Not Up-to-Date.
The historic town of Bladensburg, Md., had a good bit of fun poked at it by reason of its alleged sleepiness. For instance, the story is told that a Bladensburg merchant was dozing in his shop one day when a little boy came in with a pitcher and asked for a quart of milk. The merchant yawned, stretched himself, half opened his eyes, and then, in the most injured tone, said: "Gee whis. Ain't there nobody that sells milk in this town but me?"

That Cold Room
on the side of the house where winter blasts strike hardest always has a lower temperature than the rest of the house. There are times when it is necessary to raise the temperature quickly or to keep the temperature up for a long period. That can't be done by the regular method of heating without great trouble and overheating the rest of the house. The only reliable method of heating such a room alone by other means is to use a PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER
Absolutely smokeless and odorless which can be kept at full or low heat for a short or long time. Four quarts of oil will give a glowing heat for nine hours, without smoke or smell.
An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. Filler-cap does not screw on; but is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached by a chain and cannot get lost.
An automatic-locking flame spreader prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that it can be cleaned in an instant.
The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, and can be unscrewed in a instant for reworking. Finished in japan or nickel, strong, durable, well made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental. Has a cool handle.

Denouncing a Reincarnation.
Whereas an ignorant upstart in astrology has publicly endeavored to persuade the world that he is the late John Partridge, who died the 28th of March, 1718, these are to certify all whom it may concern, that the true John Partridge was not only dead at that time, but continues so to the present day. Beware of counterfeits, for such are abroad.—From a London Newspaper, 1718.

MAKING USE OF OLD LINEN
One of the Most Valuable Assets of the Housekeepers and Should Be Kept.
No old linen should ever be thrown away. It is one of the most valuable assets of the housekeeper. When sheets wear away in the middle cut them down the center. Put the two outside edges together so as to form a seam and hem the outer thin edges.
When the new center wears out also cut the good pieces into squares as large as possible, edge them with tulle or crocheted lace and utilize them for tea table or tray cloths. The remainder tear into long strips, wash, mangle and roll up and keep them for use in case of illness.
Old huckabacks make an excellent polishing cloth for plate. For wiping delicate china old linen has no equal.
Old muslin curtains should be well boiled to free them from starch. The muslin makes good bags for tying up herbs and spices in soups and stews, while, if the meshes are not too large, it will be found the very thing for straining sauces and gravies.
Salt bags should never be thrown away. Well boiled to remove the dressing the material contains they will be found to provide really very useful jelly bags.

A Pillow for Baby.
A dainty baby pillow is made in this way: A plain center of the material is left quite large enough for the baby's head and a circle of oval velvet worked which are run with pale blue or pink ribbon, tied at the top in a soft bow of loops and ends. A wreath of small flowers worked solid can also be embroidered just beyond the circle of eyelets if one wishes a more elaborate pillow. Finish the pillow case with a hemstitched hem on the edge of which fine narrow Valenciennes lace can be whipped.
Hats for Juniors.
Simplicity in the millinery world should be adhered to emphatically when the young girls are fitted out for the autumn.
The most attractive models are those that reflect the colors of the autumn. Brown with touches of red or yellow is always good. The dull moss green or stone grays touched up with purples that hint of autumn skies are usually becoming to young girlish faces.
Be Your Own Guest.
Go and sleep in your own guest room once in a while.
Only in this way can you be sure that it is quite comfortable for your guests, and remedy any existing defects.
Many a hostess has no idea that her visitors are forced to limit their fresh air supply during the night because the morning sun streams directly into their eyes in bed. And the bed could be moved quite as easily.
Try to settle down yourself in this guest room of yours, and see if perhaps it has not the faults of other rooms in which you have visited, and excoriated.
Does the bed creak, and does the maid habitually tuck the sheets in firmly at the bottom?
Do you keep the closet cleared out, and supplied with coat hangers, and do you leave at least one bureau drawer free?
Is the lounging chair comfortable, and have you arranged the light, or provided lamp and table, so that the sweet may read while in bed before

Parisian Fancies

THE gown at the left is of smoke gray and yellow mousseline de soie made up over yellow liberty, the two thin materials being used together—the gray over the yellow in charming effect.
The corsage forms a part of fichu bordered with a little ruffle. It is trimmed with embroidered bands and straps of gray mousseline de soie, and crosses in front and is finished with a narrow girle and a large rosette of yellow glace taffeta. The plastron is of yellow mousseline de soie tucked crosswise and trimmed with fine and Irish lace. The skirt is gathered at the top and bottom, where it is drawn in with ruffles and embroidered bands. The other gown is of black mousseline de soie made up over red liberty.
The corsage and sleeves are cut together and trimmed with platted ruffles of the mousseline de soie edged with black liberty ribbons. The plastron is of red mousseline de soie tucked crosswise and ornamented with tiny red passementerie buttons. The knots and girle are of red liberty.
The skirt, also of the black mousseline de soie, is drawn in at the bottom with a ruffle of the same, bordered with the black liberty ribbons.

