Society Notes

By Mrs. W. C. Conner.

The Ladies Aid of the M. E. church met with Mrs. Wm. Hogate last Wednesday afternoon in social session.

The German society held another of their enjoyable picnics at Waldron Sunday. Over thirty were in attendance.

Mrs. Ed. Handy was pleasantly surprised with a birthday party last Tuesday afternoon. The guests served delicious refreshments and the afternoon was spent in conversation and needlework.

Mrs. L. Lurch was hostess to the Social Twelve embroidery club last Thursday afternoon. Additional guests were Mrs. McCreadie and Mrs. Krueger, daughters of Mrs. Lurch, and Mrs. Baker. After the usual work and social time dainty refreshments were served.

Mrs. A. W. Kime and Mrs. Al Hamloth were hostesses at the regular meeting of the Royal Neighbors last Wednesday evening. After the regular business session a social time was enjoyed and refreshments of ice cream, cake and punch was served. The lodge rooms were beautifully decorated with roses and Shasta daisies.

The engagement of Rev. C. C. Van Gorkum, formerly pastor of the Cottage Grove Baptist church, and Miss Grace Phelps is announced. Miss Phelps was recently given a miscellaneous white shower by Mrs. F. L. Ingram and Mrs. C. E. Frost, the gifts being showered upon her from a gaily decorated parasol.

The Eastern Star and Masonic lodges with their families enjoyed a picnic dinner in the City park last Thursday. After the banquet was over a number of the ladies planned to organize an Embroidery club and met with Mrs. Katie Scovell on Friday evening and perfected the organization. Mrs. C. C. Cruson was elected president.

CAUGHT

If you are going to get caught with the goods on you, have the best. If its fishing tackle you get the BEST at Swengel's. If its a big buck deer put on tag No 1 and show the gun you killed it with—bought at Swengel's.

If company drops in show them how easy it is to get a nice meal on one of those Florence Automatic Blue Flame Oil Stoves; the kind that makes no dirt, no smell no smoke, no heat. Fool proof.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller, of Niles, Kansas, are looking about Cottage Grove with a view to locating here. Mrs. Miller was a schoolmate of our townsman, Delure Hemenway in Kansas.

J. W. Pixley, manager of mailing circulation of the Eugene Morning Register, is looking after the interests of that paper in Cottage Grove today. The Leader was favored with a pleasant call.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wallace and Roy Short and mother spent Sunday on Sharp's creek, making the trip in Mr. Wallace's Reo auto. C. W. says he now believes all he ever heard about fish refusing to bite on Sunday.

Hon. R. M. Veatch while fishing on Row River Saturday wrenched his knee so severely that he has been compelled to resort to the use of crutches since that time in order to get about.

Rev. E. G. O. Groat and wife are home from the Albany chautauqua. They state that the lecture on China by the editor of the Chinese daily paper published in San Francisco, and the motion picture lecture on the Panama canal by one familiar with the work, were alone worth the expense of the trip.

Frank J. Hard, the mining man, was in Cottage Grove the greater part of last week, buying supplies to ship up to his mines in the Bohemia District and employing more men. He is doing a lot of good road work connecting his mining properties this season and also developing his mines, all of which are the making of good dividend paying properties.

Street paving work is progressing.

A man with a broken rib and an injured finger, a dead dog and some badly wet clothing and household utensils are the total results of the collapse of the Gorrie bridge which carried two men, a woman, six horses, a dog and clothing and supplies into the mill race a mile above Springfield Sunday afternoon.—Guard.

Chas. M. Whipple, a Drain boy, has patented a new automobile transmission which promises to put all others in the shade. His car equipped with the new transmission, dragged another car of equal size and power backwards in a tug-of-war test. It is much less complicated than the old style and it will be manufactured at Spokane by a newly organized stock company.

The union temperance meeting held in the Presbyterian church Sunday night under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon League of Oregon was well attended, the house being full. Mr. Sheldon, superintendent of the League, addressed the meeting in place of R. P. Hutton, assistant superintendent, who had been announced to speak. Mr. Sheldon is a pleasant, forceful speaker and gave a good, inspiring and instructive address. He told of the progress that had been made by the temperance forces throughout the country, and of the encouraging prospects of the future. He said that the Anti-Saloon League was so encouraged by the passage of the Webb-Kenyon Bill by Congress that now they had decided to launch a campaign for national prohibition. An offering was taken up at the close of the meeting for the work of the Anti-Saloon League.

PEOPLE YOU KNOW

A marriage license was issued Monday to G. Eklund, of Creswell, and Miss Reva Dale Groves, of Cottage Grove.

Mrs. J. P. Graham will go to Seattle Thursday to join her husband who is in the wireless telegraph service there.

Rev. Wilbert K. Howell, Baptist pastor, evangelist in Oregon, visited the local pastor, Rev. C. M. Cobb, last Thursday.

Duke Knox came near losing his life while attempting to swim the treacherous McKenzie river the first of last week.

D. T. Awbrey is home from his Yamhill county farm, and says that while old Yamhill is very fruitful, he likes old Lane the best.

Miss Athea Widdersheim returned home Sunday from Salem and Portland where she spent her vacation, and has resumed her position as saleslady in the Rees-Wallace Co. store.

E. J. Moore, city editor on the Eugene Register, has been appointed county school superintendent to succeed Prof. Baughman, resigned. Mr. Moore assumes his new duties Sept. 1.

Mrs. W. H. Blair, of Portland informed the Leader last week, while looking after business matters here, that the recent hot weather East had caused a renewed exodus of homeseekers to Oregon and Washington.

Mrs. Frank Cathcart returned to her home at Raymond, Washington, Monday, after a week's visit with her father, O. P. Adams, and sisters here. Frank has just returned home from Washington, D. C., where he attended the Elks convention. He also visited with relatives in the Middle West.

While bathing with a crowd of young people in Row River, two miles east of Cottage Grove, last Wednesday evening, Mrs. Lizzie Veatch-Churchill and Miss Edna Elledge came near being drowned. Miss Elledge, not being able to swim, got into deep water and Mrs. Churchill, in attempting to rescue her, was dragged down and was unconscious when rescued. Miss Elledge was only slightly strangled, but both were rescued none too soon.

Mrs. Elva Churchill sustained slight injuries when the horse driven by herself and Master Gerald Counts ran away last Wednesday. The boy jumped just before the buggy collided with the one driven by Mrs. Clark of Latham and was not injured. Mrs. Churchill was thrown on the horse's back, then under its feet and sustained an injured hand and some bruises. One wheel of the buggy was demolished.

Stone to Fit the Purse

Is better than none at all. The spirit in which a monument is erected counts more than the cost.

A Moderate Cost

Stone will show as much respect and love for the departed one as a more expensive stone if you can afford only the smaller sum. We have various designs in low-priced memorials we shall be glad to submit to you.

What Athena Underwear Brought to Womankind

UNTIL the advent of Athena Underwear, women remained half satisfied on the knit underwear question.

They endured discomfort and poor fit—simply because any underwear they might purchase carried these objections. There was no better.

The Athena Brings Comfort

The Athena idea in knit underwear was entirely new and different.

It eliminated at once all common objections to all former underments.

A garment not stretched to fit, but tailored to fit; not pulled out of shape by the wearer, but tailored into shape by the maker.

The lines of Athena are the lines of a woman's figure.
