Very Seasonable Show Window.

Perhaps the most seasonable, most attractive and artistic show window display in this city for the Thanksgiving season was that of Simeral & Van Denburg, the furniture dealers. It consisted of a setting of their very finest dining room furniture, the table being supplied with a great roast turkey and all of the delicacies of the season, with plates laid as if ready for the guests, the whole presenting a most inviting spectacle to the hungry passer-by. A large dish filled with Oregon's famous red apples and yellow pears was in evidence on the side board and the arrangement generally was that of a well appointed dining room. Simeral & Van Denburg are entitled to the blue ribbon for this artistic and seasonable window display.

Called On Grand Jury.
