LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Roads are drying up rapidly. Easter two weeks from next Sunday. Mrs. Lawton is a guest of friends at Creswell. Saint Patrick's day a week from next Thursday, the 17th. Building activity came with the advent of real spring weather. When you want the best paints oils and varnish, call on A. H. Cruson. MS⁸ Farmers commenced the early spring grain sowing hereabouts Monday morning. H. H. Veatch, the hardware man, was transacting business in Portland this week. Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Orpurd spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Chas. Cochran, at Creswell. About time for the town fellow to spade up the back yard for early lettuce, onion and radish beds. Miss Anna Oglesby returned home from Eugene Monday where she has been a guest of friends. Mrs. Joseph Porter of this city visited last week with her daughter Mrs. Horace Cochran, at Roseburg. Before you buy your smoked salt fish for Lent, see that fine stock carried at Metcalf & Brund's. Train service has been as bad as it could be for the past two weeks, few trains running on time. For Lent, smoked salmon and halibut, salt herring, salmon and mackerel at Metcalf & Brund's. A. D. Owens & Son steamed up their new donkey engine at their mill on Silk creek west of this city today. Mrs. Eugene Matlock of Eugene, was a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Johnson, of this city last week. The Junction City Epworth League will present the song "Hiawatha" in character and costume at that place Friday evening. Miss Frances Howard, of Dorena was a guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Abrams of this city several days late last week. S. B. Morss recently put the old orchards of John P. Spray in East Cottage Grove and Jas. H. McFarland in West Cottage Grove in good condition. Hon. R. A. Booth and wife of Eugene spent Saturday at Saginaw where Mr. Booth was looking after his lumbering interests while Mrs. Booth was visiting with relatives. Harry Short and A. L. Wynne have recently received fine new instruments, the former a new French horn and the latter a fine new Holton special slide trombone. H. D. Lincoln's meat market was supplied with the finest of beef the past week, one of which dressed 850 pounds. He secured this fine bunch of beef cattle from the Cooley Brothers. Sunday was one of those beautiful warm, sunny early spring days which has made Oregon weather famous. McFarland Butte was a popular resort for the townspeople in the afternoon. Mrs. Mike Wald and her sister, Miss Anna Hohl went to Cottage Grove Saturday, where Mrs. Wald will stay until Mike has secured a place in Portland to live, as he is obliged to make headquarters there. —Register.

The Griffin-Veatch Company received an elegant new stock of all kinds of fishing tackle this week. Rods from 25 cents up to $15 each. The Anglers should keep an eye on the Griffin-Veatch Company show windows. J. Hardy Crow, of Lorane, was transacting business in Cottage Grove Saturday. He says the hauling of fruit trees for the big Lorane orchard enterprise has cut the road up very bad on the mountain between this city and Lorane. Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Godard, of Nebraska, who bought the A. J. Stewart residence property on Fourth street last fall, returned to this city Sunday to occupy their property and make this city their future home. Mr. and Mrs. Godard are parents of Mrs. E. K. Spencer of this city. C. H. Zeigler and wife, late of Fresno, California, purchased last week through the Veatch & Spencer real estate company the D. A. Smith property on Fourth street, comprising an acre or more of fine garden and fruit land, and they are very favorably impressed with this locality.

Dick Spang was fined $100 for bootlegging at Eugene this week. Mrs. C. V. Oglesby and little son of Eugene, are guests of Dr. Oglesby and family. Work on Cottage Grove's 12 foot concrete sidewalks on Main street will be resumed soon. Attorneys J. S. Medley, W. C. Counter and J. C. Johnson are attending court at Eugene. Granges throughout the state are passing resolutions demanding the parcels post and the postal savings bank. The Notarial commission of Miss Mabel Haggard, of the Booth-Kelly Co., has been filed for record with the county clerk. G. W. McQueen, A. P. Churchill, J. B. Lewis, Orvil Spear, Clyde Langdon and W. H. Lincoln were Eugene visitors Monday. Mike Wald went to Portland Saturday to prepare for his work on the road. Mike will soon be a full fledged commercial man.—Register.

