"Where You Do Better"

Pleased With Our City and Resources.

G. A. Manwaring and family and his wife's sister, Miss Ethel Davenport, of Inwood, Iowa, were guests of their old friends, F. B. Phillips and family of this city last week. Several days were spent in camp life, fishing and hunting in the tall timber on Mosby creek, which was a great treat to the Iowans. Mr. Manwaring is cashier of the Farmer's National Bank of his home town and is also interested in lumbering and therefore the fine timber of this section was a great revelation to him and he greatly deplored the apparent wastefulness of our mill men in cutting out only the best of the timber and leaving so much which would be of great value east, lying around to decay. Mr. Manwaring may return to the west again next year and invest in some Oregon timber. The family left for Seattle Saturday to visit the exposition, after which they will return home.

MISTAKEN FOR A DEER AND KILLED

Roseburg, Or., Aug. 7.—The first fatality of the season in this region due to a hunter's mistaking a man for a deer occurred Saturday morning at 8 o'clock, when M. D. Ferguson a Yoncalla farmer, was shot and almost instantly killed in Elk Head canyon, near Yoncalla, by a companion named Bacon, of Cottage Grove.

Ferguson was killed just eight miles east of the place where Herman Westenheiser was killed by the accidental discharge of his own rifle June 15.

Ferguson and Bacon were accompanied on their hunting expedition by two men, Lafleur and Brumfield of Cottage Grove. When they reached the canyon at Elk Head they adopted the common method of hunting. One man stationed himself at the head of the canyon while the other three started to the bottom to beat the brush, where deer are apt to be concealed. While making his way down the side of the canyon Bacon saw Ferguson crawling through the brush. Taking deliberate aim, he sent a bullet through Ferguson's body. He hastened across the canyon to secure his supposed game and found his companion in his death struggle. Ferguson died as Bacon reached his side.

Ferguson came to Yoncalla about a year ago. He was middle aged and leaves a wife and six children.

Room for You In Cottage Grove

Cottage Grove is in the Sunny South of the Beautiful Willamette Valley and is at present the center of the largest body of standing timber in the world, of commercial value.

Cottage Grove offers more opportunities in every line of industry than any like area in the Pacific States. The geographical location makes this point the chief trading center for the thirty-one sawmills, logging camps, gold, silver, copper, lead and quick silver mines which lie within a radius of thirty miles.

This section is the home of the famous Comice Pear and every variety of American Grapes. Spitzenberg, Yellow Newton and Baldwin Apples here attain perfection and are eagerly sought for by the New York buyers. This can be wondered at by those who are not familiar with the fact, however, New York fruit raisers are coming here and purchasing land upon which to raise the above mentioned fruits.

This section is adapted to the raising of every known variety of fruit that will exist outside of the tropics, for with an elevation of 671 feet and no prevailing high winds or sudden climatic changes, the conditions as found here that conform to the requirements of all fruits.

If you are an energetic citizen, wanting to improve your condition physically or financially, do not grab at a straw, but investigate this section, for there is "Room for you in Cottage Grove."
