

The Fair

Woodward Building
Cottage Grove's new store is now open for business
ANNOUNCEMENT

A Handy Store.
A lady remarked one day: "This is such a handy store. I can find so many things here that I want without having to run all over town to get what I want."
Now, that's just what we want. The fair to be—a "handy store"—a place where you can drop in and easily find a thousand and one things daily needed in the home, on the farm or for personal use.

Looking Made Easy.
As you will notice, we display our goods in plain sight on tables and shelving built with the special object of making it easy for anyone to see and handle goods. You will find it interesting to look over, whether you care to buy or not.

Special Bargain Counters.
Take a careful look at our 5c, 10c and 15c counters. They are loaded with bargains. Keep your eye on our windows, too. Some extra good values will be offered in our windows from time to time.

About Delivering Goods.
We do not deliver packages that can be conveniently carried by customers.

Large orders and large articles, like tubs, boilers, etc., will be delivered in town without extra charge.

Never Urge You To Buy.
Our salespeople have positive instructions never to urge anyone to buy. Drop in any time and see what we have and get our prices. We are here to show goods and would be pleased to sell you, but our goods and prices must do the selling.

Prices Plainly Marked.
There is no secret about our prices. Every article in our store is plainly priced, and the marked price is our selling price—we know our prices are right, and goods will be sold to all alike at just what they are marked.

A WORD IN CONFIDENCE TO YOU

Keep in mind that we will have the largest and choicest assortment of toys, dolls, fancy Chinaware, and other goods for the Christmas trade ever seen in Cottage Grove.

C. J. SKOW, Prop.

Elocutionary Commencement.
The commencement exercises of Mrs. Ora Reed Hemenway's private school of Elocution will be held at the M. E. Church Monday evening Sept. 19. The following program will be rendered: Music, selected, Mrs. Robert Sutcliffe; Rendition of the book, "The Worst Foe," Mrs. Frank DeWitt Wheeler; Solo, "Swinging" Miss Vena Wheeler. Presentation of diploma, Mrs. Ora Reed Hemenway. Benediction, Rev. Sutcliffe. Admission free. Program commences at 8 o'clock. Doors closed after 8:15 o'clock.

Get in and register as the books close September 14.

Terms Strictly Cash.
Our 24 years experience in this line of business has demonstrated that in order to give our customers the best service and the most for their money, we must sell for cash and for cash only. We do not question anyone's willingness or ability to pay. We simply have to hold strictly to the cash plan, no matter how small the amount, in order to run this sort of store for the best interests of both ourselves and our customers.

Our Buying Power.
We are associated with the U. S. Syndicate Stores in the east. The Syndicate buying, in immense quantities and importing all dishes, toys, dolls, etc., direct from Europe and buy other lines from American factories, thus cutting out the middleman's profit enables us to procure the goods at very low prices. For this and other reasons, we can make very reasonable prices to our customers and at times pick up snags that will make your dollars do double duty.

The Goods We Handle.
Tinware, graniteware, woodenware, hardware, glassware, queensware, lamps, stationery, post cards, notions, hosiery, towels, handkerchiefs, toys, dolls, looking glasses, etc., etc.

Special Notice.
Glassware, Crockery, Queensware, etc. all carefully examined to be in good condition before packing and giving to customers, consequently we do not under any consideration exchange or make good any broken ware.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Barfield's modern cottage home on Perkins hill is near completion. The windmill tower and tank is also beginning to loom up. A grand view will be afforded from this new home.

Albert Woodard and Misses Armored Sutcliffe and Maude Hooper graduates from the Cottage Grove High school last year will attend Willamette University at Salem, and thereby complete their education.

Ex-State Game Warden, J. W. Baker has moved his household goods to Albany where the family will reside. Their many Cottage Grove friends will regret this decision on the part of Mr. Baker and family.

Mrs. W. H. Ostrander has returned from a ten weeks' visit to her old home at Warren, Minnesota. She was accompanied home by her brother, R. W. Lang, of Leola, South Dakota, who expects to make this place his future home.

John F. Spray is surveying his tract of 375 acres two miles east of Cottage Grove, and will place it on the market in five and ten acre pieces. Every tract will be irrigated and a perpetual right to water given. See ad.

City Marshal Frank Snodgrass went to Salem early Friday to witness the hanging of I. N. Harrell, for the murder of Herbert and Walter Newell in Lake county last spring. It was the most horrifying spectacle ever witnessed on the gallows in this state says Marshal Snodgrass, for when Harrell dropped the rope cut the jugular vein and the condemned man's clothing was drenched in his own blood. He was pronounced dead in three minutes. Marshal Snodgrass was a member of the executioner's jury.

Some Idaho land buyers who came to Cottage Grove last week from Eugene to look around expressed surprise at finding as large a town as Cottage Grove and such a fine country tributary thereto, as they had been told by Eugene real estate dealers that Cottage Grove was only a little burz of about 800 people and that there was nothing desirable in the way of farm lands around the place. This kind of contemptible knocking is lowering Eugene in the estimation of new comers every day. These people would go back to Idaho, before they would return to Eugene and invest now, after finding out how they had been deceived and lied to by those envious Eugene real estate knockers.

J. I. Jones returned from the state fair at Salem Monday where he entered his imported English Shire Stallion, "Bouncing Boy," and the Coach Co's horse "Wollenberg." He says the prospects are good for the greatest state fair ever held in Oregon.

Poultrymen should not place medicated eggs in nests for nest eggs as the strong odor therefrom will ruin a fresh egg in a very few minutes. They should only be used under setting hens and should only be left in a nest an hour at a time.

