COTTAGE GROVE LEADER (Consolidated January 9, 1908.) COTTAGE GROVE, OREGON, TUESDAY, APRIL 11, 1911. VOL. XXII. NO. 51

COTTAGE GROVE GRANGE ACTIVE

Will Establish a Granger Store--Endorse Tax Association.

It is evident that the Cottage Grove Grange, which was organized here recently with a large charter membership, that is increasing very rapidly, is going to be no small factor in the political, industrial and mercantile affairs of Lane county. This Grange recently made known its position on the tax question by passing strong resolutions endorsing the organization of the county taxpayers association recently effected at Eugene, which resolutions will be published soon in the Leader. One of the important matters which this Grange has recently had under consideration and which is now fully determined on is the establishment of a modern Grange general merchandise store in Cottage Grove. The plans of organization and conducting such an institution have been secured from other Granges where such mercantile enterprises are being very successfully and satisfactorily conducted and organization has been effected here along similar lines. Stock in this farmers store, is placed at $5 per share and is being rapidly taken by all classes of farmers, the large and the small, and it is safe to say that before the close of the present season, a large and modern stocked Granger's store will be "doing business" in Cottage Grove. One of the attractive features of such a store is its equipment for handling all farm products on a cash basis the exact plan not having been given out to the Leader as well as many other details which the grangers do not wish to make public at this time. Many other important matters including road improvements, are being considered by the local Grange, which promises soon to become one of the strongest and most influential in this county and valley.

The Injunction Case.

Judge L. T. Harris, feeling that he would not be qualified to sit in the injunction case brought by Dr. Kime and others of this city against Lane county, requested Judge Galloway of Yamhill to hear the proceedings Thursday. The taxpayers of this city brought suit to restrain the county court, the clerk and treasurer from paying out any money levied for the county general fund for road and bridge purposes on the strength of which the county court ordered no work done since the case commenced. Attorneys W. C. Counter, J. S. Medley and J. C. Johnson represented Cottage Grove. The case was taken under advisement, and a decision is not expected for a week or two.

More Improvements.

At the official board meeting of the M. E. church Tuesday evening it was decided to build a large two story colonial porch on the front of the parsonage and give the building a new coat of paint. This denomination painted the church building last season, built concrete sidewalks and paved Main street fronting the church property and, it seems, will keep up with the improvement caravan again this season.

Files Notices of Mining Claims.

Location notices for two mining claims called "The Wandering Jew" and "Mystic Dream" were filed in the county clerk's office Friday. They are in the Bohemia mining district, and were located by Louis Waing-Salbon.

POPULATION OF LANE COUNTY MUNICIPALITIES

Washington, Apr. 7.—Population of Lane county cities is as follows:

	1910	1900	P. C.
Eugene	9009	3236	178.3
Springfield	1838	353	420.7
Cottage Grove	1834	974	89.1
Junction City	759	506	50.0
Creswell	367	224	63.9
Florence	311	222	40.1

The 1910 census gives Cottage Grove only 1834, but of course this does not include the populous Laundess, Cooper and Gowdyville additions. In these three additions which include the homes of many Cottage Grove business men and citizens and is a part of Cottage Grove proper located is from 800 to 1000 people not included in our census for 1910.

Cottage Grove Boy Promoted.

When the new North Bank ticket office, at the corner of Fourth and Stark streets, opens on April 20, L. F. Knowlton, now city ticket agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway, and one of the best known passenger men in Portland, will be in charge.

Although a young man, Mr. Knowlton has spent nearly 16 years in the railroad service. He entered the employ of the Southern Pacific in 1896 as operator and agent at Cottage Grove. He was transferred at various times to other stations, and has served as agent at all of the principal points on the line of the Southern Pacific in Oregon. He also has filled important positions in the general offices of the same company. Until last year he was chief clerk in the city ticket office of the O. R. & N. and Southern Pacific offices.—Oregonian.

Holland Hotel Reopened.

Geo. W. McQueen recently purchased the Holland hotel property on Main street and is having the building repaired throughout. The office has been fitted up and occupied by Orstrander's barber shop and the balance of the building has been leased to Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Salsman who will soon open a first class restaurant and lunch counter therein and they will also furnish the rooms upstairs for lodgers. Mr. and Mrs. Salsman are experienced in this line of work, are very estimable people and will no doubt receive a liberal patronage.

In cases of rheumatism relief from pain makes sleep and rest possible. This may be obtained by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. For sale by Bensons Pharmacy.

LOCAL AND COUNTY NEWS NOTES OF GENERAL INTEREST

J. H. Chambers the Latham saw mill man, is building a mile of logging railroad.

Walter Rogers was quite severely bruised in a runaway mixup on Fourth street last week.

T. C. Wheeler, cashier of the First National Bank, contemplates erecting a handsome home on his first street property.

A more commodious engine room is being constructed by the Messrs Hubbell & Smith at their sash, door and wood working plant.

N. W. White, who has one of the ideal ranches of this section, is clearing twenty-five acres of rich bottom land at a cost of about $60 per acre.

