Antlers' Minstrel Success

The local talent minstrel given by the "Antlers" last Wednesday and Thursday nights was an unequalled success in every particular, which proves the fact that Cottage Grove has some very good talent, a few of the parties having had experience on former occasions, while this was the first time a number had appeared in such a role. However, these were no failures, all doing their parts splendidly.

Their jokes and gags were all new, original and of a local character and were hits, every one of them.

The songs and choruses were highly appreciated by the large crowd that attended each night.

Those taking part were: Billy Brund, James Potts, Winter Wallace, Lloyd Stratton, Henry Hexman, Herb Adams, Horace Cochran, C. E. Umphrey, H. C. Madson, S. L. Mackin, F. H. Hall, Chas. Hall, Elmer Roberts.

The program was as follows: Chorus, by company. Grand Overture, by company. I Like That Hat, Mr. Brund. Cotton Time, Mr. Wallace.

I Wonder How The Old Folks Are At Home, Mr. Potts.

When I'm Alone I'm Lonesome, Mr. Hall.

Boyd-Brown Wedding

At the First Christian Church, Nov. 15, 1911, at 8, p. m., Miss Vernie Brown and Clarence Boyd, Rev. Elkins, former pastor officiating, a large number of friends and relatives being in attendance.

While the wedding march was being played by Mrs. Elkins, two little girls, Ruth Jargenson and Elma Moser, all in white proceeded up the right aisle with white ribbons forming a channel for the bride who came in leaning on her father's arm proceeded by the bridesmaid Miss Mabel Rosenburg and the bride's mother. The groom came up the left aisle proceeded by the best man, the bride and groom meeting under the beautifully decorated arch and faced the guests when the ceremony was solemnly and beautifully performed. After which they withdrew to the reception room in the church to receive congratulations. Shortly after the ceremony a telegram was received by bride and groom from Frank Rosenburg, Aberdeen Washington, conveying his congratulations. The guests were served with light refreshments, four young ladies, Misses Veta Holderman, Audrey Langdon, Carrie Woods, Muriel Robinson, appropriately dressed in white, doing the honors. The bride then gracefully cut the brides cake. It was passed among the guests and the prizes were exhibited. Miss Audrey Langdon receiving the piece of money, Miss Despain the thimble, and Leroy Woods Jr., the ring. Each guest received a souvenir of the wedding cake.

After about an hour of pleasantly enjoyed sociability the friends dispersed and the bride and groom returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Brown, accompanied by a number of young people to await the south bound train, at which the bride and groom departed for a short wedding tour.

The church and reception room were very beautifully decorated. The groom and best man were dressed in the conventional black. The bridesmaid was beautifully dressed in net richly trimmed in ribbon over pink, maid and bride each carried a luxuriant bouquet of chrysanthemums. The bride was elaborately dressed in silk marquisette over brocade messaline and all over lace further adorned with rich and beautiful trimming.

A beautiful, joyous and elegant couple whom their many friends join in wishing a happy, honorable, useful and prosperous journey through life. They were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents, consisting of cutglass, silver ware, Haviland and other china ware, a numerous supply of linen with some lovely pieces of hand made fancy work.

A GUEST.

Rather a sad death occurred at the boarding house of Mrs. Harms in this city last Tuesday night. The deceased Rev. F. C. Sessions, was a young Latter Day Saint minister from Ogden, Utah, and came out with a companion, Rev. W. L. Brown and they were here working in the interest of their church. They had been here about a week when Mr. Sessions was seized by a malady the nature of which the doctors are not real certain, but are of the opinion that it was an abscess on the brain. He suffered from severe pains in his head, which increased in intensity till the end came, which occurred five or six days after the disorder became noticeable.

Mr. Brown stayed with him, doing all he could for him, and at death had the body prepared for shipment and accompanied it to Portland where he expected to meet the young man's father, who directed the further disposition of the body. Mr. Sessions was twenty-three years of age, and leaves father, brother and sister to mourn his untimely taking off.
