Convenient Support For a Double Clothesline.

Any one using a double clothesline over pulleys will find the arrangement shown in Fig. 1 for supporting the lower line quite convenient. The support is made of a piece of three-quarter inch square or round wood which has a screw eye turned into each end. The line is run through these screw eyes as shown in Fig. 2.

Charlotte Russe.
This is a most delicate and delicious dessert and one that will be liked by whoever tries it.

Run a little clear jelly into the top of a plain round or oval mold and lay in some small pieces of fruits of various kinds, such as glace cherries, half apricots, sliced bananas. Allow it to set, then line the sides with lady fingers, cut straight at the edges, press well together, then fill with the following: Whisk up half a pint of cream to a stiff froth and three ounces of powdered white sugar, the juice of a half lemon, three ounces of raspberry jam rubbed through a hair sieve to extract the seeds or any fruit and half an ounce of isinglass dissolved in a tablespoonful of boiling water. When the Charlotte is required for table dip the top of the mold into warm water for a few seconds, wipe dry with a cloth and turn the mold on a glass or silver dish.

Cape Cod Stew.
Fry five slices of salt pork that have been cut in strips until crisp. Cut two pounds of beef into large cubes and brown in the fat after having taken out the scraps. Put all into a kettle and cover with boiling water. Cook gently two hours, then add parsnips scraped and cut in halves, turnips cut in round slices and when nearly done white and sweet potatoes whole or cut in halves if large. When the potatoes are almost done lay dumplings round on the top, but not so that the water will touch them. Cover closely and cook fifteen minutes without lifting the cover. Put the meat in the center of a platter, the vegetables in a border round it and the dumplings on the outside. Thicken the gravy, cook five minutes and pour over the meat.

Eggs in Creole Style.
For eggs creole cook half an onion that has been chopped fine in a couple of tablespoonfuls of butter, and when the onion is yellow add two big tomatoes that have been peeled and cut in pieces and three minced green peppers. Cook the vegetables about twenty minutes and season with salt. Put sliced hard boiled eggs into a baking dish, turn the sauce over them and cook in the oven until the mixture is thoroughly heated through.

Pure cane sugar, special at 16lb, for $1.00 or 20lb, for $1.00 with each $5.00 purchase of other goods, at Des Lazers Grocery. 33tf.

Mothers-in-law In Dickens' Time.
Nowadays it is regarded as utterly incorrect to speak of a stepmother as a "mother-in-law." But anybody who does can plead plenty of literary authority. "Mother-in-law" was good English in this sense as well as the other in 1516, and both Fielding and Thackeray have it. "Father-in-law" is used by Shakespeare both for a wife's father and for a stepfather, and in this sense it can be quoted from Dickens and George Eliot. But the general agreement in modern times to stick to "stepmother" is a wise avoidance of confusion.

The American Accent.
There was an American once who had been so long in England that he imagined he had not only got quit of the "American manner," but had shed the transatlantic accent. He deceived many and was happy until the day of his return. "First class to Liverpool, how much?" said he to the booking clerk at Euston. "Five dollars and a half, colonel," promptly replied the clerk.—London Tatler

Smashing a Proverb.
"I can never marry you," said the beautiful actress.
"But," pleaded the wealthy old man, "won't you make my life happy for the short years I will be here? I am troubled with a weak and faint heart."
"In that case I accept you."
And yet they say faint heart never won fair lady.

Remarkable Work.
"What do you regard as the most remarkable work in the English language?"
"Well," replied Miss Cayenne, "the most remarkable work in the English language that I know of is the way some Englishmen pronounce it."—Washington Star

Drilling Him.
"Johnny, were you hearing that little boy next door?"
"Certainly not, pa. I was just going through some maneuvers."
Who could chastise the kid after such a statesmanlike answer as that?—Louisville Courier-Journal

Lightning Kills Few.

In 1906 lightning killed only 169 people in this whole country. One's chances of death by lightning are less than two in a million. The chance of death from liver, kidney or stomach trouble is vastly greater, but not if Electric Bitters be used, as Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Ia., proved. Four doctors gave him up after eight months of suffering from virulent liver trouble and yellow jaundice. He was then completely cured by Electric Bitters. They're the best stomach, liver, nerve and kidney remedy and blood purifier on earth. Only 50c at all Drug-gists.

Shad Roe.
To cook shad roe deliciously for supper boil the roe in salted water for about ten minutes. Then put a couple of tablespoonfuls of butter into a pan, and when it is melted turn in the roe broken up, the yolks of two hard boiled eggs mashed fine, a cupful of grated breadcrumbs, a little minced parsley, pepper and salt. When the mixture is thoroughly blended add a tablespoonful of lemon juice and serve.
