FAIR DAMSELS TO SETTLE ON CLAIMS

As an instance of the courage and business acumen of the western girl, the following is of more than passing interest.

Among the many who are holding down their claims in the 7—9 district are the following young ladies all of whom were registered recently at the Commercial Hotel: Helen Gilday, S. H. Knox, Rose Bronken, Tom Knox, Zella Knox, Bell Porter, Merle McKeloe, Del Worthington, Vera Redman, Edith Keep, Kira McKeloe. All of these young ladies have claims close together and have formed what they call "The Harem" or a little community of their own.

To hold down a lonely claim for five long years is a task that many a man would shrink from and eventually give up, but when intellectual young women, accustomed to the conveniences of modern life and with woman's natural timidity, will venture and abide and "make good" this paper believes they are entitled to more than passing praise.—Willamina Times.

Big Log Drive Well on Way.