R. L. Bancroft, L. G. Shinn and C. F. Hughes recently paid $10,000 for a five acre choice winter apple orchard in Grand Valley near Grand Junction, Colorado. Mrs. M. F. DesLarzes has sold 400 incubator eggs from her white Wyandotts to W. B. Mixer of McMinville for $25 and one setting from her golden Wyandotts for $2. S. B. Morss, the nurseryman, presented the Leader with a peach sprout, Monday, which is nine feet in length, representing a single year's growth. He also presented us with a pear sprout or limb showing a five foot growth for last season. The Knights of Pythias of Cottage Grove will hold a big meeting on the night of March 16, at which time 20 or more candidates will be initiated. The degree team from Helmet Lodge of Eugene, will probably put on the work. Other members of the lodge will accompany the team.—Guard.

Mrs. David Griggs and little daughter, accompanied by Mrs. Griggs' mother, Mrs. I. H. Bingham returned home from Eugene Saturday, the first Mrs. Griggs has been able to be out since she fell and fractured her arm at the Eugene theatre on the occasion of the Schumann-Heink concert. Garden and flower seeds of all kinds at Cook's. E. K. Gowdy, who several years ago was a salesman in the Griffin-Veatch Hardware store in this city and who latter engaged in the grocery business in Roseburg, is a guest of Cottage Grove friends. Two years ago Mr. Gowdy sold his business at Roseburg and spent the winter at Los Angeles, but for the past year he has been engaged in farming at North Yakima, Wash., an occupation he did not like in that overestimated locality. The Leader editor has a just grievance against Mr. Gowdy of several years standing. He didn't put any type in our office or anything of that kind, but he married the head compositor in our office, and thereby attempted to suppress the paper. Mrs. Gowdy is visiting with her parents and friends at Drain, while Mr. Gowdy is looking for a new location and may cast his lot here. A nice line of salt fish for Lent at Metcalf & Brund's.

The subject of Rev. Robert Sutcliffe's address at the M. E. Church Sunday evening was "Methodism and strong drink" and this proved to be one of the very best temperance sermons ever delivered in this city. He said he had lived in many prohibition towns, but had never found one so free from bootlegging, "blind pigs" and more orderly and well governed than Cottage Grove, and here he gave the city marshal full credit for the part he plays in law enforcement in this municipality. The church edifice was well filled on this occasion, the orchestra rendered a splendid sacred overture, there was a pretty vocal solo by Mrs. Harry Brehaut, and sacred music by the choir—a most interesting and uplifting service.

MODERN PHARMACY CHANGES HANDS.

The transfer of the stock and business of the Modern Pharmacy was effected by David Griggs and his brother, Hiram Griggs, Monday, C. J. Kem, a registered pharmacist, of Lebanon, Oregon, who is a son of our esteemed townsman, O. H. Kem, being the purchaser. The Griggs brothers completed the invoicing of their stock Monday when the transfer was made. Mr. Kem has been engaged in the drug business at Lebanon for a number of years, but having an opportunity to dispose of his interests there and engage in the same business here where his parents reside, was the incentive for the change. He is a graduate pharmacist of the George Washington College of Washington, D. C. and is a young man of considerable practical experience. The Griggs brothers have built up a good business here and have a store as the name implies, modern in every respect, and their successor, Mr. Kem, will be able to fully maintain the reputation for purity of drugs and accuracy in compounding prescriptions established by the Messrs Griggs. David Griggs has also long been manager of the local telephone system of this city, which is to be improved and modernized this spring and which Mr. Griggs expects to give his entire time and attention. Mr. Kem expects to be able to assume personal charge of the Modern Pharmacy in about two weeks, which time will be occupied in closing up his business affairs at Lebanon and moving his household goods to this city. The Leader joins in extending Mr. and Mrs. Kem, a hearty welcome to our city.