MAKING USE OF OLD LINEN
White Jap Silk, With Novel Embroidery Trimming, to Wear With Costume.
In white Jap silk, with embroidery worked on silk by way of trimming, this makes a very pretty blouse to wear with a costume.
The little yoke and under-cuffs are

Colored Handkerchiefs.
The colored handkerchief is much in vogue, the latest fancy being a handkerchief exactly half of which is white and the other half colored. The color division is on a bias line. The new printed handkerchiefs appear in dark coloring, brown, purple, pruned blue, deep rose color and navy and French blue. Men especially are carrying them in Paris with evening dresses in dark purple, green and brown.
To Clean Lace.
A good way to clean fine lace is to place a sheet of paper on a flat surface and sprinkle thickly with fine magnesia. Put lace on this coating and cover with magnesia. Tow with another sheet of paper and weight. Allow lace to remain covered this way for several days.
Wool Embroidery Latest.
Wool embroidery on coarse net is one of the new trimmings. This decorative work is expensive, but any girl, even one unskilled in embroidery, could make the entire trimming for her dress at little expense. She should buy the transfer patterns and sew the paper to the under side of the net, then carry out the design on the right side. The thread used resembles the old-fashioned crewel wools.
To Protect the Walls.
To keep a piece of furniture from scratching or defacing the wall or woodwork if you are not able to get the little rubber buttons or guards, stuff the fingers of an old kid glove, stuff hard with cotton to the size you need, fasten on the back of the article in question with tiny tacks at each end, and they will answer the purpose splendidly and are quite inconspicuous.

SPLINTERS.

Big Income—ship entering the harbor.
Too many people judge the world by their own breadth.
A man can be run down in the street as well as in health.
You want to be sure of your footing before you climb too high.
The increase in the price of leather has made shoes pinch more than ever.
Beneners—A woman is always changing her mind. Jenners—Not when she decides that she wants a new gown.
It is a poor friend that will pat you on the back and kick your feet out from under you at the same time.
Boycot—I wonder what makes a dog howl when music plays. Joyce—I don't know, unless the music awakens the seas.
Mothers will find Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup the best remedy to use for their children during the teething period.

Bachelors Confined to Skirts.
It was once the custom in Korea that a man was not allowed to attain to the dignity of trousers until he married. The bachelor was forced to wear skirts as one who possessed no definite position in society. Moreover, the law prohibited marriage unless the man was able to support a wife in the station to which she was used, so that the skirt also served as an index of income.

Olive Oil to Remove Cinders.
The man with the cinder in his eye is suffering great pain. Every one had a different method of relief to suggest, but nothing had the desired effect. At length one of the bystanders procured a little olive oil from the lunch room. This was poured into the eye and relief was instant. "I learned that method of dealing with cinders while abroad," said the bystander, "and I guess it is about as effective as anything after all."
Home and Happiness.
To earn money and pay bills seems to occupy most of a man's time, and he wonders why his home isn't happy. When he learns to earn love and pay attention to his home, happiness will come into his home through every crack and keyhole.

The Missing Link.
This day will be offered to public inspection, at a commodious room, opposite the new Inn, Surrey side of Westminster bridge, at one shilling each, the Ethiopian savage. This astonishing animal is of a different species from any ever seen in Europe, and seems to be a link between the rational and brute creation, as he is a striking resemblance to the human species, and is allowed to be the greatest curiosity ever exhibited in England.—From the London Daily Advertiser, June 4, 1752.

Three Hardest Words.
A learned man has said that the three hardest words to pronounce in the English language are "I was mistaken." When Frederick the Great wrote to the senate, "I have just lost a battle, and it's entirely my own fault," Goldsmith says, "his confession showed more greatness than all his victories."
Insomnia
"I have been using Cascarets for Insomnia, with which I have been afflicted for twenty years, and I can say that Cascarets have given me more relief than any other remedy I have ever tried. I shall certainly recommend them to my friends as being all that they are represented."
Thos. Gillard, Higin, Ill.
KIDNEY TROUBLE
It is a deceptive disease—thousands have it and don't know it. If you want good results you can make no mistake by using Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy. Luxuries That Are Costly.
Though orchids frequently bring prices that make the poor man stagger, the highest price for a single flower was given for tulip in Amsterdam by an enthusiast, who paid $250,000 for it. The Rothschilds smoke the most costly cigars that are made—the Henry Clay Sobranos, which cost $150 each. These are wrapped in gold leaf and packed in little inlaid cedar wood cabinets.
Spreading Happiness.
Happiness, at least, is not solitary; it joys to communicate; it loves others, for it depends on them for its existence; it sanctions and encourages to all delights that are not unkind in themselves. The very name and appearance of a happy man breathe of good nature, and help the rest of us to live.—Robert Louis Stevenson.