Bert Richmond has succeeded Ed Finnerty as clerk in the office of the O. & S. E. Railroad Company at this place, Mr. Finnerty having accepted a position as teacher of one of the grades in the Albany schools under Superintendent A. L. Briggs.

Charles Conner has leased the Edgar King farm located one and a half miles below this city for a period of five years together with quite a flock of sheep and goats and will move thereon and assume personal management of the place this fall. Mr. King will build on his fine acreage tract along the railroad in the north suburbs of Cottage Grove and improve this property, at the same time giving his sons the advantage of the Cottage Grove schools.

"School days, school days, good old golden rule days: Reading and Writing and arithmetic, taught to the tune of a hickory stick."

The more good farmers there are in a community the higher the price of land.

Don't fail to see "A Texas Ranger" at the Armory Saturday evening. Its a big hit.

An old man by the name of Shafer was committed to the asylum from Loraue Monday.

The city schools opened under the most favorable conditions Monday with a large attendance.

If you are in need of good, honest shoe repairing at bedrock prices take your foot wear to Goff, Cochran's bicycle shop.

A Georgia man originated the Elberta peach. Out of 1,200 seedlings only one proved good and he named it Elberta after his wife.

Mrs. Harris Armour, a temperance lecturer of national reputation will deliver an address in Cottage Grove Oct. 17. This is the only place she will speak in the state outside of cities like Eugene, Salem and Portland.

U. S. Bales was down from Dorena, Saturday and favored the Leader with a pleasant call and a subscription renewal. The Bales brothers have the finest apple orchard in this section of the state and have a fine crop this season.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Scholl of Hubbard, father and mother of our esteemed townsman, Dave Scholl, spent the past week visiting at their son's home in this city. The Elder Scholl is a prosperous hardware and farm implement dealer at Hubbard.

Eugene Miller, who left Cottage Grove late in August for Alberta, Canada, on arriving at Leduc, 30 miles south of Edmonton, reports grain growing as tall as he is and native grass and wild peas kuce deep. He is now in the Beaver Lake district and reports crops good and wild duck and prairie chicken hunting fine.

Irving H. Wilson is a new acquisition to the Silk Creek valley having bought a nice little farm in that neighborhood and moved thereon. Mr. Wilson was in town Thursday and favored the Leader with a pleasant call and subscription for a year. He is a very genial gentleman and we welcome him to this community.

Upon a recent visit of Editor Baxter of Creswell, upon the Leader, we were surprised to learn that Creswell merchants are paying a far better price for advertising space in his paper than is received here. The Leader and Sentinel advertising rates are the lowest received by any newspapers published in the Willamette valley and still there are many local merchants who are not advertising in either paper.

A portion of the Arthur Roach apple orchard, one mile west of Coburg, one of the finest in the state, has just been sold to Benjamin F. Riddle of Medford. The tract of land bought by him consists of 30 acres, 25 of which are set to Baldwin and Jonathan apples, and the purchase price was $350 an acre, making a $10,500 deal. This orchard, which is ten years old, is said by experts to be one of the finest in the entire state.

It is a rather queer coincidence that Rev. Robert Sutcliffe pastor of the local Methodist church and Dr. Benjamin Young, pastor of the Taylor street Methodist church Portland, both preached sermons Sunday on Religion and the Labor Union, both proving themselves staunch friends of labor.

Rev. Sutcliffe in the course of his sermon practically predicted the political event in Maine which has just created such universal surprise.

Experience Is The Best Teacher
And it is through experience that we have learned the merits of the Celebrated Mallory Hat. The numerous customers who asked for a Mallory Hat at our store in the past and who would accept no other caused us to "sit up and take notice." We profited by this experience and have secured the agency for this famous hat for Cottage Grove.

CHURCH NOTES AND ANNOUNCEMENTS.

According to a dispatch the Mormons are looking toward Mexico as the promised land where polygamy and all other ancient customs of their church may be practiced. It seems plain that polygamy would still be a common practice of that church were it not for the fact that the practice has been frowned down and placed under the ban of the law in this country.

Jesse Kellum's sermons at the Christian Church last Sunday were most earnest and effective. Mr. Kellum will undoubtedly be a great evangelist when he is fully matured.

"The noted Irish Orator" J. Fanning of Philadelphia, Pa., will speak at the Christian church Tuesday evening, October 11. He is under the direction of the Prohibition State Committee. As an orator and reformer he is most highly spoken of. "A man of exceptional powers on the platform" —Francis E. Willard. "There is no man in America more competent to discuss all phases of the great liquor problem of today intelligently, eloquently and convincingly." —Samuel W. Small.

The Topeka Kansas Capitol says: "No abler advocate of prohibition ever appeared before a Topeka audience." Washington Post. "He is an eloquent and forceful speaker, combining an impressive presence, a rare Irish wit and logical reasoner."

"The Sabbath Question," will be discussed at the Christian church next Sunday morning at 11 a. m. Those who in any way have been confused on this question are especially invited to hear the discussion. Christian Endeavor at 6:30 p. m. At the evening service Pastor W. A. Elkins will preach a sermon, the subject of which will be "Heaven's Light on Earth's Drudgery." This discourse will be of interest to all toilers. One week from Sunday evening Rev. Elkins will impersonate "King David's Lament."

The last services of the Conference year take place next Sunday at the Methodist church. Let every member and attendant strive to be present. Public worship at 11 a. m. with sermon by pastor on "Sympathy." Peoples popular service at 8 p. m. with address by Robert Sutcliffe on Sunday School —A new degree of Honor. Selections by chorus choir and Brotherhood orchestra. Bible school at 10. Miss Jessie Berg conducts the League devotional meeting at 7. Last week no less than 62 were marked present. We want to get above that at this time. Will you help? A hearty welcome to all.
