The Epworth League gave a very enjoyable social at the M. E. church parlors Friday evening. Thanks are due to Miss Lola Wilson for the success of the affair. Refreshments were served and a general good time reported by all who were in attendance.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church met at the home of Mrs. C. P. Jones on Wednesday afternoon. Light refreshments were served, and a pleasant afternoon spent by all present. Arrangements were made for a dime social to be held at the home of Mrs. Herbert Eakin on Wednesday afternoon June 5th to which the public is cordially invited.

The Emanon Club assembled today with Mrs. Ethel Mackin, and then proceeded from there in a body to surprise Mrs. Van Allison. The afternoon entertainment consisted of a drawing contest in which Mrs. Scott, won the prize, a box of bonbons. Mrs. Allison was blindfolded and her many friends pinned dainty handkerchiefs on her. She expressed her appreciation of the surprise and the many pretty handkerchiefs. The Club served a very dainty luncheon.

The Order of the Eastern Star celebrated its annual "Children's night," Friday evening, at the Masonic hall. The merry throng of youngsters played in the lower room during the session of the Chapter after which they were invited upstairs, and were royally entertained. The entertainment committee consisting of Mesdames, Cruson, Burkholder and Adams covered themselves with glory, and introduced many new and pleasing amusements. Mesdames Wheeler, Scovell and Scott, served refreshments of ice cream and cake, to which all did full justice particularly the children. A large crowd was in attendance, and it was generally conceded, that the evening was one of the most successful affairs of the kind ever

Many of the friends of Mrs. H. H. Somers were delighted to receive unique invitations bidding them to assemble at the home of Mrs. Helen Silsby, on Tuesday and then to proceed from there in a body to "surprise" Mrs. Somers. Upon arriving at the Somer's home, the merry crowd was "surprised" by the lady of the house, meeting them at the door, and informing them that the ice cream had arrived about half an hour before, thus giving her the key to the whole affair. The afternoon's entertainment consisted of a button sewing contest in which Mrs. Geo. Kerr, won the first prize, a dainty ribbon handbag. Mrs. W. A. Hemenway related a thrilling account of a trip across the mountains, and last but not least, Mrs. Somers was invited into the adjoining room where she found twenty lovely handkerchiefs, suspended from a line by tiny clothes pins, the gifts of the ladies present. Mrs. Somers, expressed her appreciation of the "surprise" and thanked the ladies for the pretty kerchiefs. Mesdames Bede, Burkholder, Kerr, and Miss Esther Silsby, served a dainty luncheon, consisting of ice cream, assorted wafers and punch. The guests were Mesdames W. A. Hemenway, H. A. Miller, W. B. Cooper, J. S. Medley, Geo. Kerr, C. A. Burkholder, Horace Cochran, Van Allison, S. L. Mackin, Helen Silsby, F. L. Ingram, Mary Smith, L. R. Woods, W. P. Shaw, C. O. Harlow, Claude Cruson, B. Lurch, B. K. Lawson, W. H. Abrams, A. Brund, Elbert Bede, C. D. Brainard, W. T. Hawkins, V. S. Goff, and Miss Esther Silsby.

Rev. J. A. Crutchfield, of Chicago, was a passenger on No. 20 Thursday en route homeward after a very pleasant visit with friends at Medford, that place having once been his home. Mr. Crutchfield is an old-time friend of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey of this city, and was very sorry that he could not stop off and make them a visit, but time forbade.
