HAMPTON & CO.

A Splendid Entertainment.

The Schubert Symphony Club and Ladies Quartet made a decided hit at the Armory Theatre Saturday evening. This company gave their concert here under the auspices of the High school, a per cent of the receipts going into the High school piano fund. A large audience greeted the company and it was the best thing of its nature that has been given here for a long time. Every member of the company is an artist in the truest sense of the word. Especially meritorious was the work of Thomas Valentine Purcell on the violin and mandolin, and the singing of Miss Leeta Corder, soprano. She has a wonderful voice and in her solo Saturday evening she completely captivated the audience. Anna Pearl Weatherington's readings were very realistic and were a prominent feature of the entertainment. She also sang first alto in the quartet to advantage. Lovie Zandt Purcell, second alto, has a very deep voice, and appeared to advantage in the quartet, also in a solo. Miss Cecil Osik, second soprano, is very proficient on the mandolin and rendered valuable service in the quartet.
