The Oregon Agricultural college sent out a letter to Oregon farmers recently with the question, "Do you consider poultry keeping profitable on the farm." There were 333 answers, 288 answering yes, 20, no, the others qualifying their answers. Nearly all agreed that hens were a profitable sideline and were grown principally on the waste feeds about the barn and farm. Those opposed said, "Not the way we keep them" and "more wasteful and troublesome that profitable." The replies would seem to indicate that the profit is in proportion to the care given the poultry, and the amount of the food raised on the farm.

Twenty six of the most modern type of locomotive, a part of the 196 ordered a year ago by the Harriman lines, are now being delivered to the Southern Pacific Company and within another two weeks will be placed in operation over the heavy Sierra Nevada and Tehachapi mountain grades. The Pacific system of the Southern Pacific Company is to have 65 of these new iron monsters. Thirty-eight of them are to be used on that part of the system under the jurisdiction of E. E. Calvin, vice president and general manager, with office at San Francisco.

C. A. White, wife and family and nephew, of Pullman, Wash., passed through Cottage Grove a few days ago in their auto on their return trip from San Diego, Calif. Mr. White is a druggist and said they had already traveled 1600 miles this season, including the side trips on their tour. He says the roughest roads he had to encounter on the trip were between Cottage Grove and Roseburg, all of which belong to Douglas county and are a disgrace to civilization and a glaring contradiction to Douglas county's claim for enterprise, public spirit and progress. Roseburg papers please copy!

The Woman's club will make the annual award of the fine silver cup trophy as first prize and a beautiful jardiner as second prize for the best kept door yards in Cottage Grove on Friday, June 30. This cup trophy must be held three years in succession before it is awarded permanently to any property owner. It has been held one year by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lurch and two years by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McFarland, the present holders of the cup. This is a most worthy movement on the part of the Woman's club.

Harry Graham, who has been working as timekeeper for a paving company at Medford, has returned to Eugene, as the company has discontinued work. He says he was told that Medford is now more than $2,000,000 in debt, far exceeding the limit, and many people are getting afraid it will never get out. Much of the property is for sale and the new hotel has not been opened. Too much promotion and boosting.

Whenever a railroad is completed into Coos county Bandon's beach with its many natural look-outs, caves, nesting rocks for sea fowl and agate beds will prove a summer attraction far superior to Newport or Seaside, in fact there is not a safer or more attractive ocean beach between San Francisco and Seattle than Bandon beach.

The most objectionable feature about a flying machine is that it must have several acres of smooth ground over which to glide at 30 miles an hour before it can rise, and also upon which it can light again. It also requires several men to hold it while the propeller is given a start, "cranking it up" as an autoist would say.

"Cobweb skirts" are the latest fad in New York. If some one would only revive the peekaboo waist the advocates of draped statuary would have a busy time of it.

Miss Davis who spent last week canvassing for the Leader and Photographer Armstrong, added thirty new names to the Leader's subscription list.

MOVE TO RECALL

JUDGE J. S. COKE.

Salem, Or., June 16.—For the first time an effort will be made to recall a judge from the bench, according to the form of a petition received this morning from Roseburg by Attorney-General Crawford. The attorney-general was requested by E. L. Cannon, of Roseburg, to pass on the form and to notify him whether such a form would fill the requirements of law. That the petition was properly drawn and would pass as legal was the opinion of Crawford and this afternoon he returned the form to Cannon. The question of the recall of the judge hinges entirely on instructions which were alleged to have been given by Coke to the jury in the case of the state of Oregon vs. Roy McClallen. McClallen was charged with murder and according to the petition, Judge Coke went so far as to aid the defendant by giving prejudiced instructions, to the detriment of the prosecution.

From the fact that the question of recall of judges has become practically a national issue, this original procedure is causing considerable interest and the attorney-general exercised more than the ordinary care in passing on the validity of the form of petition.
