Social News of the Week

Last Wednesday was missionary day. The societies of all churches held interesting meetings.

Miss Lauretta Atkinson and Miss Jennie Smith, teachers in the Presbyterian Sunday school, entertained their classes with a splendid lunch and games on McFarland Butte last Saturday afternoon.

The Social Twelve Embroidery club was very pleasantly entertained last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. H. Veatch. The hours were spent with conversation and fancy work. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Wilkinson entertained the ladies of the missionary society of the M. E. church last Wednesday afternoon. After an interesting program, a dainty two course luncheon was served, complimentary to Mrs. Forrester. After a pleasant hour spent with conversation, Mrs. Forrester was presented with a beautiful missionary pin.

Mrs. Noah Forrester was pleasantly surprised by her Rebekah friends last Friday evening. At the close of the lodge session, Mrs. Al. Elledge, with well chosen remarks, presented Mrs. Forrester with a large parcel of dainty handkerchiefs, the gifts of her loving friends as a token of esteem and regret that she is soon to leave for British Columbia. Refreshments were served and all enjoyed a pleasant hour. There were sixty-five present.

The large congregation who heard the sacred concert at the Presbyterian church last Sunday evening will long be thrilled with the thoughts of Easter. Every number was well rendered. The fitting climax was "Incarnatus" from Concone's Mass in F. This number was especially well rendered. Miss Silsby again proved herself to be an able directress.

Last Saturday evening a jolly crowd of young people took eggs and a substantial lunch and proceeded to the F. B. Phillips' ranch. After cooking the eggs and enjoying themselves as only young people can all returned to their homes.

The greatest exhibition of fancy rifle, shotgun and revolver shooting ever seen in this portion of the country was that given in Joseph Saturday by Gus Peret of Yoncalla, Douglas county, representing the Peters Cartridge Co. He was assisted by H. H. Veatch of Cottage Grove, also a noted fancy shot. Several hundred people enjoyed the splendid exhibition and all pronounced it the best of its kind they ever saw—Joseph (Oregon) Herald.

During the past week two petitions have been circulated—one requesting the "powers that be" to devote our share of the county road fund to improving the London road, the other asking that the fund be used on the road leading from the city to the east.

Elks of Oregon to the number of five hundred joined yesterday with Eugene lodge No. 357, B. P. O., in dedication of the handsome new building erected by the order there. Cottage Grove was represented.

J. J. DuBrulle, a former Guard employe, now working for the Corvallis Gazette-Times, is here to attend the Elks' dedication. He spent Sunday at Cottage Grove and arrived on the noon train today.—Eugene Guard, 8th.

A. G. Warner, wife and child, and M. R. Wilson, have arrived from Humboldt, Nebraska, and have rented rooms in Mrs. Kayser's house.

Miss Marguerite Jones came down from Roseburg to spend Easter in the home of her father, C. E. Jones.

The Chafin-Burke debate advertised for the Armory Saturday night did not take place.

Church News

The Passion Week services were the largest attended and most profitable ever conducted by the workers of the Methodist church. Night by night the interest grew and the results are sure to be lasting. Another big day next Sabbath. Bible school at 9:45. Preaching at 11 a. m. Topic of address: "The King and His Arrows." Epworth League at 6:30. People's Popular Service at 8 p. m. Robert Sutcliffe lectures on the seals and mottoes of Oregon, Connecticut, Maine, and New York. These furnish food for thought and inspiration for daily living. Special music and singing. Those in attendance throughout the day will have the opportunity of voting on the topics to be used by the pastor during the month of May. A hearty welcome to all.

Decision Day was observed in the Methodist Bible School on Sunday. A goodly number of young people pledged themselves to live the Christian life. The exercises in both departments of the school were carried on at the same time. The primary children were given Easter eggs and a singing canary in its cage made glad melody. The vested choir sang several selections in the main audience room and acquitted themselves finely. New members were present at the Lend-a-Hand men's class. The debate was profitable. Topic for next week: "Woman's Opportunity in the Home." The question to be discussed: "Is Home Life Waning at the Present Time?" The cause, if such is the case. Is it a sign of social health or otherwise? Mention some remedies.

Presbyterian Church: April 14 will be a day of good things of special interest to all. In the morning at 11 o'clock the pastor's subject will be "Overcomers." In the evening at 8 o'clock the subject will be the timely question: "The Sabbath, When and How?" There will be attractive musical features at all services, rendered by the popular chorus choir.

Church of Christ: Last Lord's day was a day of joyful service throughout. The C. E. began the day with a prayer service at 6:30 in the morning. The children's service in the evening was greatly enjoyed by a large audience. Next Lord's day evening the minister will speak from a chart on the subject—"What God Created and Made." The choir will sing a special anthem. Please notice: The Lord's day evening service has been changed from 7:30 to 8 o'clock.

Saginaw Items

Glen Harnden visited over Sunday in Eugene.

Ten Thousand Dollar Deal

D. H. Hemenway disposed of 8 1/2 acres of land in the Landes addition about a half-mile east of this city last week to Brooks Bros. of Portland, taking in exchange a stock of goods invoiced at $10,000.

The next few months will show a wonderful development of the land in this vicinity, and the gentlemen who take over this piece are keenly alive to the situation. At the same time, it is a good deal for Mr. Hemenway.

For County Assessor

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination for assessor of Lane County, subject to the will of the Republican voters at the Primary Election to be held on April 19th, 1912.

E. J. MOORE,
51-2 Creswell, Ore.

Lives there a man in this great town

When it comes to fun would turn it down?

Well, I guess not, and to help the library out, They'll be at the Armory without a doubt.

Fatal Accident on S. P. at Rice Hill Thursday

Dealing death to the two women in its cab, a helper engine of south-bound freight train No. 221 blew up about 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon as the train was ascending the heavy grade on the north side of Rice Hill, 25 miles from this city. The dead:

Mark M. Bartlett, engineer.

A. S. (Bert) Aderton, fireman.

Both of the victims were residents of Roseburg. Bartlett was killed outright. Aderton, terribly injured, lingered for nearly an hour before expiring.

A wrecking crew left Roseburg for Rice Hill at 2:45 o'clock. It was followed by the Ashland-Portland local passenger train which was delayed about six hours.

The exact nature of Aderton's injuries were not learned here, other than that they were of a character utterly precluding the possibility of recovery. He breathed his last it is said, while about to be taken to Eugene to be placed in a hospital there. Physicians from Yoncalla and Drain were in constant attendance upon him.

The engine figuring in the tragedy was one of two helpers in the train. Its exact position in the train was not learned. A car containing potatoes and one containing oil were demolished with the locomotive.

Bartlett, the dead engineer, was about 45 years of age and a single man. He was a brother of Vernon C. Bartlett, also a Southern Pacific engineer, of Roseburg, and roomed at the Troxel lodging house on Sheridan Street. His parents live in Grants Pass.

Aderton is well known in Roseburg, where he leaves a wife and three children. He was about 30 years of age and until recently divided his time between his railroad duties and conducting a restaurant and lodging house in that city. His father, F. A. Aderton, operates a harness shop at Myrtle Creek.

The wrecked engine will be examined by experts, to determine, if possible, the cause of the explosion.

B. F. KEENEY

County Assessor and candidate for re-election—the man who made good his slogan "Let the railroads and other corporations pay their share of the taxes."

His experience and thorough familiarity with every intricate detail of this, the most difficult office in the county to fill, is an asset of great importance to the tax-payers.

Remember, the Assessor is only the official appraiser of property and that it is the several tax levying bodies that are responsible for the amount of taxes to be paid.
