resident of this community, it will be my constant aim to boost at all times and every time.

I will do what I can for any public work that has the good of the community as its object.

I will submit to and abide by majority rule and will not knock and howl if things are not done my way.

I will take no radical or extreme position on any question before the people, and will have due respect for the opinions of my friends and neighbors when their opinions are opposed to mine.

I will try to say something good about my city and my people or keep my mouth shut.

I realize that if this community is good enough to live in and make my money in, it is the proper place to spend my money.—Beacon.

"Roseburg is learning a valuable lesson, and that is that a city is built up by the people who live in it, and do not wait for outsiders to come and build it up for them. Our street paving work now well under way, is laying the foundation here for a real city. This fact is becoming known abroad and many other people will soon be coming here to reside. Finding conditions congenial they will soon induce their friends to follow. These will bring others, and so on. Yes, paving is a good investment."

We take the above from the Review and we print it for our own good. Truly, cities are built up by those who live in them.

A old eastern Oregon Indian chief recently purchased a fine automobile. He bet his grandson, a horse-jockey, that his machine could beat any horse in a 100-yard dash with a standing start. Result: Collision, horse killed, auto wrecked, and old Ben Hur dies of his hurts. Poor lo! Too much civilization. With firewater and benzine buggies, his troubles are many.

About the time Silk Creek gets on the rampage and takes out the truss and city water main, which spans the creek at a narrow gorge on wall street, the city will be sorry it did not order the channel of the creek widened at this point.

If we don't get some real summer weather this month—there won't be any "good old summer time" this year—only one delightful springtime.

Spend a dollar in Cottage Grove and you may have a chance at it again.

INTERESTING MEETING OF THE CITY COUNCIL

Ordinance Passed Over Mayor's Veto. Paving Ordinance Will Pass at Next Meeting

The City Council met in regular session Monday evening. A petition was presented for the improvement of Shepard street, but was postponed for action until next meeting.

The new petition for the paving of Main street was read and upon motion was allowed, the old ordinance formerly lost being read and reconsidered. This ordinance will pass and become effective in 30 days, or after the next regular council meeting.

The marshal was instructed to post trespass notices in the city park prohibiting driving across the cement pavements and staking cows in the park.

A remonstrance against the improvement of north first street was accepted and this ordinance, No. 234 declared lost.

The city engineer's report on streets was read and accepted.

The profile for proposed storm sewer back of Spray-Wynne Co's. store was presented and the sewer committee instructed to solicit a subscription fund to defray the expense of this sewer and report at the next meeting.

Ordinance No. 236, providing for the purchase of a rock crusher and power road roller to install in the city rock quarry, which was vetoed by the mayor at the last meeting of the council at this time and passed over the mayor's veto. Some sewer ordinances were read and action deferred for correction.

Ordinances 241 and 242 providing for levying assessments to pay for the improvements of "E" and Locust street, were passed.

The usual monthly expense bills were allowed.

Portland Business College.

The attention of our readers is asked to the advertisement of the Portland Business College appearing in this issue of the Leader. The advantages of the school mentioned are set forth in forceful, straight-from-the-shoulder expressions. The motto or slogan in the line following the ornamental script heading is full of meaning. "The School of Quality" should be both inspiring and encouraging to young people who desire to prepare themselves for commercial careers. Anyone interested in a practical education will do well to send for a catalogue of the school mentioned. It is a beautiful specimen of the printer's art, and contains full information about the several courses of study, besides a number of specimens of penmanship, samples of business forms, etc. It may be had for the asking.

Hogs continue to make new records in the Portland market. What is said to have been the highest price ever paid in any market in the United States was realized here during the past week when $9.50 was paid for a bunch of fine porkers. Many other sales at better than $9 per 100 pounds were made in the local stockyards. These attractive figures ought to encourage farmers to raise more hogs.

The tariff bill is at last completed, everybody must be pleased. The reductions apply to five billions of imports, and the increase to one billion. That is revision downward, all right.

Colorado women are planning to elect women members of congress. Some persons are unkind enough to declare there's already too much talking in Congress, says the Statesman.

It's one of the curious anomalies of life that the people most worried about this income tax matter are the one's who have no income.

A Colorado mining man said recently: "Colorado's mining days are over, that is the big lively mining days. The old-time miner, who used to be a part of Colorado's scenery and who helped to make things lively is fast disappearing and the quiet, inactive farmer is taking his place." Oregon's mining districts are just beginning to show life.