The colonist rate has expired and many Oregon towns are boasting of a substantial increase in their population, both in town and in their farming communities.

W. T. Hankins, who was quite seriously injured in the railway accident at Medford, came home on Tuesday, having, practically speaking, recovered from injuries received.

The Cottage Grove and Pleasant Hill High school baseball teams engaged in a sharp contest on the diamond in this city Saturday for baseball honors, and the visitors carried off the laurels by a score of 6 to 4.

Six young men took the competitive examinations at the University of Oregon last Thursday seeking the appointment from Senator Chamberlain to the West Point military academy, among them being Lee Roy Woods, Jr., and Albert B. Mason of Cottage Grove.

Hardy Crow, of Lorane, was in the city yesterday interviewing the county court with reference to the Billings road, to which he interposed a remonstrance against the manner in which it ran through his place and had the pleasure of carrying his point with the court.—Eugene Register.

A. J. Stewart, who spent the winter in Mexico, arrived home on Tuesday. Mr. Stewart experienced considerable difficulty in getting out of Mexico, and was delayed a fortnight or more while enroute home. Train service was either abandoned, or passengers could purchase tickets only from one station to another, the railway officials not guaranteeing transportation further.

F. P. Phillips has opened a garage on Main street, opposite the Bank of Cottage Grove.

The Cottage Grove creamery, of which J. L. Senter is manager, is now making 900 pounds of butter per week.

A $15,000 state armory will be built at Dallas this season, the Polk county court putting up its portion of the fund.

Frank Hickey is moving his garage from the old machine shop in East Cottage Grove to the Young building at the west end of the Main street bridge.

Benjamin W. Emerson, a pioneer of '53, and a member of the G. A. R., died at home a few miles south of town on last Thursday, and the remains were interred in the Shields cemetery. He was 71 years of age, and leaves a wife and four sons.

Mrs. Lola Shea has commenced suit against her husband Martin Shea, for divorce on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment, drunkenness and failure to support. She claims to have left defendant because she could no longer endure his mistreatment. She asks for a divorce and the custody of their minor daughter, Allie I. Shea. The parties live in Cottage Grove.

The Triennial Conclave of the county Modern Woodmen was held at Springfield last Wednesday and was well attended by delegates from all of the Lane county camps. The next annual convocation will be held at Junction. Those delegates from Cottage Grove were, A. S. Powell, Curtis Veatch, C. W. Wallace, J. M. Baker, R. C. Ostrander and Orvil Knapp.

What the owners and contractors believe to be the best built logging road in the state has just been completed between Carlton, on the west side line of the Southern Pacific, to Fairdale, 16 miles northwest, and of which V. C. London, formerly of this city, is superintendent. The road is the property of the Carlton Lumber Company, of which Fred Russell and W. B. Dennis are officers, and was built primarily as a logging road although the owners propose to accept both freight and passenger business. Most of the rights of way were secured with the proviso that the line be made a common carrier. The road will be open to traffic about May 1. The line is standard gauge, equipped with 60-pound rails and thoroughly ballasted.

THE MIGHTY HUNTER AND THE U. OF O.

President P. L. Campbell, Professor Schafer and Regent S. H. Friendly of the University of Oregon, met the Roosevelt party at Roseburg and accompanied it to Eugene, which no doubt accounts for the ex-president referring to the University as follows at Eugene last Wednesday.

"It would be a misfortune if Oregon failed to stand by her University. If there is a man who wishes for the success of the referendum he must not hamper the University of Oregon. But if the State of Oregon does stand by her University it must repay the state. Let the University stand for service." At this point, Colonel Roosevelt was handed an immense bouquet each of flowering quince, Oregon grape and wild currant.

"I am glad to meet all the Oregonians and especially the little Oregonians in their arms. Of all crops I like the baby crop the best."

Colonel Roosevelt waved his hand to the children as his train slowly pulled out.

The University students were stationed near the speaker. As soon as the train stopped they gave the Harvard yell and the colonel replied "Good, that sounds like the football team." The Oregon yell was given as the train pulled out.

Governor Oswald West boarded the train as it stopped and accompanied the ex-president to Salem.

The presence of those learned gentlemen of the U. of O. in the Roosevelt party no doubt had something to do with the colonel being seated by a window in his coach on the opposite side of the car from Cottage Grove's depot when his train slowly passed through this city and the immense crowd of citizens and school children assembled eager to get a view of the strenuous Teddy, a distinction only enjoyed by those whom were crowded across the track opposite the depot to whom Mr. Roosevelt bowed and waved his hand. It was different at Junction however, as the colonel gave the citizens there a chance to see him and hear his voice. Another example of the "Eugene way."

The next ten days is the crucial time for the fruit growers of the valley. After that time danger from frost will have passed and the growers can rest assured of good crops.

Lane Shoulder is nearly always due to rheumatism of the muscles, and quickly yields to the free application of Chamberlain's Liniment. For sale by Bensons Pharmacy.
