SENTIMENTAL TRIP CUT SHORT

Mr. and Mr Roosevelt Showered With Flags and Flowers.

Genoa, Italy, April 9. — Though "deelighted" to an unusual degree, but in mind and spirit much perturbed, dore Roosevelt and wife were compel-led to call a halt today to their sentimental tour.

At every village or crossroads they were met by men, women and children, the former with flags and the latter with bouquets.

As an instance of the demonstrations accorded them, 600 persons, many of them Americans, acclaimed Colonel Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt with vivas and hurrahs after they left Rapallo, where they had luncheon today. This was the climax of their embarrasssments and Colonel Roosevelt gave or-ders to be driven direct to Genoa.

The people and press of Genoa have manifested the most intense interest in the movements of Colonel Roosevelt. His second honeymoon journey stirred their romantic natures to a high pitch, and when the news spread today of his coming, a big crowd hurried to the modest Hotel Brittannia, where he had engaged quarters, and with cheering and waving of hats greeted Roosevelt's carriage as it rattled up the stony street to the accompaniment of the driver's wildly cracking whip.

Both Colonel and Mrs. Roosevelt were smiling when they descended from the carriage at the hotel enrance. They said they had enjoyed the trip hugely and were sorry only that the failure to observe their incognito by the people had compelled them to cut it short. Colonel Roosevelt said he had a "bully time" Thursday, when he and My Roosevelt days when he and Mrs. Roosevelt drove along the sunny slopes of the Ligurian Alps from Spezia to Rapallo.

Half an hour after the arrival of Colonel Roosevelt, the prefect and the mayor of Genoa called on him and greeted him in the name of the city.

Colonel Roosevelt relates an amusing incident of the trip. When he and Mrs. Roosevelt reached the top of the pass at Sestri Levante, where they stopped last night, the enterprising proprietor of a tavern-a rival to the one in which they had engaged rooms sent out couriers in advance bearing American and Italian flags and triumphantly escorted Colonel Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt to his own hotel.

Baltimore, April 7.—The Rev. William E. Hauff, pastor of Jerusalem Evangelical Lutheran church, of Gardenville, an eastern suburb of this city, persisted in reading his sermons until some of his congregation told him he was no longer needed. The preacher declares that the church door was locked by some of his flock, who then barricaded the door with boards nailed Sermons Don't Please.

A DISRESPECTFUL ANIMAL.

Miss Caroline and Miss Matilda Bargle lived in an old-fashioned house with a lean-to shed, the roof of which ran nearly to the ground. Returning from church one day, they noticed on approaching their dwelling that the churchgoers ahead of them paused in passing, and gazed upward with interest and mirth. A moment later they saw why. Their neighbor's billy-goat had escaped, mounted the lean-to to the ridge-pole of the kitchen roof, and with one end of a flaring circus poster streaming banner-like from his jaws, stood outlined boldly against the sky, a chamois on a mountain peak, calmly contemplating the Sabbath procession. Miss Matilda laughed. Miss Caroline did not.

"The abominable beast!" she gasped, deeply scandalized. "I never saw any thing so-so disrespectful!" The goat is indeed a disrespectful animal. He is no respecter either of property or person, as many an indi-vidual held in honor by mankind has ruefully discovered. Admiral Evans has related with pride, as a worthy achievement, his triumph in his earlier days over a refractory goat on ship-board, which refused to yield the milk required for a sick man. After it had baffled everybody whose proper task it was to secure the milk, the captain sent for Evans, and direct ed him to go and get it.

Evans respectfully intimated that he had not supposed "milking goats to be part of the duty of a navigating officer;" but the captain thereupon asked it as a favor, and he undertook the

With a little warm water, much persuasion, some firmness, and a recollection of the ways of certain "darkies" with misbehaving cows, he succeeded, and was unmercifully chaffed by his comrades on his success. Indeed, he was far from happy in it until he had taught his method to a marine, and was assured that he would not have to keep on milking for the rest of the He was more fortunate than another distinguished man, Horace Greeley, who was a conspicuous failure as a milker of goats, although he was bred to the farm and Evans to the sea. When, in accordance with Mrs. Gree-ley's theories of diet, goat's milk was desired for their little son, they attempted to keep a goat in their New York premises, and Mr. Greeley undertook to milk it. His ignominious tussles with the creature became a source of delighted mirth to his neighbors. One saw from his rear windows the omplete overthrow of the great editor in his back yard, while the goat remained victoriously chewing the latest edition of the Tribune, which had fallen from Mr. Greeley's pocket in the contest. He relates that he called down to him, gleefully:

"Well, Mr. Greeley, nanny, there, hasn't much respect for editors!"
Sitting on his hat, and with one foot in an overturned barrel, Mr. Greeley, in his high, squeaky voice, called back: "No matter, no matter! The man is nothing and the opinions everything. You see she appreciates the Tribune!

MEXICO'S RICHEST MAN.

The mule supply for most of Mexico comes from the Terrazas ranches. These animals now number more than one million head and are scattered over the different properties. General Terrazas' cattle holdings number more than one million head. Several hundren thousand head of goats and sheep graze upon this land. It is said that the choicest grass lands in northern Mexico are embraced in the Terrazas estate. Streams of running water pass through them, and the grass grows luxuriantly the greater part of the year.

Some idea of the vastness of these landed possessions may be had when it is known that more than ten thousand men are kept constantly looking after the live stock. The services of one thousand men are required to 'ride the fences." It is the duty of these fence riders to see that the wires are kept intact, so that the ..ve stock cannot escape from the pastures. Many thousand miles of wire were used in constructing the boundary fences. More than a score of towns, some of them of considerable size, are
